CAPONE SPEEDS FOR CHICAGO

NAVAL PARLEY APPEALS DIRECT TO MUSSOLINI

France Will Reduce if Italy Does.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—THE TRIBUNE learns tonight that Premier Andre Tardieu of France told Prime Minister MacDonald during their conversation yesterday at Chequers that France would accept a global naval tonnage somewhere between 600,000 and 620,000 tons, conditional on Italy withdrawing its demand for parity. It was agreed that the British and French ambassadors to Rome should make representations to Premier Mussolini on these lines.

Restrained optimism was the key note of the conference following the Tardieu-MacDonald meeting. All danger of an immediate breakup has been averted.

Premier Tardieu returned to France today, after further conferences. He called on Mr. MacDonald at 10 Downing street before breakfast, then motored to the Ritz, where he spent the rest of the morning conferring with American Secretary of State Stimson.

Drop Security Pact Talk.

The French have, for the time being, stopped all talk of a security pact, so definitely denied them by both Great Britain and America. A British spokesman declared it was not talked of at all at Chequers Sunday. The conversation, he said, was entirely statistical, which means that it was concerned with tonnage figures and numbers of ships and was centered almost entirely on the "European situation," this again meaning the Franco-Italian differences.

Mr. MacDonald is making strong efforts to induce the Italians to accept a 5-4 ratio with France, and at the same time is trying to induce the French to make some concessions, such as a promise not to replace the obsolete ships now included in their global tonnage claims, thus allowing the Italians to accept a formal inferiority.

The present British attitude is that some very stiff problems remain to be solved, but that is what the conference was called to do, and there is no reason to despair of success because the problems are difficult.

STIMSON OPTIMISTIC

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—American Secretary of State Stimson had an hour's talk today with Premier Tardieu of France, and a short time later appeared at a meeting of the American delegation, exuding optimism that the London naval conference would eventually produce a five power treaty.

It was not exuberant optimism, but what one delegate called "sober optimism." Mr. Stimson, it is understood, reposes great confidence in the disposition of M. Tardieu to come to an agreement with the other leaders of the conference on a treaty that will represent a limitation, if not an appreciable reduction, in naval armaments.

Others Less Optimistic.

Mr. Stimson's optimism is not shared by some of the other members of the American delegation, who fear that the best that may be expected from the conference is a three power treaty among Great Britain, America, and Japan, with a safety clause absolving any signatory from restrictions imposed upon it if threatened by the building program of another power.

What appears certain is that if the French refuse to scale down their tonnage demands materially a five power treaty will be possible only on the basis of maximum tonnage levels considerably higher than those named in the Rapidan agreement. Under the terms of this Anglo-American agreement Great Britain is to have 339,000 tons of cruisers, including fifteen 8 inch gun ships, and America is to have 323,500 tons, including eighteen big ships.

France May Upset Plans.

If France stands pat on her demands for ten big cruisers and 160,000 tons of submarines, Great Britain will insist on having 374,000 tons of cruisers, comprising fifty-eight instead of fifty ships, and including seventeen 8 inch gun ships.

Then, to preserve the principle of the Rapidan agreement, America will have to go up to 362,000 tons, including 18 big ships, and Japan will insist on two more eight inch gun ships. Furthermore, Great Britain, followed by America, will shove up the destroyer limitation from the contemplated 150,000 tons to 200,000 tons, and will

SENATORS BURY DIGNIFIED NOSES IN RISQUE BOOKS

View the Abhorred Works--and Read On

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—Surrounded by about two score foreign books barred from circulation in this country under censorship provisions of the present tariff law, the senate for almost six hours tonight debated a proposal by Senator Reed Smoot [Rep., Utah] to tighten provisions for excluding such books.

The question they argued was whether the literature and other "immoral articles" should be stopped at the port on the judgment of a customs inspector, or taken to the courts for determination, and whether importation of such books should be made a substantive crime. Debaters on both sides deplored such books.

Senator Smoot called for the books early in the afternoon—and immediately the solemn dignity of the senate chamber gave way to major and minor disturbances.

Senators Become Bookworms.

There was a surging of senators from both sides of the aisle toward the desk of Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, as Senator Smoot's secretary laid the volumes down there. Some richly bound, others in paper covers, the books had been pointed to by Senator Smoot as "too vulgar to be quoted in open session." Immediately they were taken over by the senators and given general circulation in the chamber.

Senator Borah, the Idaho Republican, took a weighty tome and, placing his feet on top of his desk, settled down to peruse it—until in the noise of twitters from the galleries and talking on the floor he realized he was the center of attention. He placed his feet on the floor, but continued reading grimly for a few moments. Then he walked out, the volume under his arm, not to return with it until three hours later.

Shortridge Won't Look.

Through the hours of joking and of heated protest, sotto voce, on the floor, Senator Shortridge of California loftily ignored the contraband literature. He was one of a slender minority.

Excitement increased when among the books referred to as salacious a Bible was discovered. Senator Nye of North Dakota, one of the Republicans opposing censorship by customs officers, placed the Bible in the collection, with passages marked and underlined.

Proponents of censorship declined to make public the names of the volumes, explaining that "even that" was "too vulgar."

Senator Fess [Rep., O.], examined volume after volume. Senators Waterman of Colorado, and Frazier of North Dakota, found adjacent chairs on the Republican side and turned the pages together.

Balzac and Burns.

Some of the volumes among the contraband—all banned under existing law—were Burns' Poems, Balzac's "Droll Tales," and George Moore's "A Story Teller's Holiday."

Through the hours of debate, spectators nudged and put their heads together in the galleries. For several hours Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth and the white haired mother of Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico, sat together. Senator Cutting is author of the amendment to permit entry of books without customs censorship.

Senator Cutting, who led an earlier, successful effort to strike out of the pending tariff bill the provisions for censoring imports, refrained from offering any comment except for an occasional question. He walked about the chamber finally going to Senator Watson's desk to pick up volumes one by one, throwing each back with a thud.

Pile of Books Dwindles.

By dinner time, when the debate had gone forward for several hours, there were less than a dozen volumes left on Senator Watson's desk. He sat behind them vigorously slapping a leatherbacked edition as he commented to Senator Frazier.

The only pleas offered on the merits of so-called "immoral books" was one by Senator Black [Dem., Ala.], who asserted there is "a twilight zone" in which many books come—some of them considered improper by some, but accepted by other individuals. He told Senator Smoot, a high officer of the Mormon church, that to some people "books of the Mormon church are poison" and that "you can never tell what book is going to be considered poison" by some but accepted by others.

SEARCH LINER FOR $3,000,000 SMUGGLED DOPE

New York, March 18 [Tuesday.]—[Special.]—A tip that narcotic smugglers were planning to meet the French liner France on its arrival here last night to take ashore 2,000 pounds of German narcotics worth $3,000,000, which had been concealed aboard the vessel before it left the other side, caused customs agents to take extraordinary precautions when the ship arrived.

Long before the liner and her convoy hove in sight the raiding squad of more than 100 agents was waiting at the pier. As an added precaution, about 350 pier visitors with customs passes were barred from the customs enclosure.

Two customs boats trailed the France from quarantine to the pier at West 45th street. As the liner was warped into the dock the raiding squad hurried aboard and began a systematic search of the vessel.

Up to an early hour today no contraband had been found, but the agents on the ship were kept at their task. Dressed in dungarees and armed with flashlights and pistols they ransacked every part of the vessel.

Taxicab Kills Woman of 86, and Man, 73

Frank L. Ward, 73 years old, 1470 Warner avenue, and his sister, Mrs. Louise Petton, 86 years old, of Bancroft, Mich., were killed yesterday when run down by a taxicab as they were crossing Ashland avenue at Cullom avenue with Ward's wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, 70 years old. Mrs. Ward is in a critical condition at the Ravenswood hospital.

Mrs. Petton was visiting her brother. The three were walking to the Ward home when they were struck by a United Cab driven by Hans Sorenson, 1540 Belmont avenue. Ward was killed instantly. Mrs. Petton, who suffered a fracture of the spine, died an hour later in the Ravenswood hospital. Mrs. Ward suffered internal injuries and fractures of both legs. Sorenson was held.

Held for Manslaughter.

Albert R. Moir, 2716 North Drake avenue, was held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter by a coroner's jury investigating the death of Clifford Detjon, 26 years old, 4925 Warwick aveuue. Moir fled after his automobile struck Detjon at Halsted street and Belmont avenue Sunday night. Detjon's fiancée, Miss Catherine Harding, 22, 736 Briar place, was seriously injured.

Police last night were seeking Wilbert Meyer, minor police character of Philadelphia, after a coroner's jury had recommended that he be arrested and held for the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter. The jury was investigating the death of Donald O'Brien, 6 years old, 1656 Addison street, who was fatally injured by a hit and run driver Saturday night.

Crash Frees Dogs.

A score of dogs and cats were released yesterday in a freak crash involving three automobiles at Milwaukee road and Lake street, near Wilmette. The dogs and cats were riding in separate cages on a truck driven by their owner, Ben Trois, owner of a pet store. The doors were opened by the crash and all escaped. All but three were recaptured after a chase joined in by police and the other motorists.

Edward Pincus, 40 years old, 53 East Chicago avenue, was seriously injured, his wife, Agnes, 34 years old and his daughter, Emma Jane, 11 years old, were cut and bruised last night when they were struck by a Yellow cab at Michigan and Ohio street. They were crossing Ohio street when the cab, driven by Morris Rein, turned into Ohio street from Michigan avenue.

Moran, One of "Two Black Crows," Goes to Hospital

Los Angeles, Cal., March 17.—(AP)—George Moran, blackface comedian, was in Angelus hospital tonight, where his physician, Dr. O. N. Justice, said he will undergo an operation Wednesday for gallstones.

W. C. T. U. SENDS U. S. RAIDERS ON WILD GOOSE HUNT

Four Chicago federal dry agents yesterday motored out to Belvidere, Ill., after receiving information said to have emanated from the W. C. T. U. of Belvidere, and raided the $500,000 plant of the Illinois Alcohol company, which for years has been operating under a government permit. They found nothing illegal.

The plant has been idle for some time, during the erection of a denaturing addition, ordered by the government after the indictment of 29 attaches of the denaturing unit of the company at Buffalo, N. Y., a year ago.

Frank Rogers, manager of the Belvidere works, who sings in the choir of the Methodist church, met the dry agents just as they were smashing down a door.

"Why, you didn't have to do that," he remonstrated, "the government has the keys to the plant and if you had shown me a search warrant you could have had mine." The agents proceeded with their search, and, unsuccessful, returned to Chicago.

FORD BUILDING 40 PASSENGER, 4 MOTOR PLANE

Los Angeles, Cal., March 17.—[Special.]—Jack L. Maddux, local executive for the Ford and Transcontinental Aircraft Transportation corporation, discloses the Ford factories in Michigan are preparing a four-motor, forty-passenger all metal monoplane for the country's air lines next summer. The new plane is intended for night and day travel.

At night, the plane will have its forty seats converted into twenty berths. Maddux says the present tri-motor planes probably will be used in future as feeder vehicles for the new four-motor craft now building.

NEW YORK YACHT WITH 16 ABOARD BATTLES STORM

Los Angeles, Cal., March 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Barton Sewell Sr., mother of Barton Sewell Jr., of New York, said tonight she has received word from her son, aboard the yacht Bon Homme, owned by Barton Sewell Sr., that he and a party of fifteen are safe in the harbor at Salina Cruz, Mexico, after fighting a severe storm.

Silas Strawn's Hole in One Achieved After 30 Years

Ocean Springs, Miss., March 17.—(AP)—Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, president of the American Bar association, today made a hole in one on the Gulf Hills Country club golf course. He made the shot on the first hole in the presence of a number of witnesses. It was his first dedo in thirty years of devotion to the game.

21 Robberies in a Day; Police Seize 719 in Drive

Twenty-one robberies, the largest number in a single day for the last several weeks, were reported to the Chicago police yesterday. The police arrested 719 persons in their crusade against hoodlums. Of these, 30 had police records and eight were armed.

Gunmen Kill Foe and Toss Body from Car

Another victim fell before the bullets of north side gangsters last night, just as the police had fixed the motive behind the murder of John ["the Billiken"] Rito and confirmed their conjecture that Rito's missing partner, Bennie Bennett, had also gone for the sort of ride from which none return.

A sedan, containing four men, slowed from its pace of forty miles an hour for an instant about 8 p. m. As the car moved south in front of a tannery at 2221 Lister street, the right rear door swung open and a body was pitched out, rolling to the curb as the sedan and its three slayers swerved east in Webster avenue and disappeared.

Pierced by Five Bullets.

Five bullets, any one of which was sufficient to cause death, had pierced the victim's skull. From letters on his person, the body was identified as that of Peter Bica, 42 years old, 118 West Oak street. He was a graduate of the University of Rome and recently had been employed in the stockroom of a loop department store, the police were told by his son, Thomas, a medical student at Loyola university.

From neither the son nor the widow, Sylvia Bica, could the police gain the slightest hint as to the motive for the murder. Young Bica said his father had immigrated from Italy 16 years ago, served the New York police department for a time as an interpreter, and with his savings, purchased a grocery at 841 Grace street, which he sold four months ago for $1,200.

In the slain man's hip pocket was a sheaf of fresh bank notes amounting to $495, which, in the opinion of Capt. James Doherty of Shakespeare district, eliminated the possibility that the killers were robbers or extortionists. Among the letters found was a campaign card issued by Wallace Kirk, candidate for state representative in the 29th district, which embraces the 42d ward.

See Possible Political Cause.

On the evidence of the political card, Capt. Doherty gave consideration to the theory that Bica might have been slain in retaliation for the registration day murder at the polls of William Slaughter, Negro preacher and precinct worker for the Thompson Republican organization. Young Bica declared, however, that his father had no political interests and denied that the .45 automatic pistol found close to the body at the curb was his father's weapon.

See Hand of Aiello.

While the Shakespeare police puzzled over the Bica murder, detectives at headquarters had reached the conclusion that the murders of Rito and Bennett were decreed by the Aiello brothers, a gang of alcohol cookers affiliated with George Moran's north side mob. Rito, they learned, was an habitue of the Wigwam, a night club at 3750 Broadway, from which, according to an apparently authentic report, Bennett was lured to his death.

ROB JACK KEARNS' ROOM OF $6,500 AND "GLAD RAGS"

Dapper Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, and present manager of Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, is without a lot of his wardrobe this morning, in addition to $6,500 in cash which robbers of his hotel room took from him some time last night, according to his report to the police.

Kearns attended the fight between Walker and Jimmy Mahoney at White City last night, leaving his room at the Morrison hotel about 7 o'clock. When he returned at 10:36 the robbers had done their work. They had entered by jimmying the servidor. Apparently they worked leisurely, for the floor of the room was littered with cigaret stubs.

The cash the robbers obtained was in a strongly locked trunk. Here is a list of the other articles taken, as enumerated to the police: Ten suits of clothes, valued at $1,650; one top coat, $125; six silk robes, $170; one dozen silk pajamas, $1,500; one hatef case, $65; one Gladstone bag, $110; one gold watch, $50, and one wrist watch, $390.

Two Janitors Perish in West Side Basement Fire

Two janitors perished in a small basement fire at 1215 South Avers avenue early this morning. They were Joseph Gudowitch, janitor of the building, and his friend, known in the neighborhood as Peter Columbus, but whose union janitor card bore the name of Dan Marcus. The latter, police were told, had been staying at night with Gudowitch. Several bottles of moonshine were found in the room and the supposition of the police is that one of the men went to bed smoking and set fire to the bed. The blaze drove out the two families who lived in the flat. The loss was $1,500.

Police Await Capone

Neither kind words nor roses will figure in Chicago's reception to Al Capone, it was indicated this morning, when Capt. Patrick McCauley of the Grand Crossing station posted police squads near the Capone home at 7244 Prairie avenue. Fifteen policemen were also stationed at the municipal airport. Should Capone or his guards appear armed, the police plan to jail them.

BY WILLIAM LAWSON.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 17.—[Special.]—Scarface Al Capone and his bodyguard, Frank Cline, or Rio, were reported speeding westward toward Chicago tonight in accustomed gangster style aboard the Broadway Limited, the most luxurious train of the Pennsylvania system.

Capone and Rio were freed at 4 o'clock this afternoon from the Gratersford prison, thirty miles away from the Eastern penitentiary, where they had been confined and where a small army of newspapermen and photographers, and hundreds of spectators, were awaiting the gangsters' release. And it was not until 4 hours after they were freed that the newspapermen discovered that they had been duped by the wily gang king, and that the prison officials had gone to considerable pains to aid him in eluding the waiting throng.

Although the reports that Capone was on the Broadway Limited, which arrives in Chicago at 10 o'clock this morning, were seemingly well verified, a rumor was circulated early this morning that this report was just another joke. This rumor was circulated following the failure of reporters to find him on the Broadway when it paused at Pittsburgh at 12:33 a. m.

Crowd in Uproar.

The announcement was made by Warden Herbert (Hardboiled) Smith that Capone had been freed at the branch prison thirty miles away. By that time the gang boss had had time to travel for nearly four hours and be well on his way across the state. Smith's announcement, made in palpable glee at having outwitted the press, was greeted with boos and jeers.

The warden explained that early Sunday evening the gangsters had been spirited out of the Eastern penitentiary, where they had been for ten months serving a sentence for carrying guns, while the newspapermen were keeping their long vigil outside the heavy prison gates. They were whisked away to Gratersford and held there until their release this afternoon. Capone was met outside the gates of Gratersford by five gangsters, supposedly including Ralph Capone, Al's brother, and Jack Gusick, and taken to West Philadelphia, where they boarded the train.

Warden Tells Bad News.

Warden Smith, who was present at the release with Dr. H. M. Goddard, chairman of the state pardon and parole board, to bid Capone and Rio farewell, returned to the Eastern penitentiary and at 3 tonight made the announcement of his coup.

"What the hell's the use of you people standing around here?" he began. "We certainly stuck one on your eye that time. The big guy went out of here yesterday at dusk in a brown automobile to Gratersford prison.

"We had a perfect right to take them to Gratersford," he explained, sensing the ominous growls from the crowd. "It's a part of our institution and we didn't need any court papers.

"I went to Harrisburg and got the governor's signature on the release papers, and they were brought back here by Frank Moy, secretary of the board of pardons.

"They got here at 4 p. m. Immediately, Capone and Rio were released and taken away in a brown automobile.

"Try and find out where they've gone."

Insults Are Shouted.

One hardy spirit among the crowd yelled:

"How much did you get for this, warden?"

"You get the hell out of here and stay out," the warden shouted, his face flushing. The warden's reply was accompanied by the slamming of the prison gate in the face of the crowd.

The crowd hissed and booed and shouted unkind and opprobrious names at the prison officials. The photographers, who had been shooting off flash lights at odd intervals throughout the preceding twelve hours every time a false report was started that Capone was coming, took a few shots of the crowd. The news reel and sound cameramen who had hoped for an edifying discourse from Capone when he was released, ground out several hundred feet of film showing the reaction of the disappointed spectators.

Officials Defend Action.

The consideration with which the prison officials have treated Capone during his stay in the penitentiary, after the Philadelphia authorities had sent him there for gun toting, has evoked considerable comment in Philadelphia and the officials were evidently anxious to explain fully the reason for the elaborate preparations and the personal interest which Warden Smith took in his release.

Dr. Goddard said that newspaper stories that Capone's enemies were going to meet him at the prison gate was responsible for the transfer to Graterford.

"This action was taken on account of the newspaper stories of enemies of Capone seeking him at the time of his release," Dr. Goddard said. "The officials of this institution feel that they would not have properly performed their duties should they have released him from the Philadelphia institution and subjected him to possible harm, bodily or otherwise."

Previously prison attachés had declared that Capone would leave the prison "just like any other released convict."

The Broadway Limited was due in Pittsburgh at 12:33 tonight, and it was to be met there by a detail of Pittsburgh police, to prevent the gangsters from landing in that city, and to guard any attempt of the anti-Capone mobs to kill him while he was there.

More Maneuvers Expected.

Whether Capone intended to continue straight through to Chicago on the train or would leave it en route to enter the city by some more circuitous but less public route was not known. His maneuvers today were well planned to throw the newspapermen and his enemies off his trail, and it was regarded as certain that he would do the least expected thing to slip into Chicago unobserved.

Among the maneuvers today was the hiring of a fourteen passenger plane, which flew over the Delaware river and settled down at Camden, N. J. Neither the pilot, Gilbert Wallace, nor the mechanician, Ray Snyder, would admit that he knew anything of their plans. It was reported, however, that the plane had been chartered at New York by Guzick, financial director of the Capone enterprises, and that the trip would cost Capone $900.

But the chartering of the plane apparently was only a ruse to cover up the gangsters' trail. It was reported also that reservations had been made on a boat leaving Baltimore late tonight for Miami, where Capone's wife is supposed to be, and three drawing rooms had been engaged on an evening train for Chicago.

With this confusion of his plans watchers were keeping an eye in three directions Sunday while the gang boss was quietly slipping out of the city in the afternoon, leaving the vigilant newspapermen "holding the bag" at the prison gates.

Story of Capone's Arrest.

Capone and Rio were arrested in the lobby of a Philadelphia theater last May while they were stopping off in the city "between trains" while on their way to Chicago from a gang peace conference at Atlantic City. Two detectives, one of whom knew Capone in Florida, met them in the lobby and "frisked" them, finding a gun on each. Both men submitted peaceably to the search and were taken to the police station.

At a midnight session of court they pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and in a short time were on their way to prison for a year, which good time reduced to ten months.

Capone strenuously denied the reports that he himself had framed the arrest and prison sentence to seek safety from his enemies.

"I tried every kind of writ made to get out of prison," he said.

Both gangsters were described as model prisoners since starting their sentences, and Capone was reported to have given large sums in "charity" while in his cell. His conduct and the esteem in which he was held by the prison officials was exemplified by Warden Smith's gesture in driving to Harrisburg to get the gang leader's commutation papers from Gov. Fisher. So far as is known this is the first time that the active head of the penitentiary has put himself to such seemingly unnecessary trouble to accommodate a prisoner.

KILLS ROBBERS

SERGT. CHRIS CALLAHAN.

POLICE KILL TWO BANDITS IN ACT OF ROBBING SHOP

Police Sergeant Chris Callahan and his squad interrupted two Negroes in the act of holding up a delicatessen at 5001 South parkway last night—and killed both. The robbers were identified as Mack Herbert, 36 years old, ex-convict living at 36 West 45th street, and Cornet Campbell, 25 years old, 4715 Calumet avenue.

The pair had forced the storekeeper, Carl Meyers, his wife, Saidy, and a Negro customer, Emmett Bradley, into the rear of the store. Herbert had the three covered and Campbell was scooping coins from the till when the squad men stopped their car outside.

At Sergt. Callahan's shout of "police officers," Campbell reached for his gun. Three bullets hit his head before he could fire. Herbert also essayed to shoot, but was felled with one bullet in his heart and two in his shoulder. Meyers identified the pair as the same who had robbed him last Friday night.

BANDIT ROBS 2 BACKSTAGE IN LOOP THEATER

Fritz Hubert, an actor performing at the State-Lake theater, and Gust G. Manoles, a costume designer, were robbed last night by a well dressed bandit who gained entrance to Hubert's dressing room by a ruse. The bandit escaped with $460 in cash, taking $390 from Manoles and $70 from Hubert at the point of a gun.

During the performance the bandit approached the stage door and asked the guard, Joseph Connelly, for permission to see the musicians. Told to wait, the robber apparently entered the dressing room when Connelly was sent on an errand to the manager, Will Singer.

HOLD UP LOOP RESTAURANT.

Two bandits robbed the cash register of Lindy's restaurant, 79 West Randolph street, of $800 yesterday after threatening Howard Rocca, 6181 North Clark street, the cashier.

DR. HEKTOEN ILL OF PARROT FEVER IN WASHINGTON

Chicago Man Reported to Be Improving.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Dr. Ludvig Hektoen, noted scientist and head of the department of pathology of the University of Chicago, was reported much improved tonight after suddenly contracting parrot fever early yesterday.

Serum obtained from Baltimore and administered this morning was followed by a general improvement in the patient's condition. Dr. Hektoen was taken to Providence hospital yesterday after symptoms of psittacosis had developed. His condition became worse during the afternoon and evening, but it was not until today that the disease was definitely diagnosed as parrot fever.

Eleventh to Be Stricken.

Dr. Hektoen is the latest of eleven physicians, scientists and laboratory workers connected with the hygienic laboratory of the United States public health service who have contracted parrot fever. Dr. Hektoen was not actively engaged in the laboratory investigation of the causes and cure of the dreaded tropical disease. He had a room in the hygienic laboratory, but according to Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general, he had not been closer than thirty feet to any of the rooms where the investigators of psittacosis were working.

Dr. Hektoen came to Washington to spend a year as resident member of the division of medical sciences of the National Research council.

Dr. Cumming reformed his hygienic laboratory staff today after giving orders Saturday to suspend temporarily the investigation of parrot fever. No immediate plans for another advance against the invisible hosts of parrot fever micro-organisms has been ordered, but according to Dr. Cumming the research work will go on as soon as his decimated staff recovers and a proper experimental building can be obtained.

Plan Isolated Laboratory.

The plan now is to carry on the parrot fever research work in a small building completely isolated from the hygienic laboratory. The workers are to be recruited from the ranks of convalescents of the disease. The theory is that those who have once contracted the disease and recovered will enjoy immunity against a second attack.

"The laboratory investigation has been suspended temporarily rather than subject any new workers to the germs," Dr. Cumming said today. "From our investigations thus far we have found that parrot fever evidently is spread like smallpox. It apparently is very contagious, for a large number of the hygienic laboratory staff was struck down within a short time. It apparently is spread through the air and by insects.

Serum Is Best Remedy.

"We have found that a serum made from the blood of convalescents is the best remedy for the disease. In all the cases where we have been able to administer the serum at once the patients have recovered. Of the eleven persons attacked, only one man died."

ELEVATED AUTO HIGHWAY UP TO DETROIT VOTERS

Detroit, Mich., March 17.—[Special.]—Joseph A. Bower of New York, financier of the proposed elevated highway between Detroit and Pontiac, announced tonight that he and his associates, and Clarence E. Wilcor, corporation counsel, were in accord on the provisions of the ordinance permitting the highway to cross streets and alleys.

Bower will appear before the city council Tuesday and request that body to call a special election for April, at which time the proposal to construct the highhway will be presented to the people. The road will be 26 miles long and will run over the right of way of the Grand Trunk railway from the Brush street depot north to Pontiac.

There will be no speed limit upon the privately owned highway, and it will be separated into lanes to permit of travel at whatever rate of speed is desired.

CAPONE MUST FACE U. S. COURT CITATION ON CONTEMPT CHARGE

United States Attorney Johnson announced yesterday that as soon as he is assured that Al Capone is free he will ask that contempt of court proceedings now pending against him before Federal Judge Wilkerson be set for a hearing.

Capone was cited by Judge Wilkerson before his incarceration last May after he had failed to appear before a federal grand jury on the plea that he was ill in his Florida home. Mr. Johnson holds affidavits to show that Capone was not ill at the time he claimed he was unable to obey the grand jury subpoena, but was a regular attendant at the Miami dog tracks during that period. Conviction on the charge carries with it a term of one year in prison, a fine of $1,000, or both.

JOKE ON ASYLUM NOW AS FRANK PROVES HIS CASE

Except for his letter writing propensities, Frank McKinsey is known as a mild patient in the state hospital for the insane at Kankakee. From the day of his confinement, on Nov. 1, 1928, he began writing letters to county, state, and federal authorities imploring their aid to restore to him a modest fortune of $1,400 hidden in a trunk which was placed in storage by his landlady.

No one believed his story, even though he offered to share his money. The officials dismissed the letters after seeing the letterhead of the asylum. Even his sister, Miss Mary McKinsey, paid no attention to his weekly pleas for help.

Writes to High Officials.

The authorities at the hospital smiled indulgently at his repeated requests for stationery. They knew his story. He repeated it whenever opportunity offered. And he wrote every day—to his sister, to the governor, to the President, and the police and other officials.

McKinsey was born in the Ozark mountains more than fifty years ago. He was for a time a follower of the Salvation Army. On Oct. 23, 1928, he was haled into the County court on complaint of his landlady, Mrs. Elsie Caskill, who charged that he shouted in his religious fervor and talked to himself through the night. McKinsey was adjudged insane and committed to the asylum.

Sister Asks for Aid.

Three weeks ago his sister, who had moved to 8334 North Karlov avenue, Niles Center, appealed to the Rev. John Thompson of the First Methodist church. She said that she had not believed her brother's story, but that she had financial troubles and needed assistance. She was referred to Attorney Howard H. Wikoff.

Yesterday Attorney Wikoff opened a trunk in the warehouse of the Garfield Park Storage company and found $1,400 in small bills. The attorney will file a petition to obtain McKinsey's release.

Jury Trying Sovetsky Is Locked Up for Night

The jury trying John Sovetsky, 46 years old, 6234 South Western avenue, in Judge Daniel P. Trude's court on a charge of receiving stolen property, was locked up for the night last night after deliberating for several hours without reaching a verdict. Testimony offered by the state showed that clothing found in Sovetsky's home had been stolen on June 2, 1928. Four other charges are pending against him.

GASOLINE STATION ROBBED.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Schwaba Rules Warrant Necessary for Search.

For a few minutes yesterday the police department was knocked silly in its fight to disarm Chicago's hoodlum element. An assistant state's attorney assented to the quashing of an indictment against Frank Diamond, notorious Capone gangster who was caught carrying a loaded pistol, and Criminal Court Judge Peter M. Schwaba decided the police have no right to search gangsters without a search warrant.

The court action was heralded as the collapse of the police drive on gun toting hoodlums and Commissioner Russell and Chief of Dectectives Stege, who adopted the policy of turning gunmen over to State's Attorney Swanson for indictment and prosecution, were unprepared for the blow.

Will Continue Arrests.

"What are you going to do about it?" they asked. "Are you going to quit arresting gunmen?"

"For about two minutes until I get my breath," Russell replied. "No," he said when the shock had passed. "We're policemen and we must continue arresting gunmen no matter what the state's attorney and the judges do about it."

"Imagine a policeman racing pellmell for the nearest judge to get permission to search Al Capone, Bugs Moran, Joe Saltis, Frank McErlane, or any other gangster?" Stege demanded. "They didn't need a search warrant to give Capone a year in Philadelphia for carrying a gun. They didn't let him out on $500 bonds either and give him several continuances. His bond was fixed at $30,000 and he was sentenced the next day.

Confronts New Difficulties.

"Suppose a policeman runs into a courtroom and gets a search warrant? Meanwhile the gunman has gone elsewhere. To serve a search warrant after 5 o'clock the signatures to two judges are required. We can't go into the gunman's home to serve the warrant because he has a right to have a gun there.

"If we see one of the gang leaders and race for a search warrant the judge is going to ask what grounds we have for knowing the man has a gun on him at the moment. Unless we see the gun we can't make the necessary affidavit. If some one tells us he has seen the gun, that person must make the affidavit. Unless the proof is positive the affidavit and the search warrant could be quashed later.

"What a nice predicament we'd be in if we had to resort to that procedure! But Judge John P. McGoorty, one of the veterans of the bench, told us when we opened our school for detectives that we need not have a warrant. He was acting chief justice of the Criminal court when he spoke at the school.

Cites McGoorty's Statement.

"'The gun is one of the tools of the trade of the criminal, and you have a perfect right to stop a crook at any time, search him and prosecute him if he is found with a concealed weapon,' Judge McGoorty told us, and as far as we're concerned that's the law."

State's Attorney Swanson refused to comment on the case in Judge Schwaba's court, nor did he give any advice to the police on future procedure against gunmen. Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and head of its committee on prevention and punishment of crime, was incensed and declared if Judge Schwaba's interpretation was correct the association would take steps to change the law.

Last night Judge Schwaba declared his belief that his decision may have been a mistake. He had not been informed that the defendant, Frank Diamond, had a police record and had once been tried for murder, the judge said.

How Case Was Handled.

The proceedure before Judge Schwaba was reported as follows: Assistant State's Attorney James Brown was called upon to resist a motion by Attorney John F. Cashen, for Diamond, to suppress the evidence [the gun], to quash the indictment and to return Diamond's pistol "instanter." The evidence before him was that Detectives William Drury and John Hess had arrested Diamond in the lobby of a loop hotel on Jan. 22 and found him to be carrying a gun.

Cashen's petition set forth that the detectives had no warrant authorizing them to explore Diamond's pockets, they had no information he had committed a crime and therefore the search was unlawful and illegal and Diamond's constitutional rights had been violated. Assistant State's Attorney Brown telephoned Swanson's office for instructions and he said he was told, "If you have no evidence against the man, stand up and tell the judge you have no evidence."

Finds Arrest Illegal.

On the motion to suppress the evidence [the gun] the policemen related the circumstances of the arrest. Judge Schwaba then ruled that the arrest was illegal, adding:

"The statute is that no man can be arrested and searched unless he is engaged in committing a crime, is wanted for some crime, or there is evidence that he has committed a crime."

This brought forth more bitter comment from Chief Stege.

"I noticed in a recent compilation of gun cases disposed of in 1929 that Judge Schwaba, then a Municipal court judge, found several men guilty of carrying concealed weapons, and in none of the cases was there a search warrant," Stege commented. "He discharged eight, one was nolle prossed, he fined two, he put three on probation, he sent three to jail for six months or more and he sent eight to jail for less than six months, and he didn't insist on a search warrant in any of those cases.

Cites Other Cases.

"We didn't have a search warrant when Judge Curran sent Joe Saltis to jail for guntoting and the Supreme court affirmed the sentence. The decision of the high court in that case, in the 328th Illinois, page 528, is ample authority for us to make arrests without search warrants."

Before leaving the Criminal court building last night Judge Schwaba went to the office of First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup and complained that the case had not been presented to him properly. He said in view of the reputation of Diamond, which he had just learned, he was satisfied that Diamond should be reindicted and tried before a jury. Mr. Northup agreed to ask the grand jury to vote another indictment against Diamond on the same charge and to bring him before a jury.

Slightly different was the proceedure yesterday before Municipal Judge Alfred O. Erickson. John P. Cassidy, 29 years old, 2373 East 70th street, was sentenced to one year in the house of correction for carrying a gun. The testimony was that he had threatened a girl who left him during a party and brandished the weapon before her.

Goes to Trial on New Play

Only Four Jurors Seated in First Day.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—Mae West and her "Pleasure Man" cast went on trial today for putting on a show that made policemen blush and brought out more patrol wagons than a communist picnic. The theater raid took place eighteen months ago and the case has been kicking around in the courts ever since. It continued to kick around this afternoon, the day's net results being four jurors.

Mae and fifty-eight men and women face the charge of "giving an indecent performance," but only twelve of them showed up for the trial. The other "Pleasure Men," it was explained, are "on the road." On the road in New York means on a theatrical tour and has no reference to making little ones out of big ones on a county road.

Began as Strong Woman.

Miss West began her stage career many—well a number—of years ago as a strong woman. Today she did not appear to be carrying as much weight as she did two years ago, when she was playing the heavy rôle in "Diamond Lil," the Bowery queen.

The lady who has played in a lot of trouble and a lot of tank towns in recents years made a quiet but none the less effective entrance into the courtroom. The skirt to her black suit was long and a rich and heavy black fox fur almost hid her straw colored hair that looped down from under her transparent black straw hat.

She didn't have a smile for any one in the courtroom and stood with set face, her right hand draped on her hip, when her name was called with the rest.

Face Year in Jail.

Miss West's shoulders bear a heavy burden. She is "carrying" the entire cast, for she went bond for all of them at $500 a head when the police swooped down on her "problem drama" and moved the scene from a theater to a courtroom. Such financial cares and the fact that she and her co-defendants face a year in jail and fines of $1,000 had taken some of the spirit out of the actress.

During the process of selecting a jury—a "blue ribbon" jury—Miss West passed most of the time staring at the ceiling and occasionally lowering her head to inspect her manicure.

Miss West has had a lot of trouble with her so-called drama. Back in 1926 she attempted a play called "Drag" which dealt with dregs and had a short life. It never got nearer Broadway than Paterson, N. J.

In 1927 Miss West tried another play — "Sex" — and this time made Broadway to her misfortune. She was indicted and tried and served ten days in the workhouse prison. If she is convicted in the present case she will be classed as a second offender.

KEWANEE MAN NAMED CAPTAIN.

Kewanee, Ill., March 17.—[Special.]—Attorney Martin E. O'Connor, Kewanee, lieutenant in the army with the A. E. F., was today appointed captain of Company F, 129th Infantry, Illinois National Guard, at Kewanee. The company will be reorganized and enlisted to full strength.

MOTHER OF EXECUTED SON TO GET ROYALTIES FROM DEATH PLAY

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—Mrs. Ella Blake, mother of Robert Blake, whose magazine sketch, "The Law Takes Its Toll," published after his execution in Texas last April, provided the material upon which the first act of "The Last Mile" is based, will get 20 per cent of all royalties from that play, according to a contract signed today by her and John Wexley, the author. The agreement followed negotiations begun by Mrs. Blake in Amarillo, Tex., shortly after the opening of the play and continued here upon her arrival in New York last Thursday.

Mrs. Blake, a white haired, matronly woman in her 60s, who has eight children and four grandchildren, said she expected to leave New York in a day or so to visit a sister in Detroit, whom she had not seen for several years.

Naval Envoys Pay Tribute to Taft at London Service

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—American Ambassador and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, accompanied by members of the American naval delegation and their wives, attended a memorial service for former President Taft at St. Margaret's church at Westminster today. Members of the French naval delegation, the Japanese ambassador and naval delegation, members of the Anglo-American colony in London, American embassy and consular officials, and Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson and other British officials were among those attending.

FLAGLER WIDOW, 81, IN ASYLUM, HAS 16 MILLIONS

Incompetent Woman Is World's Richest.

That was indicated today when the annual report of the committee in charge of her property was filed in the Supreme court, disclosing that Jan. 1 last her gross estate was valued at $16,094,097.41, with the net fixed at $15,247,925.76. All of this is in liquid securities and cash.

Sanitarium Inmate.

Mrs. Flagler is an inmate of Dr. Charles W. Pfigrim's sanitarium at Central Valley, N. Y., where she suffers under the delusion that a few shares of Standard Oil stock her husband gave her in 1898 are worthless.

The accounting filed by the committee, and approved by Supreme Court Justice Townley, shows those same stocks, worth less than a million dollars in 1899, when she was declared incompetent, alone have made possible the amassing of her great wealth. Unable to make a will because of her unsound mind, the vast estate, upon her death, will be disposed of to her next of kin, who, for the most part, are persons of moderate means, a few of whom now receive small allowances from the estate.

Mrs. Flagler's income for 1929 was $724,000, which, added to the capital of her estate, made the gross worth on the first of the year more than $16,000,000, of which $123,960.65 is in cash in banks, and $15,123,965.11 in securities. The disbursements for the year were $846,171.68.

Gift Was 62,300 Shares.

The original gift of Flagler to his wife consisted of 62,300 shares of stock in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Mrs. Flagler, who was born poor on an upstate New York farm, receives an annual allowance of $35,000 from her estate. She lives luxuriously in a cottage built for her on the sanitarium grounds. In fair weather she rides about the countryside in a limousine with driver, footman, and personal attendants.

Mrs. Flagler was declared insane by Justice Glidersleeve in New York in 1897. Four years later the legislature of Florida passed a law making insanity a cause for divorce. Flagler had become heavily interested in Florida in the years preceding this action, building the Florida East Coast railway to Key West and erecting a string of magnificent hotels at various resort towns. He took almost immediate advantage of this new divorce statute by applying for a divorce. On Aug. 14, 1901, a degree was granted and 10 days later he married Miss Mary Lily Kenan of Wilmington, Del. Flagler was 72 years old and his actions caused a sensation at the time.

Flagler died in 1913 and left most of his great wealth to his last wife.

In 1916 she married Judge Robert W. Bingham of Louisville and when she died in 1917 she is reputed to have left him an estate valued at $150,000,000.

FRENCH ENVOY QUITS RUSSIA IN DIPLOMATIC HUFF

No Break, but Feelings Are Bit Strained.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 17.—Jean Herbette, French ambassador to Russia, returned here tonight on what his friends in the Quai d'Orsay smilingly said will be "a long vacation."

JEAN HERBETTE.
[Kadel & Herbert.]

He will still be his country's accredited representative in Moscow, but will follow his own devices in France until the Russians take steps to win back French favor, according to authoritative information tonight. Franco-Russian relations will not be broken off. They will be allowed to lag with a chargé d'affaires and an embassy staff kept in Moscow for appearances sake.

M. Herbette's return on an indefinite leave has been predicted ever since Maxim Litvinoff, acting commissar of war, is said to have insulted him in Moscow when the French envoy attempted to hand him a Rumanian note urging a peaceful settlement of the Chinese difficulty. Relations between the two countries were strained long before that. Soviet Ambassador Rakovsky was asked to leave Paris. Valerien Dovgalevsky, present ambassador to France, had only called at the Quai d'Orsay three or four times in the many months he has been in Paris.

Then came the abduction of Gen. Alexander Koutiepoff, chief of the Russian exiles, in broad daylight here, presumably by the cheka.

COUNCIL GROUP ACCEPTS BANKS' TRANSIT IDEAS

Turns Down Only Two of Financial Proposals.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The city council transit franchise subcommittee met yesterday and discussed the suggestions of the bankers' committee for the financial structure of the proposed car consolidation. The subcommittee, consisting of James B. Bowler [25th], Oscar F. Nelson [46th], Jacob M. Arvey [24th], and John Toman [23d], approved of the bankers' proposals "in principle," with two exceptions.

Ald. Nelson, Mayor Thompson's floor leader, said a franchise ordinance should be ready in a month, and Ald. Bowler thought it should be ready by April 15.

The aldermen and transportation interests, it is recalled, agreed nearly two years ago on "the principles" which should be embodied in a franchise, but they have never been able to get together in the actual application of "the principles" to the text of a franchise ordinance.

Leave Gap in Problem.

The bankers' committee suggested that the new consolidated company be given a "fair and reasonable" return on its investment to be fixed from time to time by the regulatory commission. To that the aldermen agreed, but they did not say what the return shall be until the commission is organized, nor how long it shall remain in effect.

The bankers suggested compensation of 3 per cent of the gross receipts be paid to the city, but to be paid after interest charges and dividends on preferred stock. To that the aldermen assented "in principle."

The bankers asked for a renewal and depreciation fund. That too was approved "in principle."

Other Ideas Approved.

The bankers suggested that the new company be relieved of the cost of cleaning and sprinkling streets. Another approval "in principle" by the aldermen. The bankers asked that the compensation of the city be used for subways, added transit facilities and for amortization. The aldermen approved.

Two other suggestions of the bankers were not approved. One would relieve the company from the cost of paving between its tracks and the other from the cost of moving tracks in street widenings.

BUSBY MAKES APPEAL

A plea for support of the bankers' plan to consolidate and recapitalize Chicago's transportation system is made by Leonard A. Busby, president of the Chicago City Railway company, who issued his 'annual report yesterday.

"The people want the car question settled," he said. "The present situation is favorable for a fair settlement. But if the opportunity is not seized a long delay is sure to follow, with severe loss to every public and private interest involved. As soon as the bankers' committee reports on the questions of the financial structure and credit it is expected the draft of the ordinance will be completed and sent to the city council in time for submission to a referendum as early as possible next summer."

Residue receipts of the Chicago Surface Lines last year were the second largest on record, being $13,467,164 for the fiscal year ended Jan. 31. Net income of the Chicago City Railway company was $1,929,237, equivalent to 10.72 per cent on the $18,000,000 capital stock.

Aldermen Rebuff Faherty's Plan for "Planless Subway"

Michael J. Faherty caused sad shakes of heads in the city hall yesterday when his proposal for the immediate construction of a subway without a detailed plan reached members of the council local transportation committee. The aldermen agreed with one part of his idea, that of immediate construction.

Faherty's proposition calls for an informal conference with State street property owners, who, if the subway is built by special assessment, will be asked to pay a part of the cost. Faherty says that if they agreed to start the digging he will throw in an army of excavators at once without waiting for plans.

Guernsey Is Skeptical.

"Merely conversation," said Ald. Guy Guernsey [6th] when he heard of Faherty's proposal. "He was going to make the 'dirt fly' when he returned to these shores two years ago after studying subway construction in Europe. There has been considerable delay since his last 'immediate construction' program."

Other aldermen deemed the Faherty proposal visionary for a number of reasons. Some said they saw danger to the transit settlement negotiations in the Faherty proceeding and others feared a waste of the taxpayer's money if the subway is built before a tenant is found.

"Any public official who starts off on a program of spending public money without first consulting the aldermen, the elected representatives of the people, will find himself in trouble," said Ald. Arthur F. Albert [43d], referring to the traction fund. "I'll give the council an opportunity to vote on a resolution to expell any public official who starts that game."

Recalls Philadelphia Lesson.

Ald. James B. Bowler (25th) cautioned against proceeding blindly with the subway work. He expressed the belief that Chicago should learn a lesson from Philadelphia's experience in finishing a subway which was not used for some time.

"I'm for any one who has the authority to go ahead with the preparation of subway plans," said Ald. Jacob M. Arvey (24th), "but I am opposed to its construction until we have a written lease with a tenant. I don't want anything done to harm the negotiations for a comprehensive transit system and the Faherty proposal might do that."

APPROVE PLANS FOR LINK SPAN AT OGDEN SLIP

Plans and specifications for the construction of a single leaf bascule bridge across Ogden slip at Lake Shore drive, when extended, were approved yesterday by the Lincoln park commission. The bridge is part of the outer drive bridge project which will join the outer boulevard systems of the south park and Lincoln park districts.

The bridge across the slip will cost approximately $568,000, according to Hugh E. Young, consulting engineer for the park commissioners and engineer of the Chicago Plan commission. Bids for the substructure of this bridge will be opened on April 1. Plans for the depression of Grand avenue, made necessary in the extension of Lake Shore drive to the slip, also were approved and bids ordered advertised for. Plans on the bridge across the Chicago river at its mouth will be ready within a few weeks, Mr. Young said.

The construction of a series of jetties in Lake Michigan between North avenue and Fullerton parkway was ordered. The jetties will aid in forming a beach along the lake front and will also obviate the necessity of building a sea wall to protect the shore.

JOBLESS—KILLS SON, SHOOTS SELF AS WIFE LEAVES

Two shots fired in the flat of Thomas Cawley, 39 years old, over a grocery store at 2739 East 93d street last night bared a domestic tragedy in which a deserted, jobless husband killed his own child to save him from the hardships of a motherless life and then attempted to take his own life.

The South Chicago police, summoned by neighbors who heard the shots, broke into the flat and found Cawley lying unconscious on a bed beside the body of his 3 year old son, Danny, whom he had choked to death on Sunday. Cawley had shot himself twice in the body.

Cawley, formerly an inspector for the Wisconsin Steel company, had been out of work for three weeks. According to Cawley, his wife, Mildred, left a week ago when he upbraided her for staying away from home and ignoring her child.

HOLDS UP TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

An armed and unmasked robber entered the rear door of a Western Union office at 3059 Drexel boulevard yesterday morning, held up the manager, Robert Baum, 8215 Langley avenue, and the clerk, Mrs. Sylvia Flanagan, 7435 Rhodes avenue, and escaped with $148.

AVERS DRY LAWS ARE ENFORCED AS WELL AS OTHERS

Steady Improvement Seen by Wickersham.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—The Volstead and Jones acts are being enforced as well or better than other federal laws and enforcement is "steadily improving," in the opinion of George W. Wickersham, chairman of President Hoover's commission on law enforcement.

Mr. Wickersham took this optimistic view of the prohibition situation at the capitol today after he had appeared before the senate judiciary committee to discuss the resolution of Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.] for a senate investigation of alleged enforcement corruption. Mr. Wickersham told the committee he did not think such an inquiry is necessary in view of the investigation being made by his own commission.

Committee Fails to Act.

The committee adjourned without acting on the resolution and Senator Norris said he did not know when it would come to a vote. Attorney General W. D. Mitchell was to have been heard today with Mr. Wickersham but did not appear owing to a slight injury to his foot. There was no indication that the committee will ask him to appear later.

"Speaking for myself and not for the commission I believe the prohibition laws are being as well enforced as any other federal laws," Mr. Wickersham stated. "Of course, none of them is being enforced 100 per cent. I believe also that there has been a steady improvement in enforcement during the last few months since the commission began its work."

"Do you think there is any corruption in prohibition enforcement?" he was asked.

No Proof, He Says.

"I have received no proof of any corruption," Mr. Wickersham replied, adding, "you know these charges of corruption usually fall down when they are closely examined."

Some speculation was aroused by his answer to a question regarding his attitude toward the Dyer bill for 2.75 beer. He said he did not think 2.75 beer "would satisfy a robust taste," but did not elaborate on this statement.

Mr. Wickersham declined to discuss the commission's recent investigation, saying that "it is now in full flight and hasn't yet alighted with a twig in its bill." Whether the commission eventually will report its view on the wisdom or unwisdom of the prohibition law he said is "up to the eleven members."

Another Dry Report Likely.

He asserted, however, that it is altogether likely that the commission will make another, although not final, report on prohibition enforcement before adjournment of the present session of congress. Its investigation on law observance in general, he said, will continue for at least another year if congress appropriates the funds to pay expenses.

Charles Goeb, 6411 Ellis avenue, owner of the University bakery at 1133 East 60d street, was forced into his own automobile by two gunmen yesterday and driven to the bakery where the bandits compelled him to open the safe. They escaped with $400 after locking him in a cabinet.

Hotel Padlock in Hip Liquor Case Upheld in High Court

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D.C., March 17.—[Special.]—The United States Supreme court today refused to review the appeal of the Butler Hotel company of Seattle, Wash., whose dining room was closed for one year because, the hotel attorneys assert, some of the patrons brought intoxicating liquor there for their own use.

The District court for the western district of Washington ordered the dining room closed as a common nuisance April 15, 1925, but allowed it to operate until 9 p. m. under a $1,000 bond. Last October the United States Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the lower court, whereupon the hotel company appealed to the Supreme court. The formal action of the latter court today was to deny the petition for a writ of certiorari.

In its original case the government charged that bellboys and other employes sold liquor, that liquor was found in the possession of employes, and that the hotel furnished setups of ice and glasses to patrons. The District court, however, failed to find that the hotel company had anything to do with the sale of liquor. The absolution of the company from blame was shown in the brief filed by Attorney General Mitchell.

No Comment on "Sale" Defense.

No comment was made by the Supreme court in refusing to reopen the case. Attorney's for the hotel company, however, insisted that the lower court had misconstrued the meaning of the wording of the Volstead act.

"Keeping on the person of a guest for personal consumption," the attorneys argued, "is not keeping for sale or barter or other commercial purpose, and to further hold that such 'keeping' by a guest or patron constitutes a 'keeping for sale or barter or other commercial purpose,' by the proprietor of a hotel or café, we submit, is nothing short of legislation by judicial interpretation."

They described the Butler hotel as "one of Seattle's oldest and best known hostelries." The room which was closed, they stated, was used partly for night dancing, during which prohibition agents said they saw some of the patrons consuming intoxicants "which they poured from bottles and flasks carried on their persons."

Is of Wide Effect.

"The question involved," the attorneys argued, "is one of deep concern to every hotel proprietor, and every restaurant and café owner in the United States, to every investor in hotel securities, for if a hotel dining room can be abated as a common nuisance because some of its patrons take liquor there to drink, then every hotel bedroom, and indeed the hotel itself, can be likewise abated whenever guests take liquor there for their own consumption.

"It is a matter of common knowledge that no such public place is without guests and patrons who bring with them and consume intoxicating liquors and it is likewise a matter of common knowledge that the management of such businesses furnish their guests, upon request, glasses, cracked ice, and ginger ale at all hours of the day and night, both in bedrooms and in dining rooms. If to do so is a crime under the constitution and laws of the United States, we respectfully submit that this court should so expressly announce the law."

REALTY CONCERN BANKRUPT, SAYS CREDITORS' PLEA

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against the Victor C. Carlson Organization, Inc., real estate operators in Evanston, was filed in the federal district court late yesterday.

According to Attorney Henry Blume, representing the petitioning creditors, the liabilities of the company will not exceed $300,000 and the assets are far in excess of this figure. The petition was filed, he said, primarily to expedite an agreement between the company and creditors and to assist in the perfection of a reorganization plan.

"The petitioners are not at all uneasy," said Mr. Blume, "and we do not expect any creditor to lose a dollar." The C. W. Olson Insurance company is the principal petitioner.

Victor C. Carlson, president of the company, which buys and develops property and leases and rents building space, said that "frozen" assets, due to a temporary depression in the building industry, were responsible. Appraisers assert, according to Mr. Carlson, that all claims can be paid and there still will be an equity balance of $3,000,000.

BANDITS ENTER HOME.

Two men yesterday rang the doorbell at the home of Alfred C. Koechee, 5534 Byron street, and, forcing their way in the house when he opened the door, robbed him of $124 and jewelry valued at $450.

HARGRAVE SEES DOWNSTATE NEAR DRY ERA REVOLT

Candidate Finds Issue Outranks Others.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

With twenty-three candidates in the running, the Republican race for the two nominations for congressman-at-large yesterday took on new aspects as a Volsteadism marathon. Edward J. Hargrave, head of a secret service agency, who is running as a modificationist, returned from a tour of 72 counties, declaring that the dry rural regions are evincing signs of revolt against prohibition. The Hargrave platform covers farm relief, aviation, Illinois waterway, labor legislation, and aid for ex-service men, but Mr. Hargrave announces that in his peregrinations downstate, his wet plank awakens the most applause from audiences.

"I've been all through Egypt and up through central Illinois and some in the northern tiers," declared Mr. Hargrave. "I thought farm relief would be the most interesting platform subject, and labor legislation and waterway, but my experience has been that my audiences have shown most interest when I discussed prohibition.

Change Must Be Made.

"I've been telling them that I've been an abstainer all my life and an advocate of temperance, and that I am convinced after years of prohibition and its enforcement that a change must be made in the interests of real temperance and sobriety.

"After my meetings it's been surprising the number of people who have come around and offered their support saying they are against pussyfooting on this great social problem. To me it looks as if regions which were dry strongholds are on the verge of an uprising against the evils which prohibition has precipitated upon our social, economic, and governmental structure."

McKinlay Sees Results.

Another modificationist, Robert W. McKinlay, who served in the legislature and on the county board, reported that the issue of Volsteadism shows a far greater response than has been estimated by many of the candidates. A majority of the twenty-three are running as drys or ar noncommittal.

"The recent hearings in Washington," said Mr. McKinlay, "have left an indelible impression upon the public mind, and nowhere is this more true than in Illinois. It is interesting to recall that in Illinois there have been two record votes on the liquor question, and in each instance the liberal cause triumphed. The reception I have been receiving convinces me that thousands of red blooded and liberal minded men and women are nauseated by the effort to force upon the nation a system which, in principle, they are firmly opposed to."

A full dozen of the candidates are reported on the platform trail downstate and in Cook county. Congressman Richard Yates is holding a mass meeting in each of the fifteen downstate congressional districts and reports large meetings. Frank L. Smith of Dwight is out campaigning, emphasizing his activities as a farmer.

Stephen I. Day of Evanston, for the third time in ten years a candidate for congressman at large, takes his campaign this week into Dwight, home of Mr. Smith, and into Bloomington, home of another opponent, Frank H. Funk, former congressman and Bull Moose candidate for governor in 1912. Mr. Day is a son of the late Chief Justice William R. Day of the United States Supreme court, and is a strong opponent of the world court and the league of nations.

Johnson States Case.

Justis L. Johnson of Aurora, Appellate court clerk, is concentrating upon the northern counties. His acquaintance formed through twelve years of service on the state committee is a factor. Mr. Johnson points out that of the 23 candidates, 15 live in Cook county and eight downstate, five being from Springfield or south, three north of Springfield and outside Cook county. He says, "I am the only resident candidate in the 31 heavy Republican counties of northern Illinois."

George Edmund Foss, former congressman and father of Great Lakes," is campaigning downstate in the northern counties. Francis W. Peterson of La Grange is on a tour which he expects will take him into every county of the state.

Ellis S. Cook of Oak Park, who was disabled in France and after five years' service was placed on the retired list as a major, is running as a candidate "who will neither wreck nor reform the country, who believes the wet and dry question should be settled by a nation-wide referendum."

Veterans Indose Dr. Farrell.

Dr. Patrick J. H. Farrell has been indorsed by veterans of the world war and of the Spanish-American war; Frederick W. Beach is campaigning by airplane. Thomas K. Edward I. Williams, former sanitary trustee, is devoting his time to intensive work in Cook county. He is running on a liberal plank. Other candidates are skirmishing around, and most of them have a pet phrase, "with 23 in the race anything might happen."

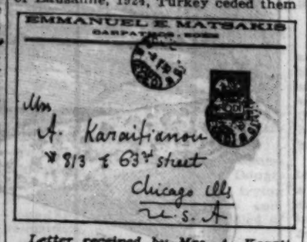
FROM THE ISLAND OF SCARPANTO



Letter received by Mrs. A. Karaitianos, 818 East 63d street, Chicago, Ill.

Scarpanto, ancient Carpathos, is one of the Dodecanese group of islands in the Mediterranean, southeast of the Ægean sea, occupied by Italy in 1912 during the Tripoli war. By the treaty of Lausanne, 1924, Turkey ceded them formally to Italy. Scarpanto is the third largest of the group, having an area of 109 square miles and a population of about 12,000, mostly Greeks. The island is about thirty miles southwest of Rhodes, the largest of the group, with which it was connected closely both in ancient and medieval times. It had been held by the Turks since 1540, previous to which it was under Venetian suzerainty.

Nebraska Depositors Agree to Guaranty Act Repeal

Lincoln, Neb., March 17.—(AP)—Nebraska state bank depositors, who last week threatened a referendum to upset a bill by the special legislature repealing the guaranty fund act, have agreed to accept the measure, R. T. Jones, manager of a depositors' league, announced today.

RUTH McCORMICK TOILS FOR HEAVY VOTE IN PRIMARY

Points to the Duties of Citizenship.

While Senator Charles S. Deneen continued his campaign downstate at the rate of seven counties a day, Ruth Hannah McCormick yesterday, before Chicago audiences, emphasized the importance of voting at the primaries in the political system. Mrs. McCormick, who has traveled 11,000 miles since Jan. 13 and has made 125 speeches in 92 downstate counties, spoke over the air last night and later at Portage Park on a matter which she declared of interest to all regardless of factional group or political party.

Mrs. McCormick pointed out that in 1928 1,228,871 electors voted at the April primaries on President, while in the November election 3,107,489 votes were cast on President.

Fail to Take Interest.

"Is it not a matter for discussion and perhaps concern," said Mrs. McCormick, "when we find 1,878,618 Illinois men and women did not take sufficient interest in who was to run for President to go to the primaries? I am aware, of course, that the primary in 1928 merely gave the citizens the right to express their preference and that nominations of presidential candidates was left to the national conventions, but the fact remains that almost two million Illinois voters expressed no interest at the polls.

"The nomination and election of governor, however, is by direct vote. Yet, more than one million Illinois citizens neglected their opportunity to help choose the nominees for the governorship in April, 1928.

Stress Importance of Office.

"The office of U. S. senator is regarded as the highest office in the gift of the people of a state. Several candidates were in the field for the senatorship nomination in April, 1928. But, despite the importance of that office, more than 1,200,000 voters neglected to participate in the nomination.

"I wish my voice might reach 1,200,000 Illinois citizens who neglected the senatorial primary in 1928. I am not asking them to go to the polls and vote for me necessarily, but I am asking them to vote. It is a responsibility of good citizenship."

Deaf Man Slugged as He Walks In on Holdup

While two bandits were robbing Mrs. Bertha Fontagnere, a tenant of a rooming house at 927 Leland avenue, in the hall of the house yesterday, Charles Burke, 62 years old, another tenant who is hard of hearing, entered. Not hearing the command to throw up his hands, he started up the stairs and one bandit struck him over the ear with a pistol. The pair then took $5 and a ring valued at $75 from Mrs. Fontagnere and fled.

Cohalan Decries U. S. Defeats in Diplomacy at Irish Banquet

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

England's past and Ireland's future, flamingly and furiously portrayed by Judge Daniel P. Cohalan of New York, burst last night upon the Irish Fellowship club as a climactic finish to its twenty-ninth celebration of St. Patrick's day with a dinner at the Palmer house. Oratory that flashed and sizzled, sentences that cracked and stung, embodied the sentiments of the man introduced by former State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe as "for thirty years the most outstanding man of his race in this country."

Ireland the rising star, England the fading constellation was the theme of Judge Cohalan's address. His pride in the first was as candidly expressed as his satisfaction in the last, and in both he found expression of the eternal fitness of things.

Applaud Naval Parley Attack.

But it was in his discussion of the disarmament conference in London, as an American rather than as an Irishman, that he attained the peak of his ample oratorical powers and roused the audience to a thunderous ovation of approval when he hurled at it the declaration:

"I wish to God that America were led by men who were as much in favor of America as Englishmen are in favor of England.

"I don't care," he caught up his argument when the applause had somewhat abated, "whether it is Baldwin leading the Conservatives, Lloyd George at the head or the Liberals, or McDonald directing the Laborites—when it comes to matters of foreign policy they are Englishmen first, last, and all the time. Glory be to them for that!

Attacks British Stand.

"But I maintain that if the conference at London breaks down, as I predict, it will be entirely due to the impossible position England has taken with regard to the rest of the world.

"She says that she is willing to give to America (as if she had the right to give) the condition of parity on the sea. She asks us to wreck five of our battleships, and says she will wreck three. We had eighteen. She had twenty-one. Do you know that since the pact of 1922 England has built two of the most powerful battleships afloat, the Rodney and her sister ship? Do you know that those two ships alone could almost wipe the American fleet off the seas?

"But when we asked the other day, through our soft spoken, meek mannered representative, the secretary of state, to be allowed to build a battleship to compare with the Rodney, England threw up her hands in holy horror. Let us remember that on fifteen occasions we have sat down to the conference table with Englishmen, and on fifteen occasions we got up defeated. It is a game they play far better than we do, and have played for centuries past.

Cites Change in Ireland.

"Think of the conditions in Ireland of a generation ago, and of what they are today. Then think of the conditions in England a generation ago, and of what they are today. Ireland is growing as England had always predicted she never would grow if left independent. The Irish have made good in their own country. England today is receding into oblivion as Ireland advances into the light."

Judge Cohalan acted as proxy for Mayor Jimmie Walker of New York at several other functions during the day when Chicago marked the anniversary of the patron saint of Ireland. The St. Patrick's day celebrations were not confined to the Irish, one party being held at the Steuben club, stronghold of the city's German population, where the German club observed the day.

Attends Church Service.

Judge Cohalan's first public appearance was at old St. Patrick's church, Adams and Desplaines streets, for the 10:30 o'clock mass which as usual was thronged. The Rev. William J. McNamee, pastor, was host following the services at a luncheon at which Judge Cohalan, the Rev. Michael Mulcaire, vice president of Notre Dame; the Rev. William Onahan Gallery, celebrant of the mass; E. J. Kelly, president of the south park board; State Senator E. J. Hughes, William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools; Judge John P. McGoorty, and other well known Irishmen were guests.

Judge McGoorty talked on the history of Ireland and the Irish at the noon luncheon of the Junior Association of Commerce at the Hotel Sherman.

CITY BORROWING ON FUTURE WATER REVENUE UPHELD

Judge Denies Taxpayer's Plea for Injunction.

The gloom noticeable in the city hall during these days when pay roll money is doled out by the citizens' committee was lifted yesterday as the city hall officials saw a $12,000,000 fund placed within their reach.

A decision entered by Judge William Lindsay yesterday upheld the city's contentions in the suit brought by a taxpayer, refusing the latter an injunction to restrain the city from issuing water certificates to the amount of $12,000,000. The certificates are to be issued as a lien on the city's revenues from the sale of water to residents.

Apparently the decision has ended the fight against the city hall borrowing the money by the sale of certificates which will pledge the city's future water revenues. No motion for an appeal has been made by the law firm of Nash & Ahern, attorneys for the taxpayer, Frank J. Ward, 7856 Kingston avenue. Last night Mr. Ward was not certain that an appeal would be taken.

Authorized by Ordinance.

The decision did not catch the city hall officials unprepared. As recently as Feb. 4, 1930, the council passed an ordinance authorizing the controller to issue the $12,000,000 worth of certificates in a lump and laid out a course for its expenditure, although the annual water fund budget has not yet been considered by the aldermen.

In the proposed water fund budget Commissioner of Public Works Wolfe requested a total of $15,178,237 for construction, betterments, water pipe extension and meter installation. Controller Schmidt has recommended only $6,886,917 for the same work, asking that the remainder, or $8,291,320, be deferred until the validity of the water certificates has been tested.

Judge Lindsay's decision was interpreted as clearing the way for the use of the money except for one catch. The current investigation of Commissioner Wolfe's pay rolls dimmed the expectations of an immediate increase in the number of pay rollers.

Two Moves by City.

The Ward suit was started after two efforts of the administration to raise money on future water revenues had failed to obtain results. Controller Schmidt had refused to issue the certificates on the ground that they are invalid. Then the corporation counsel's office obtained council permission to file a suit for a mandamus to compel the controller to release the money. The city did not file the action and Schmidt was thrust into the background by the taxpayers' suit.

GOES TO MICHIGAN

DR. C. S. YOAKUM.

Dr. Clarence Stone Yoakum, dean of the college of liberal arts of Northwestern university, yesterday resigned his position, effective July 1, to become vice president of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Yoakum has been dean of the college since last September, having come from the University of Michigan where he had been director of research. He succeeded Dr. Raymond A. Kent, who resigned a year ago to become president of the University of Louisville. As vice president of the University of Michigan he will continue the research in educational problems to which he devoted four years before leaving the university.

JUDGE ASSAILS POLICE FOR RAID ON TAYLOR CLUB

The raid on the clubhouse of the Taylor Athletic and Benevolent association, 5509 South Halsted street, in which eleven of the club members were arrested, was severely criticized yesterday by Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen. The prisoners were all working men, he said.

The club members said they were in no way connected with the old organization known as the Ragen Colts and their membership of over 300 is composed of business men and the athletically inclined young men of the neighborhood. A small number of undesirables in the club should not bring a bad name to the rest of the membership, they protested.

The raid was made shortly after the murder of John [Dingbat] Oberta, which brought orders to the police to "clean up" the territory formerly ruled by Saltis, Oberta, and Frank McErlane.

REVIEW BOARD IN MOVE TO RAISE 61 LOOP VALUES

Calls Owners to Hearing on Next Friday.

The board of review yesterday sent notices to owners of sixty-one properties in the loop to show cause on Friday morning why their land values should not be increased. Improvements are not to be considered, Chairman William H. Weber said.

The action was taken on the recommendation of the board's land committee of Perkins B. Bass, Kohn P. Hooker, and Thomas E. Sullivan. The properties involved number 270 items, many of them in joint ownership. All are included in the list of properties which are said to be undervalued in the complaint of the board of education, since representatives of the board have attacked almost every piece of loop real estate.

Details Not Announced.

No details of the forthcoming increase were given out. Charles V. Barrett stated that the board was acting on the committee recommendation and would attempt to set a fair valuation if the reassessment figures are proven too low.

The land parcels on which the board will consider increase are the following:

Ashland block.	National Bank of the Republic.
Austin building.
Adams Express.	One North La Salle street.
Atlas block.
Bell building.	New York Life building.
Bankers' building.

The assessed valuation of the town of Calumet was increased almost 100 per cent under the reassessment. The books for the district, turned over to the board of review yesterday, show a total valuation of $64,788,698, or $30,780,348 more than in 1927.

HAIRPINS' TRAIL BRANDS WIFE OF GOVERNOR THIEF

Social Leader Cheated Insurance Firms.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 17.—Two hairpins proved to be the undoing of one of Potsdam's social luminaries, Maria Momm, wife of the governor of the district of Potsdam. They helped the police to unmask her as a thief and a swindler.

Fräu Momm, a native of Venezuela, lived happily with her husband, a well known German official, for 30 years. He was not an aristocrat, but Maria's hauteur amply made up for this deficiency, and besides, they were both rich in their own rights. Through the inflation of the mark her husband suffered heavy financial losses, but the Momms still were far from poor.

Then the family silver began to disappear. Fräu Momm accused her servants and chased out batch after batch of them. When the Berlin police finally came in to help the Potsdam police find the silver they found two hairpins. They found one on the stairs to the garret of the Momms' palatial official residence and another in a dark corner of the garret near a box in which the most precious, and supposedly stolen, silver was found.

The hairpins were of the same build as those used by Fräu Momm who, after a grueling cross-examination, confessed that she had staged most of the thefts and collected from the insurance companies for them unknown to her husband.

Herr Momm immediately refunded the sums his wife had taken and then resigned his post. He was to have retired with a pension next October when he would reach the pension age of 65. Although their name is besmirched by her fraud, the Momm family is pleading temporary insanity for the once haughty dowager of Potsdam.

DRUGGAN LOSES PLEA IN COURT; TRIAL APRIL 9

A demurrer to the indictment charging Terry Druggan, former big beer man, with attempts to defeat the payment of income taxes, was overruled yesterday by Federal Judge Wilkerson.

Judge Wilkerson sustained a motion by Assistant United States Attorney Jacob Grossman to try Druggan and his one time partner, Frankie Lake, at the same time, and the trial was set tentatively for April 9.

United States Attorney Johnson, however, intends to bring Ralph Capone, brother of "Scarface Al," to trial first when the April criminal calendar is called, and the Druggan-Lake case will follow. Capone also was indicted on a charge of failing to file income tax returns.

THE DANGER LINE

As long as The Danger Line keeps healthy, you will not have pyorrhea. In two important ways, Squibb's Dental Cream protects The Danger Line (where gums meet teeth).

First of all, Squibb's is safe. It does not contain grit or astringents or anything which might injure the delicate gum tissues. Second, it does contain 50% Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, a preparation recognized for its soothing properties and its antacid effect. Each time you brush your teeth with Squibb's you soothe the gums and neutralize the acids from fermenting food particles, which acids are the principal cause of irritated gums. Don't let The Danger Line, the delicate gum edge, start receding. Protect it with Squibb's. Get the generous-size tube.

Medical Experts Testify at Trial of Trio.

Mrs. Charlotte Thilo, gray haired widow of Dr. George W. Thilo, northwest side physician, yesterday told a Criminal court jury how her husband was fatally kicked by three young robbers during a holdup on Dec. 14, 1928. She has been kept waiting for more than a year to tell that story.

Mrs. Thilo spoke slowly, frequently breaking into tears. She told the jury she was returning home with her husband when they were accosted in front of 3856 North Kildare avenue by three young robbers. Her husband scuffled with the bandits and they pushed him until he fell down a short flight of stairs.

Kicked Doctor She Says.

The widow said she started for aid and did not see any of the defendants kick her husband, but she said that before he died he had said, "O, how they kicked me."

Mrs. Thilo identified all three defendants, Raymond Scott, Allan Goldstein, and Lawrence Ogden, who were convicted, some time after the killing of Dr. Thilo, on other robbery charges and sent to Pontiac reformatory.

She identified Goldstein as the bandit who stood over her husband while the others searched him and took $28. She said that one of the men—she was not sure which one—had told her to keep silent or she would be killed.

The state also introduced testimony of Drs. J. V. Fowler, 3048 Palmer square, and Calvin C. Brown, 3231 Washington boulevard, to show that Dr. Thilo died from external violence. Dr. J. J. Kearns, coroner's physician, gave similar testimony. Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, noted specialist, will be called today as an expert witness, Assistant State's Attorneys Harry Ditchburne and Nat Ruvell announced.

Dr. Schmidt is being called because the defense attorneys, Charles Dougherty and Samuel Hoffman, are trying by their cross-examination to convince the jury that Dr. Thilo died of pneumonia.

The murder case against the three robbers was lost for months until Mrs. Thilo demanded prosecution. Even since they were indicted it has been shunted from courtroom to courtroom for many months without being tried.

ROB DRIVER, GET $680.

Three robbers in a sedan drove alongside a meat truck, driven by Joseph Miniskaki, 3533 North Western avenue, at Lyndale and Western avenues yesterday, forced him to alight, and robbed him of $680 in collections, with which they escaped.

Tribes Hem In British

QUETTA, Baluchistan, March 17.—(AP)—Another incident in the long drawn out drama along the northwest frontier where a small group of British soldiers is stationed in the arid mountainous country in the midst of hostile tribesmen was reported from Zhob today. A small party of militia has been surrounded by tribesmen at Sulaiman in the Khel country. Help has been sent.

Baluchistan is a British province which had its origin after the Afghan war of 1878-81. It has a population of about 420,000. The chief town is Quetta, with a population of 50,000.

2 WOMEN FOOL PROSECUTORS IN FAKE BOND PLOT

Fradulent bonds were accepted in three cases by State's Attorney Swanson's office, it was disclosed last night with the arrest of two women who had signed the names of Misses Frances and Cecelia Young, sisters, 149 West 57th street, to bond schedules accepted as authentic by the prosecutor's office.

One of the women, whose real name is Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, nearly escaped the detectives by a daring walk across a narrow board between the flat in which she was found at 344 West 63d street and the adjoining building. She was later found in a flat several doors away and taken to the prosecutor's office. She admitted that she had hoodwinked the bond department into believing that she was Miss Frances Young, co-owner with her sister of $60,000 worth of property on Winthrop avenue.

Admit Fooling Prosecutors.

Mrs. Lillian Buzzard, the other woman, admitted that she had fooled the prosecutor's office when she posed as Miss Cecelia Young. The women said they had been asked to pose as the Young sisters by Leroy Heck, a bond runner, who is now being hunted.

The bond juggling was exposed yesterday when Andrew Bender, formerly a clerk in the state's attorney's office during the Crowe regime, was brought into Judge E. I. Frankhauser's court for trial on forgery and bribery charges. It developed that Bender was the victim of the fake bondswomen. He was ordered to jail until he could give a good bond and his trial continued until later in the week. Bender, who it is charged juggled bonds when he was an employé of the prosecutor's office, said he had paid $500 for his bond to a professional bondsman named Henry M. Lasch.

Points Out "Sisters."

Assistant State's Attorneys George Lavin and Grenville Beardsley, who are to prosecute Bender, brought Lasch into court. He said he thought the bond legitimate and that he had negotiated through the missing Heck. Lasch offered to point out the Young sisters to detectives and took them to the flat at 344 West 63d street.

It later developed that the women had not only signed the Bender bond, but had also put up surety for Don J. Lagerstrom, a receiver of stolen property.

Prosecutors Hush Matter.

Lagerstrom failed to appear for trial and his straw bond was forfeited by Judge Daniel P. Trude on Jan. 23. When suit was started against the Young sisters on this bond the prosecutor's office discovered it had been fooled. The matter, however, was kept secret, until the facts came out yesterday in the Bender case.

The other straw bond was given in the case of Morris Rappaport, alleged burglar. The prosecutors were wondering yesterday whether he would appear, inasmuch as his $5,000 bond is worthless. All bonds are submitted to the state's attorney's bond department for investigation before they are sanctioned by the courts.

Deny Parents' Plea in Strike of School Pupils

A special committee of school trustees, appointed to investigate the strike of students at the Burbank Junior High school, voted yesterday against a modification of the school board's rules to meet the demands of the strikers. The committee, headed by Theophilus Schmid, declared the objections of the school children's parents were not "well founded." Nine pupils have been kept at home since the order transferring them from the Lovett school was passed on Feb. 3.

GRAND JURY TO HEAR OF CANAL QUIZ THIS WEEK

The state's attorney's office is going to start the renewed sanitary district investigation this week. First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup said he hopes to place before the grand jury some testimony this week and that next week he expects to call witnesses on whose testimony he will be able to predicate new indictments.

The assistant prosecutor said he intends to keep all his new evidence secret, as well as his plans for future prosecution.

Indictments in the sanitary district investigation have been pending since May, 1929.

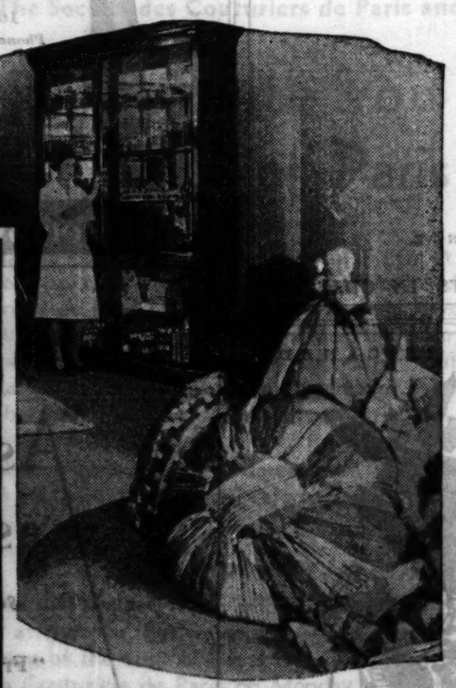
warns "against the harsh effects of soaps not made exclusively of olive and palm oils"

"By using Palmolive," says Mme. Jacobson, "you can always be sure that your skin will retain its natural freshness of beauty."



A corner of the quaint Victorian waiting room in Madame Jacobson's London salon. Furnishings help to reveal the interesting background of this well-known shop.

Madame Bertha Jacobson, herself, administering to a client in her Mayfair beauty salon. Madame Jacobson was the teacher of many of our own famous beauty experts.

"WHEN women come to me for advice on the care of the skin," says Madame Bertha Jacobson, of London, "I always impress on them the need for soap and water, as cleanliness of the skin is the first step to beauty."

"But," Madame Jacobson goes on to say, "I warn against the harsh effects of soaps not made exclusively of olive and palm oils."

Dangers to skin beauty

The skin secretes oils; the day's make-up, face creams, dirt, clog the tiny pores. Unless these accumulations are safely and gently removed, blackheads and other blemishes soon appear. And the delicate lather of Palmolive is the chosen method for keeping skin free of these blemishes ... the preferred method of more than 18,900 world-famous experts.

Madame Jacobson, of Mayfair

Both as teacher and beauty specialist, Madame Jacobson is deferred to by members of her profession, many of whom have studied the essentials of beauty culture under her tutelage. And among London society women, her superiority as a beauty specialist is unquestioned.

When Madame Jacobson urges the daily use of Palmolive that recommendation carries the weight of authority.

This treatment, night and morning

Make a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. With both hands massage this well into the skin two minutes, allowing it to penetrate the pores. Then rinse, first with warm water, gradually with colder. A final rinse with ice water is refreshing as an astringent.

To get the full benefit of salon treatments, you should co-operate with your beauty specialist by using Palmolive Soap twice a day. By beginning tomorrow you will hasten the return of natural loveliness. And since Palmolive costs so little, why not enjoy it for the bath as well as the face? Millions already do, in 48 countries the world over.

"Other soaps may irritate the skin; may cause coarse pores and an unpleasant feeling of roughness. Palmolive, on the other hand, leaves the skin delightfully smooth. It is refreshing, pure, safe. Your skin needs its gentle lather, for true cleanliness, twice daily."

CHARGE POLITICS IN NEW SAFETY DRIVE IN SCHOOLS

Singleton Talks Scheduled for Withall's Ward.

Protests against the new safety campaign being conducted by Frank C. Singleton, head of the board of education's safety bureau, were made yesterday by the principals of several south side schools. The objections follow Singleton's announcement that he will give twelve safety talks before the primary election on April 8 in the 15th ward where Ernest Withall, business manager for the school board, is seeking reëlection as Thompson Republican ward committeeman.

Since his removal from the educational department, at the request of Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan two months ago, the self-styled safety expert has been employed in Withall's department.

Bogan Receives Protest.

The complaints of the school principals were made to a district superintendent, who in turn reported the matter to Supt. Bogan. They demanded that Singleton's safety campaign be stopped and that he be refused permission to use the school buildings for his meetings.

Singleton's talks are mainly for the parents, according to circulars. In his first lecture, given last Friday night, he impressed upon his audience that Withall, the candidate for ward committeeman, was sponsor of the safety campaign, it was reported by several school officials.

Meetings Precede Primary.

Sixteen mettings are being held in all and none have been scheduled for after April 8. Tonight he will speak at the Hubbard school, West 62d street and Hamlin avenue.

All meetings except three will be held in the Fifteenth ward. Withall, who authorized Singleton to conduct the safety campaign, said he did not know where the meetings were to be held, "but if most of them are in my ward it is just a coincidence."

"There is no politics in my department," said Withall.

Is Business Manager.

Shortly after the election of Mayor Thompson Withall, who had only a few months' experience in school work, was made business manager at $12,000 a year, succeeding John E. Byrnes, a school employé for thirty years. Recently Byrnes, a Democrat, was given a second demotion, this time by Withall. Withall's only explanation for the change was that "it was for the good of the department."

Supt. Bogan has said that Singleton's talks are not looked upon favorably by the board of superintendents, as they are handling their own safety campaign. Singleton's original assignment was to hold meetings for the purpose of reducing the breakage of windows in school buildings.

Owen, Son of Former Dry, Ordered to Pay Alimony

Sherwood Owen, 21 year old son of Maj. Percy B. Owen, former prohibition director for the Illinois area, was yesterday ordered to pay $10 a week temporary alimony and $50 solicitor's fees to his estranged wife, Mrs. Virginia Owen, 2544 Bennett avenue, by Superior Judge Sabath. The order was entered after Owen failed to contest her motion. The wife charged that her husband tied her to a bed and beat her. She also alleged that he spent his money in gambling and drinking. Owen lives at the Park Lane hotel.

BRITAIN TO SUSPEND ITS 1929 SUBMARINE BUILDING PROGRAM

LONDON, March 17.—(AP)—In introducing the Labor government's estimate of naval expenditures for the coming year today, A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, told the house of commons that on the basis of pre-war figures no other naval power had made such big reductions in her navy as Great Britain had.

He promised a saving of about $20,000,000, as against last year's figures, and the suspension, "for the present at any rate," of the 1929 submarine construction program.

Appealing to the members to refrain from parliamentary debate during the present delicate negotiations at the naval conference, he insisted that Britain's naval expenditures could not be related to present needs, but only to future needs as determined by the results of the conference. Winston Churchill said the Conservative opposition would heed Mr. Alexander's appeal, but warned him that by silence they were not in any way assenting to the estimates.

Ask $100,000 of City for Failure to Widen Avenue

A $100,000 damage suit was brought in the Superior court against the city of Chicago yesterday by Walter and Mary Makowski, owners of property at 2036-44 Elston avenue. The bill makes a claim for damages to the property due to the delay in the widening of Ashland avenue. It contends that the city was bound to complete the improvement as soon as possible and has failed to do so in nine years.

insist on having 50,000 tons more of submarines.

This revision of limitation upward would, then, wipe out the reductions sought by cutting down battleship fleets through the scrapping of five capital ships by Great Britain, three by the United States, and one by Japan. Reduction could be shown on that basis only by sinking more battleships.

Report Tokio Dissatisfied.

It was reported tonight that Tokio is not satisfied with the settlement reached between the Japanese and American delegations, despite the concessions Mr. Stimson made to the Japanese in tonnage demands. The Japanese are now said to be holding out for further concessions.

It is learned that acceptance by the Japanese delegation of the Reed-Matsudaira compromise was conditional on its being a part of a five power pact, and that the Japanese wanted nothing to do with a three power agreement. It is alleged that Mr. Stimson failed to inform Mr. MacDonald of this, and when the latter learned the facts from the Japanese he was placed in a most embarrassing position.

Japan now has twelve eight inch gun cruisers, built or building, aggregating 108,000 tons. This is 60 per cent of the tonnage of the eighteen eight inch gun cruisers that America is to be allowed. Japan demanded 70 per cent of America's tonnage.

Mr. Stimson and Senator David A. Reed agreed to this demand, with the inclusion of a provision under which the United States would complete only fifteen of these eight inch gun ships by 1936, which would give Japan 72 per cent of America's tonnage during the life of the treaty.

Japan Raises Ante.

It is understood that the Japanese are now seeking the right to replace their four 7,000 ton ships with three 10,000 ton ships, and lay down one more in 1935. This would give Japan 69 per cent of the tonnage of America's eighteen ships, or 80 per cent of the tonnage of her fifteen ships during the life of the treaty. The extra 12,000 tons the Japanese would transfer from the small cruiser class, in which Mr. Stimson has already agreed to allow them 70 per cent of America's strength.

It now appears that the American delegation has agreed to allow Japan absolute parity in submarines, at a level of 52,000 tons. The Japanese want to raise this to 60,000 tons by transferring 8,000 tons from their destroyer class, in which America has already agreed to allow them 70 per cent. The Japanese originally demanded 70 per cent of America's total auxiliary tonnage. The concessions made by the American delegation thus far give the Japanese 73 per cent of this during the life of the treaty, and 69 per cent when America's entire eighteen big cruisers are completed.

Tokio Knocks U. S. Proposal.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

TOKIO, March 17.—In a statement published in the Japanese vernacular press tonight the admiralty makes the following drastic criticisms of the American compromise proposals:

1. While the United States will only complete fifteen 10,000 ton cruisers by 1936, she will lay down three more between 1933 and 1935, thus obtaining eighteen in the end and nailing Japan down to a 10-6 ratio.

2. The American offer of parity in submarines at 52,000 tons debars Japan building a single replacement vessel and is evidently meant as a step towards eventual abolition of submarines.

3. The essential features of Japan's claim are 70 per cent in 10,000 ton cruisers, plus adequate submarine forces, and unless these points are conceded Japan's demands are unfulfilled.

The statement concluded by declaring America's proposal is a concession in appearance only and warns the public against reports to the effect that Japan's demands have been recognized.

OVER 20 PERISH AS OIL VESSEL BURNS AT DOCK

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 17.—(AP)—More than a score of passengers and most of the crew of the river steamer Bucaramanga lost their lives today when the boat's cargo of petroleum caught fire in dock at La Dorado on the Magdalena river. The ship was destroyed. Only ten of a passenger list thought to number more than 30 were rescued. Capt. Antonio Velez was among the dead.

Other steamers in La Dorado harbor stood helplessly by, afraid to come to the rescue because of the explosive nature of the Bucaramanga's cargo.

Every one but the night watch and a few of the crew was asleep when flames suddenly burst out on the boat. Trapped in their beds, men and women became panicstricken and trampled each other to reach the decks. Those who succeeded leaped into the river, only to find themselves in the midst of another blaze, the flames having spread to oil floating in the water. The fire, at first believed to have been incendiary, now is thought to have resulted from the carelessness of a fireman. La Dorada is a small port about 450 miles upstream from the mouth of the Magdalena.

Testifies $100,000 Was "Loan" to Fall.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—Facing the jury which will be called upon to decide whether he is a briber, Edward L. Doheny looked back over his 73 years of life today to recall adventurous episodes and to describe as a loan that $100,000 transaction between him and Albert B. Fall in 1921 through which the government charges he corrupted the former secretary of the interior.

The wealthy oil man, whose hair has been whitened by the years, spoke directly to the nine men and three women in the jury box. He was still on the stand when the session ended.

The appearance climaxed a day of defense testimony intended to show that the navy department initiated the Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, oil storage plant which resulted in a lease of the Elk hills reserve to a Doheny company. The government maintains that Doheny bribed Fall for the Elk hills lease.

Tells of His Early Life.

Doheny was calm and self-possessed on the stand, answering questions in a low voice. Frequently he smiled broadly and his eyes twinkled as he told of his earlier experiences in life and of his friendships in the pioneer days in the west. He recounted how he had been book agent, hotel waiter, and mule skinner years ago in Kansas and New Mexico.

He chuckled when he told how he became bankrupt in 1896. He testified that he was unable to make payments on his property and that a bank had foreclosed on him "because of my adherence to William Jennings Bryan."

He said that he favored Mr. Bryan's candidacy and that the bank opposed Bryan and took over his property because of that. His eyes twinkled again as he told of winning another fortune from the oil fields of Mexico and California.

Saying he had known Fall since 1886, the multi-millionaire added that after Fall became a member of the Harding cabinet, the government officer told him he intended to resign after one year and try to recoup his fortune.

Plan to Borrow Recounted.

Doheny said Fall told him that long years of public service had depleted his fortune and he was planning to borrow $100,000 from Edward B. McLean, a Washington publisher, to purchase a ranch next to his New Mexico home to protect his water rights.

Questioned by his counsel, Frank J. Hogan, the oil man said that he told Fall he would be glad to let him have the money and that the cabinet officer had declined it. He said Fall later telephoned him for the money and that he sent it to him in cash on Nov. 30, 1921.

Prior to Doheny's appearance on the witness stand his wife told of the "loan." She said her husband tore the signature from the note to prevent Fall being embarrassed through the unexpected call to pay the demand note in case of his (Doheny's) death.

Fall May Attend Trial.

El Paso, Tex., March 17.—(AP)—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, whose illness has prevented him from attending the trial of his friend, Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate, said today if his health improves he may go to Washington before the close of the defense case.

WASHINGTON NOTES

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—The government's test cases to decide the guilt of purchasers of liquor under the national prohibition law were advanced by the Supreme court today for argument on April 28.

Navy officials are to be called before the house naval committee to explain the circumstances surrounding the ordering of Lieut. Alford Williams, crack naval speed aviator, to duty at sea and the subsequent revocation of the order after the pilot tendered his resignation.

As soon as they return from the London naval conference, Secretary Adams and Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics, will be asked before the house naval committee to explain the divergent views of naval authorities on a west coast naval airship base.

The $100,000,000 appropriation for the federal farm board was approved by the senate.

The house appropriations committee favorably reported the French resolution to appropriate $300,000 for the completion of the restoration of the Frigate Constitution, affectionately known as "Old Ironsides."

Instrumental musicians, unless of "distinguished merit and ability," would be considered as "contract laborers" under the immigration law under a bill introduced by Representative Johnson [Rep., Wash.].

Dominican Republic to Hold Free Elections on May 16

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, March 17.—(AP)—President Rafael Estrella Urena, the presidents of the senate and the lower house, as well as the different party leaders, have reached an agreement looking toward free elections on May 16.

HOW CAN DAVIS DODGE DRY ISSUE IN SENATE RACE?

If He's Wet, President Will Be Embarrassed.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—How to dodge the prohibition issue, thus making it possible to remain in the Hoover cabinet, is a problem confronting Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who yesterday in Pittsburgh made formal announcement of his candidacy for the Republican senatorial nomination in Pennsylvania. The primary will be May 20.

Secretary Davis, back at his desk today, insisted that he has no intention of resigning from the cabinet to make the campaign against Senator Joseph R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.], who is to have the backing of another cabinet member, Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon.

Just what he will say about prohibition in his campaign was not disclosed by Mr. Davis, who was silent on this issue in his announcement of yesterday.

How Far Will He Go?

It is the assumption that Mr. Davis will subscribe to the law enforcement policy of the administration, but that he will not go so far as to oppose modification of prohibition laws.

Mr. Davis, however, may have difficulty in keeping himself from being identified with the wet forces in view of the fact that he is to make the race as the candidate of William S. Vare, who is known as dripping wet. The Vare Philadelphia organization which forms the nucleus of the Davis support is actively wet and its members presumably will expect their senatorial candidate to line up against present prohibition laws if he is elected.

If Secretary Davis declares for modification of prohibition laws in such a way as to take direct issue with President Hoover's policy, it is obvious that he will be forced to resign from the cabinet. Even if he remains silent on the prohibition issue, but does nothing to counteract the reports of his moistness which already are in circulation, he may be obliged to resign.

The situation is reported to be somewhat embarrassing for President Hoover, who has no desire to take sides in the contest between Secretary Davis and Senator Grundy.

Secretary Davis, in explaining his intention to remain in the cabinet, points to the precedent established by President Hoover, who remained in the Coolidge cabinet as secretary of commerce while a candidate for the presidential nomination, resigning only after being nominated.

It is to the advantage of Secretary Davis to continue in the cabinet while seeking the nomination, thus adding to his prestige and making it apparent that he enjoys the confidence of the President and is in accord with his policies.

Grundy Not to Aid Wets.

Senator Grundy already has made it evident that he does not intend to give any aid and comfort to the wets. In answering a questionnaire from the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, Senator Grundy indicated that he stands for law enforcement and that he is awaiting the final report of the Wickersham commission before committing himself on any proposals for modification.

Secretary Mellon, it is understood, will make one or two speeches in behalf of Senator Grundy, who also will have the backing of Gov. John S. Fisher.

MRS. ROSS SEES PROSPECTS GOOD FOR DEMOCRATS

Former Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming yesterday informed Democratic women from three states that not since 1918 have prospects of Democratic success in the campaign for higher government offices looked so auspicious. At the district meeting of delegates from Michigan, Wisconsin, and Illinois at the Hotel Sherman, the former Wyoming executive informed her party colleagues that the present is the time to strengthen the ranks of the Democratic party.

Mrs. Ross, who is now vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, told the delegates that there is dissatisfaction throughout the country with the present administration. The farmers, she added, are especially restive, while the federal farm board is floundering and the special session did nothing except spend $800,000 of the taxpayers' money. She advocated the candidacy of women for city and county offices after active campaigns, and not merely as appointees of the party captains, as the surest method of establishing the value of the concerted feminine vote.

Borrow from "Household" and save 1% per month

Interest is charged at the rate of 2½% a month on the unpaid principal—you have 20 months to repay.

CLEAR your mind of bill worries for better concentration on your work. "Household" will lend you $100 to $300 at 2½% per month and give you 20 months to repay.

Save Nearly One-third Interest Cost

By limiting its service to the higher class loans of $100 to $300, "Household" has been able to reduce its interest rate to 2½% a month — passing on to its customers this saving of nearly one-third.

On this basis the interest charge on a $200 loan for one month from "Household" is but $5. If loans run for more than one month, interest is charged only on unpaid principal.

No Fines—No Fees No Deductions

When you borrow $200 from "Household" you get $200. No endorsements or outside signers are required. No red tape keeps you from getting the money you need.

If scattered bills are pressing you, you owe it to yourself to see "Household"—and see "Household" first.

A Statement About Small Loans by Household Finance Corporation

WE MAKE LOANS OF $100 TO $300 AT 2½% A MONTH

There are classes of loans which require the rate of 3½% per month

The Household Finance Corporation wishes to emphasize the fact that any licensed loan company making loans of less than $100, and a certain class of loans of larger amounts is, in our opinion, justified in charging the maximum rate of 3½% per month. "Household" could not afford to make loans of less than $100 at less than 3½% a month.

You may have a luxurious taste . . and fall in love at sight with every model displayed by these French mannequins direct from the Couturiers de Paris. Then, again, you may have a special penchant for the French pastry-like fineries, and bear up calmly through the tempting show of sports successes. But, if you're at ALL like the ladies we entertained yesterday . . . . we have a good idea that you'll "Oh!" and "Ah!" over most of this collection!

Any model displayed may be ordered from your program list (the prices are there, too, for your reference and your reflection).

An Apology

We believed that we had made ample provision to take care of the largest attendance that we could possibly have at our afternoon showing of the original Paris models brought over by the Societe des Couturiers de Paris on Monday. The throngs who wished to attend both fashion showings so far exceeded our expectations that our preparations were somewhat inadequate.

We wish, therefore, to extend an apology to any and all who suffered any inconvenience in connection with this show and to assure all others that provision has been made to take care of a greatly increased crowd at both of the shows which will be given today. We suggest it is advisable, however, to be here at least fifteen minutes prior to the opening of the promenade.

We invite you to tune in on W-G-N for Mandel's 75th Anniversary program 7:30 Wednesday evening fering an amendment providing exclusion of "immoral articles" by customs inspectors. His proposal defined the articles as any that, "taken as a whole, offend the moral sense of the average persons."

SENATORS BURY DIGNIFIED NOSES IN RISQUE BOOKS

Puts Faith in Inspectors.

Making a spirited appeal for protection of the minds of youth and others who might be corrupted, Smoot thundered that if a customs inspector "with his knowledge of the world" excluded a book he, Smoot, would venture that "no court would uphold" that volume.

Quoting Poe's lines about first pitying, then embracing vice, Smoot, with swinging fists, asserted it "were better that a few classics suffer than this country be flooded" with the kind of books he attacked. He offered to place in his amendment a provision that the secretary of the treasury might allow entrance to "the so-called classics or books of recognised or established literary or scientific merit," but only "for noncommercial purposes."

This suggestion brought a host of interruptions. Senator Johnson [Rep., Cal.], observed: "It strikes me that the suggestion is ludicrous as well as humorous."

The regular 10 o'clock hour for recessing arrived before the senate finished the debate, and further consideration of the proposal went over until tomorrow.

SMOOT SOUNDS PURITY NOTE.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—In the course of his heated excoriation of what he termed vile books that he wishes to have kept out of this country, Senator Smoot said he had intended to ask for an executive session to discuss his amendment but had yielded to the judgment of other senators. The Utah senator then carried the attack to Senator Cutting.

"I could take two of the books referred to by the senator from New Mexico and if I should read them to the senate I do not believe there is a senator who would dare to vote for his amendment," Senator Smoot said, referring to Senator Cutting's defense of certain books made during an earlier debate.

"What books are you referring to?" demanded Senator Cutting.

"'Lady Chatterly's Lover,' by D. H. Lawrence, and 'My Life and Loves,' by Frank Harris," Senator Smoot retorted.

"If the senator can point out any place where I referred to either of these books in my speech I will withdraw my amendment right now," challenged Senator Cutting. "I never mentioned either of them on the floor of the senate or anywhere else."

Cutting Grows Angry.

"I do not know whether it is in the senator's speech as printed or not," retorted Senator Smoot, who offered to hand one of the so-called objectionable volumes to the New Mexico senator.

Senator Cutting angrily waved away the book when Senator Smoot said that he "could remember perfectly well" that Cutting referred to "Lady Chatterly."

"I deny that I ever referred to 'Lady Chatterly's Lover,'" snapped Senator Cutting.

"All right," conceded Senator Smoot, and then turned to another point when Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.] called attention to the senate rules against "imputing to another senator any conduct or motive unbecoming or unworthy of a senator."

Smoot Grows Fiery.

Replying to another crossfire of attack against his amendment, Senator Smoot asserted that if obscene books were imported into the United States they would be brought in "over his dead body."

"I want to keep them all out," he shouted. "I think they are not only obscene but they are damnable. Some senators have seen some of these books. They are disgusting."

"I would just as soon have a child of mine use opium as to read some of these books," Smoot said, referring to those on his desk and in the hands of his colleagues.

HIDES AND SHOES KEPT TARIFF FREE BY SENATE VOTE

All Duties Rejected; Still to Face Conferees.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Hides, leather and shoes remained on the free list today, the senate rejecting amendments imposing duties. Defeat of all proposals for protection followed inability of the agricultural and manufacturing groups to reach an agreement.

The amendment of Senator Oddie [Rep., Nev.] to impose duties of 4 cents per pound on green hides and eight cents per pound on cured hides, together with compensatory and protective duties on leather and shoes, was defeated by a vote of 37 to 42. Eastern senators favoring protection on the leather and shoes were not satisfied with the amendment and contributed to its defeat.

An amendment of Senator Walsh [Dem., Mass.] to impose duties on leather and shoes, leaving hides on the free list, then was defeated by a vote of 20 to 48. The agricultural senators voted solidly against this amendment.

Still to Face Conference.

While today's action means that the tariff bill as it will be passed by the senate will impose no duties on hides, leather and shoes, there still is a chance for some sort of a compromise on rates in conference, inasmuch as the house bill provides duties of 10 per cent on hides, from 12½ to 15 per cent on leather, and 20 per cent on shoes.

The agricultural groups have been unwilling to accept the house rates, on the theory that the protection on hides was inadequate and rates on manufactured products were so great as to more than offset any benefit the farmer might obtain.

The Oddie amendment provides much higher duties on hides than in the house bill, and incorporates specific rates on leather and shoes to compensate for the duties on hides and ad valorem rates to furnish additional protection for the manufactured articles.

Amendments Shift Support.

Before the Oddie amendment came to a vote the senate adopted several amendments by Senator Howell [Rep., Neb.] whittling down the ad valorem rates on the manufactured products. These reductions made the amendment in its final form obnoxious to senators from eastern states who might otherwise have voted for it even though they regarded the basic rates on the raw material as excessive.

Senator Walsh, who sponsored the amendment on leather and shoes, was one of those who voted against the Oddie amendment. Under the Walsh amendment duties on leather were fixed at from 5 to 10 per cent, while duties on shoes were fixed at from 7½ to 12½ per cent.

Senators from coal producing states failed in an attempt to restore a countervailing duty clause applying to bituminous coal, which under the present law is on the free list except in cases of imports from countries which assess duty on American coal. It was asserted that the limitation of the countervailing duty would mean the importation of large quantities of coal from Canada.

KEEP LAND IDLE, LEGGE ADVISES WHEAT FARMERS

Way to Cut Surplus, He Asserts.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Wheat farmers of the nation were advised yesterday by Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board that they would be better off to let their land lie idle or revert to pasture than to produce upon it the surplus which he declared forces down the price of the entire commodity.

This counsel was included in a statement which Mr. Legge issued in Washington upon his return from a meeting of live stock producers in Topeka, Kan. The statement also gave warning on the part of the federal farm board that the grain marketing officials are encountering difficulty in obtaining terminal storage facilities for the wheat being delivered on open market contracts.

Wants Farm Storage.

As a result, Mr. Legge declared, the situation is such that if wheat farmers do have a good crop this coming season it could best be taken care of in farm storage, where insurance rates are relatively cheap. Prospects in the southwest are for a good wheat crop, he observed from his trip, adding that some farmers were fearful of a protracted drought.

Grain prices in American markets were slightly higher yesterday in a day of spiritless trading in the pits. Reports of light rains in the southwest, said to be much needed, served as bearish news to offset a rise of about 4 cents per bushel in Liverpool prices.

Cash wheat sold a little under $1.04 at Chicago, corn a fraction over 78 cents, with oats and rye quotations a cent a bushel higher at the close than Saturday's final figures. While July wheat prices, reflecting trade attitude toward the unharvested crop, were still two cents under May, September future delivery sales were at the same level as for May, $1.07¼@⅜. Prices in other American markets were slightly higher in the same proportion.

Governor Backs Program.

Gov. George F. Shafer of North Dakota sent a telegram to Chairman Legge during the day stating he would support the farm board's program to decrease a reduction in wheat acreage. At the same time he urged that the board take steps to buy wheat from farmers at better prices than present market quotations if it could arrange to do so.

"Again earnestly urged consideration of plan to purchase farmer owned wheat stored in country elevators," the governor's telegram read. "Depressed wheat prices now prevailing are causing great hardship and discouragement to farmers and business men in the northwest states."

Canadian Calls Plan Sound.

The farm board's proposal that American wheat acreage be reduced 10 per cent met with varied comments from Canadian grain farmers and exchange leaders, dispatches from Winnipeg indicated. It was declared "to be a sound principle" by George L. Williams, president, United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, where nearly two-thirds of Canada's wheat is grown.

"The first essential is to get 100 per cent marketing control," Mr. Williams said. "Then if that doesn't bring the required results we must begin to curtail production so long as we are under a competitive system. If one argues that there is never overproduction but underconsumption, and that the farmer has no right to curtail the production of foodstuff, then of necessity, to be logical, one has to admit that farming is a public utility and any losses accruing to the farmer for his efforts must be taken up by the treasury."

Mr. Williams predicted a decreased wheat acreage in the province of Saskatchewan as the result of present conditions, stating that the strong undercurrent in favor of this made an organized movement toward reduction unnecessary.

FEMININE DESIRE FOR SLENDERNESS HITS WORLD WHEAT SALES

Ithaca, N. Y., March 17.—(AP)—The modern feminine desire for slenderness, according to Prof. James L. Boyle of Cornell university, has altered market standards of long standing, cut the consumption of bread by 20 per cent and considerably affected the wheat sales of the world.

Doctors, nurses, schools and even beauty parlors have helped to bring about these changes, the professor said in an address here. Meat consumption also has declined, those in search of necessary vitamins preferring oranges, grapefruit, pineapples, lettuce, tomatoes and cantaloupes.

Towing of One Airplane by Another Prohibited

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—Towing of aircraft by other planes was prohibited today by the department of commerce as a result of the deaths in recent months of two glider pilots.

Clarence M. Young, secretary of commerce for aeronautics, said the order was aimed specifically at the practice of airplanes towing gliders either to launch them into the air or for other purposes as the gliders were not designed to withstand such stress and exception would be made only when proof were presented that the glider was structurally sound and its pilot an experienced airman.

$46,010,730 IN INCOME TAX IS TOTAL TO DATE

Income tax collections for the first district of Illinois, tabulated at 7 p. m. last night, totaled $46,010,730.74, as compared with $55,370,870.13 up to the close of business a year ago tonight. March 17 last year fell on a Sunday and no computations were made.

Although there still were 20,000 pieces of mail to be opened and the returns tabulated when the clerks finished work last night, Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, collector, does not expect the final first quarter figures for this year to go closer than $10,000,000 to those of last year because of the lower rates in effect. A total of $59,563,115 was collected for the first quarter last year.

A total of 193,500 returns had been tabulated last night, as against 211,800 one year ago tonight.

The highest corporation tax paid for the entire year was $7,544,195.93, representing an income of $66,706,075.82. Other high corporation taxes were $3,600,000, $3,301,848, $3,298,150, and $2,444,000. Highest individual taxes for the entire year were $642,706.45, $405,595, $346,278, $226,954, and $192,232.

HOPE FOR 550 MILLION.

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—Treasury officials are hopeful that approximately 550 million dollars in income taxes will be received as the first quarterly payment this year as compared with 601 million received in March one year ago, but official estimates are being withheld as no accurate check has been obtainable of the effect of the stock market crash last fall on personal incomes. At the office of Secretary Mellon today it was said that it appeared doubtful if any worthwhile estimate could be prepared before the end of the week.

The treasury has ordered telegraphic reports sent in as to the daily collection.

What is the Younger Generation Coming To?

The world hasn't settled that question yet—but we see them by the thousands in this store. That's youth's welcome tribute to a modern Mandel's that is 75 years old. Young people and older (but none the less modern) are alert these days. They're staying up till outlandish hours—their bedtimes have moved from 10 to 2—they're here one day and a thousand miles away the next—in Chicago for luncheon and in Detroit in time for tea! They've no proper respect for the out-moded traditions. They're keenly enjoying this life today!

They come to Mandel's . . . because they know what's right, in fashion and in price. Here's a grandmother who could (and probably does!) give her granddaughter pointers that are pertinent . . . here's a smartly dressed debutante of business, paying just that right price for hose, and no more . . . here's a young husband selecting a tie with all the thriftiness of his wife, six floors up, buying the most economical of potato peelers . . . here's a matron, whose chauffeur is nearly dizzy from driving 'round the block, merely because she's found a hat just like hers at a fraction of the price she paid in Paris.

These hundreds of thousands of alert men and women come to Mandel's because we know how to serve them, fashionably and financially. We're not a bit exclusive . . . what we sell we sell the many who have the keenness to approve our efforts—which is why young people of all ages come to Mandel's—because Mandel's is

POPE WILL OPEN PRAYER WAR ON RUSSIA IN POMP

Diplomats to Attend Mass in St. Peter's.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 17.—Members of the diplomatic corps and the college of cardinals, with a large crowd of people, will attend the solemn ceremonies and mass which Pope Pius XI. personally will celebrate in St. Peter's cathedral Wednesday in behalf of Christians in Russia, the preparations for which were completed today.

Special significance is attached to the attendance of the diplomatic corps to these ceremonies, in view of the fact that the British government has forbidden army and navy chaplains to join such prayers in England.

Pope to Enter in State.

Pope Pius will make his entrance into St. Peter's in state, being carried in his sedia gestatoria.

The Vatican prefect of ceremonies announced today that the mass would be "in expiation and reparation for the profanation and atrocious offenses perpetrated against the majesty of God and the holy things of Russia, for the return of Russia to the peace of Christ, and in propitiation for the faithful victims of religious persecution." The ceremonies will be concluded with "De Profundis" for the victims of religious persecution.

Moscow Fights Prayers.

MOSCOW, March 17.—(AP)—In an effort to counteract the pope's prayers on behalf of Christian Russians Wednesday, The Godless One, official soviet atheist organ, today ordered all atheists to mobilize their strength on that day for massed demonstrations against religion and foreign intervention.

Declaring that Pope Pius had taken advantage of religious fanaticism for the purpose of inciting "the backward masses against the soviet union," this anti-religious publication, used particularly abusive and violent language in criticizing the pope.

The paper declared that hooligan bands were being organized in Italy, Poland, Bulgaria, and other countries for an attack upon the soviet union.

Abolishes Religious Holidays.

KHARKOV, Russia, March 17.—(AP)—On the petition of thousands of workers throughout the Ukraine, the government today decided to replace six religious holidays of the year with six "revolutionary days or rest." "Constitution day," on July 6; "Industralization day," on Aug. 1, and "Harvest day," on Oct. 2, are among the six newly named holidays.

U. S. FIRMS GET 39 CONTRACTS TO HELP RUSSIAN INDUSTRY

MOSCOW, March 17.—(AP)—Americans still lead the world in number of contracts with the soviet government for technical aid and supervision in Russia's industrial campaign.

Official figures issued today show that American engineering firms have captured 39 out of the 97 contracts awarded by the soviet government in the last year. Germany follows with 35 contracts. France has 10 and Sweden 8.

No less than 1,350 foreign engineers and specialists, mostly American and German, hold individual contracts with the soviet government.

HOMESICK CAROL WANTS TO RETURN; 'O. K.,' SAYS HELEN

BUDAPEST, Hungary, March 17.—(AP)—Friends of Prince Carol today disclosed correspondence between Carol and his former wife, Princess Helen, in which the exiled former heir to the Rumanian throne questioned Helen as to her attitude in case he should decide to return to Rumania.

"I have no objection," the correspondence shows Princess Helen to have replied.

Carol is described by his friends as surfeited with the pleasures of western Europe, being exceedingly homesick and ready to return to Bucharest. The principal obstacle now appears to be his companion, Mme. Lupescu, who, says the latest information, has not yet loosed her hold on Carol.

MAYOR OUSTS CHIEF AND AID AT FLOSSMOOR

Chief of Police George Busse of Flossmoor and Assistant Chief Jerry Thomas last night were ordered by Mayor Warren Vandersluis to turn in their resignations by 6 p. m. today. The mayor charged the two policemen with failing to make out reports and with "fixing" a summons which had been given a citizen of Flossmoor.

It was rumored last night that Ed Clark, Homewood policeman, who was discharged from the Homewood force two weeks ago because he insisted on running for Republican committeeman, would be appointed chief of police of Flossmoor.

Decide St. Patrick's Day to Paint New Bridge Green

Portland, Ore., March 17.—(AP)—The Multnomah county commissioners met this St. Patrick's day and decided the new St. John's bridge will be painted green. The bridge will be Portland's eighth across the Willamette river.

JERSEY REALTOR TURNED LOOSE BY HIS KIDNAPERS

Pushed Out Blindfolded on Road; Is Home.

Asbury Park, N. J., March 17.—[Special.]—After having been held prisoner by kidnapers since last Wednesday evening, Samuel Barron, wealthy New York real estate operator, was freed early this morning. He was set down, gagged, and blindfolded, on a highway forty-five miles from his home in Interlaken, N. J., near which he had been made prisoner.

Barron was on the verge of prostration from exhaustion. He had had nothing but liquid food since his abduction, and little of that, and had been beaten unmercifully. Both eyes were blackened and he had a cut across his forehead. He was covered with bruises where his captors had kicked him when he refused to answer some of their questions.

Hold to Grudge Theory.

Prosecutor Quinn of Monmouth county said that he had not discarded his tentative theory that Barron was kidnaped because of a grudge.

Fear that the police were getting too close to persons in the kidnaping plot, said Mr. Quinn, aparently had prompted the sudden release of the prisoner, without ransom being paid. The prosecutor said the hunt for those behind the abduction would be pushed.

A telephone call to Mrs. Barron late last night informed her that her husband would be home within twenty-four hours. At 5 a. m. today Barron himself telephoned his wife from a garage near Lawrenceville, N. J., that he had been released.

Knocked Senseless at Start.

Mrs. Barron and Milton Weintraub, her attorney, got into her coupe, picked up Barron near the garage and hurried with him to the home.

Prosecutor Quinn quoted Barron as saying:

"I do not know what happened immediately after I was struck with a piece of lead pipe. I was blindfolded and cotton was stuffed in my ears and when I came to I was in what appeared to be the upper part of a barn. It was unheated. I was bound hand and foot and when I wanted a drink of water it had to be brought in from outside the building. Sometimes they wouldn't get the water.

"There were three men. One did the talking. He spoke good English and appeared to have some education.

"Early this morning they carried me down to an automobile which was waiting outside the building. Two of them got into the front seat and I was put alongside the third man, in the back seat. Not a word was said to me. We rode about an hour, I should say, when my captors cut the ropes from my hands and feet and pushed me out of the automobile."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 17.—[Special.]—War department officials today announced plans for extending the barge transportation facilities of the Inland Waterways corporation to the Illinois river and Chicago during the next year. Actual operation of the government barges as far as Chicago will depend upon progress made on the Illinois waterway link.

"In line with the comprehensive policy of inland waterway development announced by President Hoover last fall, the government barge line is preparing for an extension of its services," the war department announced. "The barge lines now cover a total of 2,500 miles, and next year it is proposed to extend the lines to Chicago and Kansas City."

Maj. Gen. T. Q. Ashburn, chairman of the board of the Inland Waterways corporation, will go to Chicago Thursday for conferences on the details of completing the government barge line and railroad terminal at Rock Island.

Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley revealed today that the war department expects that the average annual expenditures for rivers and harbors improvements will be boosted to $75,000,000 during the Hoover administration. The average annual expenditure has been approximately $55,000,000. Counting $12,000,000 in the deficiency bill and another $55,000,000 in the war appropriation bill, the expenditures during the 1931 fiscal year beginning next July are expected to reach $70,000,000.

After living for 12 years as the wife of Edwin Block and bearing him eight children, Margaret Marshall made the discovery a week ago that she was not Mrs. Edwin Block. As a result she caused his arrest. Block was arraigned yesterday on a bigamy charge before Judge John Sbarbaro in Felony court, and was held to the grand jury under $5,000 bonds.

Interrupting herself to urge one of the children not to jump up and down on the sofa, or not to put up the window curtains, the worn mother told her story in her home at 4732 Rice street.

She met Block in the war days, when he was a sergeant in the First Aero Squadron. He was in New York, on leave from his outfit at Mineola, L. I. They were married on March 12, 1918, just before he sailed. He returned to her after the armistice, and they did not spend a night apart from that time until she learned of his previous marriage. He had married Ann Sucher in Chicago on Feb. 12, 1916, and had neglected to obtain a divorce.

Robbers Get $7,500 Loot in Home of Union Agent

The Cragin police last night were investigating the robbery of the home of Thomas F. Jakubowski, 4505 Nevada street, business agent of the hod carriers' union, in which jewelry valued at $7,500 was stolen. The burglars gained entrance by using a duplicate door key. The loot included a $1,925 brooch and several diamond rings.

Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

The New Gillette Blade

The New Gillette Razor

Spend a few pennies today for the greatest shaving improvement in twenty-eight years

THE old Gillette was a good servant. The New Gillette Blade and Razor (patents pending) is a better one—very much better.

You never need waste your time wiping this razor dry. And there's never any "razor pull" to deprive you of shaving comfort. These are only two of many improvements that have been made.

In tackling the problem of "razor pull," thousands of men were interviewed. Tens of thousands of razors were examined. The evidence all pointed one way. Most razors had been dropped and the corners dented. The dent threw the blade out of alignment. And this caused "razor pull." The smallest dent could do great harm, for your Gillette is a finely precisioned instrument.

Now the trouble is solved. In the New Gillette Razor the four corners have been reinforced to withstand the hardest knocks. The four corners of the new blade are cut out. The blade is not held at its corners at all when cap and guard are screwed together. There's no chance of its being thrown out of alignment even if the razor is dropped.

When you're through shaving with this new razor, there's no wiping necessary. You don't need to take it apart. Because this new blade is specially processed to resist rust, you merely hold razor under hot running water, shake thoroughly...and lay on the shelf.

The old posts are gone, too. They stuck through the blade and so often accidentally caught and dulled the blade edges. Please note, too, how the guard teeth are rounded back farther, to meet the skin more smoothly, more comfortably.

Another great convenience—the ends of the new blade are square, for safer handling with wet fingers. The square ends fit flush with cap and guard and permit closer shaving around the tight little corners of mouth, nose and ears.

Changed and improved as this New Gillette Blade is, it has been designed so it will fit your old razor until you are able to get your New Gillette. The new razor, 24K. gold plated, and in a beautiful case with New Gillette Blade, is only one dollar. The New Gillette Blade in the new green package costs one dollar for ten, or fifty cents for five.

Here's your chance to know how smooth a shave can be—to own a razor that will deliver the same superb shaves year after year in spite of hard knocks and abuse. Make it a point to stop at your Gillette dealer's today.

THE SUPREME COURT AND THE BILL OF RIGHTS.

The death of two members of the United States Supreme court has raised some discussion of the personnel of our greatest tribunal and of the possible effect upon the trend of its decisions of such replacements as will take place within a few years. We are interested to observe in this discussion the use of the terms conservative and liberal or even radical, the former applied to the late chief justice, to the late Justice Sanford and other justices who have made up a majority of the court which in recent years has rendered decisions in conspicuous cases involving property or personal right; the latter applied to Mr. Justice Holmes, Mr. Justice Brandeis and latterly Mr. Justice Stone, who have dissented frequently from the majority opinion.

We suspect this repeated difference represented in some degree a difference of temperament and intellectual energy rather than of profoundly considered philosophy, but whatever its cause or causes, its effect has been important and gives importance to the question whether new appointments to the court will maintain or increase the majority or turn the minority into a majority. The latter event would have a momentous effect upon the evolution of American law, but not in the manner implied by the terms conservative and liberal or radical. Mr. Justice Holmes is, of course, a liberal in the common acceptance of the word, and if we may make our own definition we do not hesitate to call him a radical. But we would add that he may with equal accuracy be called a conservative or, better still, a reactionary. For all these terms, which are epithets in controversy, depend entirely upon viewpoint, and what we mean by our paradox is that Mr. Justice Holmes as a great liberal is the most formidable conservator of American constitutional principle and as a reactionary invites us to return to the radical idealism which underlies the American democratic experiment.

Putting phrases away, we believe that during a generation in which the civil guaranties of the constitution have suffered repeated infringement Mr. Justice Holmes has been their chief defender, and though he, with the judges who have joined him have been in minority, their dissent has kept the great issues alive, has continued to illuminate the great principles of our system of ordered liberty, has kept our heritage for us in spite of our indifference and our plausible surrenders. This is a greater service than the winning of a war, and the need for it has not abated.

Is it possible to hope that the changes which must come in the personnel of the Supreme court will strengthen rather than weaken the defense of the constitutional principles Justice Holmes has so vigilantly maintained? We think this is one of the most important questions to be answered within the next few years. The resistance to encroachment upon civil rights and to the extension of political regulation into the field of private conduct has been stiffening. Protest against the drift away from American principles is becoming more emphatic and determined. It will make itself effective in legislation. It is to be hoped it will have its counterpart in judicial interpretation. Our constitutional system is a living thing subject to the law of change, but we would have its evolution proceed under control of the great principles of human liberty which are embodied in the American constitution and which Mr. Justice Holmes has more vigilantly guarded than any jurist in our history.

OLD LOYALISTS AND NEW.

American loyalists survived the revolution and they did not all escape to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and upper Canada. The spirit of loyalism was handed down, but it was changed. Something appreciative could be said for the family which couldn't break with its traditions and which saw all manner of dangers in the revolutionary program. Such a family might have sacrificed everything precious in standing up for its convictions, a merit not allowable to people who were loyal under the protection of the British army because it was safer to be so and more comfortable and profitable.

The loyalist spirit may have had its fine exhibitions, but it comes down, where it has been preserved in the United States, as a shabby thing translated into mean terms. In times of danger it was political. Now it is social. The old loyalist looked to London as to the proper seat of government. The new one looks to it as the place of social attainment. The old one had a political conviction. The new one has a personal ambition. The old one said he was a British subject and had his rights. The new one says he is an American citizen, but finds the life of the subject superior and more pleasing to vanity even if enjoyment of it involves a confession of inferiority.

The new loyalists do not all, as Lady Astor did, accept another allegiance to get what they want, but they will always do their own nationality an injury if it is required for the good of the land whose favors they seek. They may be found among the debt cancellationists. Many of them are internationalists in finance or in sentiment. Some of them are small [American] navy advocates. They recognize the paramount needs of insular Britain on the seas. They are easily persuaded of the correctness of English opinion and policy. When the charm of a superior estate is conceded the correctness of its viewpoint will be a resultant concession.

English who come to the United States do not reveal these weaknesses. They may even become citizens here without doing so. But they have come, for the most part, to work and to better their conditions, a thing in which their self-respect can be maintained. Americans who seek advantages in England do not consider it economically. They must be solvent before they make the attempt. It is for social privileges which they regard as more enjoyable than anything of the kind available at home. Thus the attempt is a confession of inferiority which imposes a dutiful submission.

A BILL FOR "CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS."

The immigration committee of the house of representatives has before it for public hearings a bill to admit an alien to citizenship without requiring him to say that he would bear arms in defense of the country. It has the support of such organizations as the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, League for Peace and Freedom, the Society Against War, Women's Peace union, etc.

Immediately in the background are the cases of Mrs. Rosika Schwimmer, who persuaded Mr. Ford into his most fantastic adventure, that of the peace ship, and Dr. D. C. MacIntosh of Yale. Both failed of citizenship because they both answered the question of defense unsatisfactorily. Dr. MacIntosh said it would be a matter of conscience. With both of the applicants the issue was an abstraction. There was no possibility of either being permitted to bear arms, but for the United States there was the question of maintaining an obligation of citizenship. The Supreme court, in Mrs. Schwimmer's case, held that this obligation must be assumed by a person seeking to become a citizen.

It is imposed upon every native born American and would not be avoided by the naturalized American in fact. The only effect of the pending bill would be to give a color of validity to the contention of objectors that their individual opinions were superior to the requirements of government. It would thus seem to sustain the right of a citizen to exempt himself from the necessities of the country by declaring himself unable to follow the direction taken by the government. There have been such people in every American war. A great deal of New England withdrew from the war of 1812. A great many New Englanders made profits by keeping the British army in Canada in supplies and some wanted to secede from the Union.

The Mexican war was opposed and Lincoln was in the opposition. The civil war found many people in the north denouncing it and obstructing federal military effort. There were Americans who thought it wrong to expel Spain from Cuba by fighting, and in the late war the government itself scarcely knew from one month to another what its proper course was.

It is known from experience that one opinion will not prevail, and frequently it is not opinion which causes opposition, but self-interest, the desire to avoid something unpleasant or to get something of profit. That is to be expected, but it is another matter for the country to concede that the constitutional authorities of the nation may make a decision requiring the supreme test and that then every citizen may do exactly what he pleases about it regardless of the consequences to others.

HALF HOLIDAY FOR THE POSTAL SERVICE.

The bill granting postal employés a Saturday half holiday (H. R. 6603—S. 2540) should be enacted at this session. The measure provides that such employés as are needed for the slack half day shall be given compensatory time off, and that in the holiday rush season when the mail is so heavy that the half holidays are not practicable the postmaster general may authorize overtime payment.

This extension of the half holiday plan to postal service men is overdue. The mail carriers are a highly deserving class of public servant, and should have as liberal working conditions as other high grade labor. Their physical and character qualifications are exacting and they are as much in need of time for rest and recreation as perhaps any skilled workers. They should not be left outside the general movement toward the weekly half holiday. We believe, from the standpoint of postal efficiency as well as from that of equitable adjustment, the half holiday is desirable, and as that institution has become general there is little, if any, inconvenience or extra expense involved in the change. Almost all business slackens sharply at the week-end, not only in the summer months but more and more generally the year round.

THE PENNY DOORBELL.

[New York World.]

In spite of the fun which the comic artists are having with it, we must say that the doorbell which will ring only when a penny is dropped in the slot strikes us as a good idea. It is so devised, apparently, that friends and those calling on legitimate business can get their penny back; as for the others, the penny will be a dead loss, and properly so. For while those who live in certain types of apartment houses are fairly well protected from unwelcome callers, those who live under other circumstances have their lives made miserable by persons who make their livings out of being nuisances. The worthy boy who is making his way through college by selling subscriptions to magazines, the gentleman who is collecting old suits, the representative of the laundry down the street, the representative of the laundry around the corner, the representative of the laundry over on the avenue, the fresh vegetable man, the banana man, the exterminator man, the agent for kitchen brushes, the lady who is not sure whether she has the right house—all these keep up an incessant ringing of the doorbell from morning until night, so that many housewives, according to report, never even bother to answer at all. The penny doorbell might change all that. At any rate, it will be interesting to see whether it comes into common use.

JUST A MINUTE.
CAN YOU HEAR US NOW?

Wait a minute—till we shut the window and talk louder. Now, can you hear us? There's so much noise in the street, on the front page, over the radio, everywhere; you'd think it was a presidential election. But it isn't; just Al Capone being let out of jail.

Any one that dropped down here in the U. S. of A. from Mars would be certain that some popular idol, some man who was one of the greatest benefactors that we Americans had ever known, some miracle working inventor, or some conquering general of a world war was touring about the country. No, it's just Al Capone, the beer runner. And what would the man from Mars say when he saw Mr. Capone's magnificent castle down in Miami? And the thousands massed in the street outside the jail in Philadelphia in which he has been a prisoner for a few months?

And think of the man from Mars seeing and hearing all this and being told Mr. Capone's police record (or lack of police record, if you except the strange interlude in Philadelphia for carrying concealed weapons), and the millions of dollars he has amassed, saying in natural bewilderment, "But why, why?" Well, we're glad the man from Mars isn't standing right there asking us. Gosh, we wouldn't know what to tell him.

CONQUEST.

He saw beyond the morrow, wisely keeping
A dour economy of all his days,
By no mischance would he be ever sleeping
If ill-starred things should come upon his ways.

Prepared and sanguine, knowing he had ordered
His grooved and smooth set life to meet the shocks
Of fortune fickle, bleak or sordid,
Against the thief of time he set his locks.

A wise prescience and a stern, set mind
Had lifted him successful and afar
Along hard ways the ever sought for star.

Dispassionate he kept to high roads only,
A solitary figure, proud, alone,
He conquered life and love yet he was lonely,
And when he died his heart had turned to stone.

AND NOW—just as we're sitting down with a sigh of relief after telling the income tax department the secrets of our inmost souls, we've got to stand up and do it again to the census enumerators. And throw in age, color of hair, and previous condition of servitude, and how many gold fillings Aunt Emma had in her back teeth. This country is getting nosier and nosier.

OH, CHEER up, Spud. You write to tell us that you think we're a lucky stiff bragging about paying our income tax. "Income," says Spud, "means what comes in. I'd be glad to pay on what comes in to me, but it's been all outcome as far as I'm concerned for the last too many months; or maybe I should say 'outgo.' How soon is the government going to make us pay our outgo tax?" Cheer up, good, honest Spud, and laugh in right good glee. Remember, it is now only fifty days more. And then there will be plenty of jobs for one and all. Only fifty days more! Fifty! 50!

WAS YOU EVER IN THA GRAN' CANNON?

RHL: Seems like most everybody is either a poet, writer, or paint artist nowadays. It used to be folks kinda said, Aw I cant paint and write. Well that was a lot of baloney allright. Everybody's got the spark of genius, and all they needs is paint or ink. There are all kinds of subject to paint and write, and I guess the west is about the easiest to begin on. The west is most all pinks and deep purple shadows, and don't forget the bleached cow bones in the foreground. More cows have died and bleached in the foreground of western pictures than in the Chicago packing houses. I never saw a western yet but was filled with so much impression of the folks back home and the stock market that I wonder will my old 1925 auto last another year. I guess maybe it's better to write about the west than to paint about it. When you write about the west there is so much room for cowboy philosophy. The first cowboy philosophy come west in 1833 with a drummer from Long Island. Then a dentist who writes western got it, and by ink and word of mouth it come down to the cowdude of today. You can get it from most any hotel clerk west of the Pecos, or any dude from Connecticut who has been in the west over six weeks. You can paint a cowboy much better with words than you can with paint. With paint you got to get that six shooter where he can get at it in the daily emergency, but with ink all you got to do is to hang the dead up on wire fences. Maybe if you're going to do an epic or a few dozen sonnets you ought to have a look at yon far off mountain peak towering like a sentinal guarding the destiny of man, but otherwise the woodshed or the cellar or the spare bed-room on the far side of Chester Pa. will do. From the looks of our western pictures and literature they must a been made in a Maine apple orchard. ORACLE.

A NEW YORKER under arrest admits practicing arson as a profession. But can arson be called a profession? Bootlegging, hijacking, and rum-running have been elevated to a professional standing, but we would rather timidly suggest that such avenues of human endeavor as arson and bombing, requiring so much of technique as well as inborn genius, should rather be regarded as belonging to the fine arts.

ABOUT PARANOIA.

MRS. J. E. R. writes:

Kindly give me some information regarding paranoiacs. The case I have in mind is a woman, the mother of several grown children. The father was of sound mind. I am especially anxious to know if this is an inheritable condition, and what chances the children have of keeping sound minds.

Are there any preventive measures, say along the lines of mental training? What causes this condition, and is there a cure?

REPLY.

Paranoia is a form of insanity about which we do not hear as much as we once did. This is not because the kind of behavior which once went by that name is less common than it was; it is because the men making the diagnoses are not favorable to the term. There are three groups of men giving thought to insanity, and each is approaching the subject from a different standpoint. In consequence, the definition of insanity and the classification of the insane are unsatisfactory to everybody. The judges and lawyers look at it from the standpoint of legal responsibility. The physicians try to define it and divide it according to pathology; they like to use such terms as paresis, dementia, toxic insanity, and even dementia praecox, because these disorders show something that can be seen or weighed or proved in some way. A third group thinks of it in terms of behavior and thinking. Because of all this, the science of insanity, if it can be called such, is a jumble of legal responsibility, pathology, and behavior.

Paranoia is a disorder of behavior, an abnormal way of thinking and feeling for which there is no pathology, no change in the brain structure, nothing which can be shown under the microscope. It is, therefore, not a popular diagnosis with physicians. It is very uneven in its effects on judgment and responsibility, and in consequence it is not popular with the legal fraternity. However, it does refer to a very well defined type of behavior, and is a very serviceable diagnosis from that standpoint.

The paranoiac is suspicious and often jealous and envious. He is very apt to consider himself persecuted or conspired against. He thinks he does not get a fair deal. His wife is not true to him; his children neglect him; his fellow workmen give him the dirty end of the stick; his employer treats him unfairly; the police persecute him; society in general does not give him a fair deal. His prejudices generally cover several of these specifications and may cover them all. He may not be employable, he makes a bad man on the job, he is a trouble maker in his town, and he keeps his home unhappy. If he carries this too far he is recognized as insane and is confined for the safety of others and his own peace of mind. If he is less contrary in behavior he is called paranoid and people put up with him as well as they can.

While this mental disease is not inherited, the mental type is. Much can be done to train a child out of this type of behavior.

HOW WEIGHT VARIES.

F. M. K. writes:

1. Can you please tell us the correct weight for a girl 22 years of age, 5 feet 3½ inches tall, slight build?
2. Also the correct weight for a girl 21 years of age, 5 feet 6½ inches tall, large build?
3. Also the correct weight for a girl 19 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches tall, medium build?
4. Also the correct weight for a girl 19 years of age, 5 feet 6 inches tall, large build?

REPLY.

1. 125 pounds.
2. 137 pounds.
3. 129 pounds.
4. 133 pounds.

You do right in specifying the build of each. Weight varies according to size of bones and build, as well as according to height, age and sex.

WHAT CAUSES DREAMS.

G. W. L. writes: What is the cause of dreaming so much? Is dreaming a sign of any disease?

REPLY.

The brain runs on during sleep. Dreaming is a product. Dreams are prone to run in patterns. Certain subjects are apt to be repeated. These generally relate to some sensation. For instance, dreams of exposure of the body result from disarrangement of the garments or bed covers and are, therefore, frequent. Ordinary dreams do not disturb sleep nor are they remembered. Vivid dreams, especially those which cause emotional disturbance, are exceptions. Among the causes of vidid dreams are: pain, other discomfort, disease, drugs, emotional disturbance.

OWNERSHIP OF FENCES.

Chicago, March 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Is there a city ordinance regarding the ownership of fences between lots? C. A. M.

The wording of the fence act indicates that the legislature had agricultural properties primarily in mind. Sec. 2, for example, provides that a fence "sufficient to turn stock" shall be legal. Although the applicability of this wording to urban property is open to some question there is no express exemption and we regard the act as applying to division fences between city lots which are inclosed on their other boundaries, so that adjoining owners must contribute equally to the cost and repair of each such fence.

WOULD VACATE BEFORE LEASE STARTS.

Chicago, March 14.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Have been living in an unfurnished apartment without a lease. A few days ago I signed a lease for same apartment for May 1 to Sept. 30. 1. If I vacate before May 1 can my furniture be held for rent? 2. I am a registered nurse doing special duty, therefore have no regular income nor am I employed by any person or firm. 2. Am I liable for rent during the months mentioned in the lease if I should vacate before May 1? I. B.

1. If your rent is not paid to date of moving, the landlord can hold the furniture by appropriate legal proceedings. 2. The facts that you state do not affect your liability but merely affect the landlord's chances of enforcing that liability. If he could reach money owing to you in the hands of people whom you had served he could tie it up by garnishment just as in the case of regular wages.

Can he be compelled by law to cut these trees down? 2. Or the branches at the line dividing our properties? 3. In the event of a tornado in which these trees damage my dwelling, is my neighbor liable? R. O.

1. No. 2. No, but you are entitled to do this for yourself. 3. No.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 18, 1865.

THE NEWS.—The great storm in the east has laid an official embargo upon the transmission of news and we are consequently obliged to go to press without a line of intelligence on the military situations. Telegraphic communication east of Buffalo is cut off, and except for a few straggling reports which have found their way around via Montreal, we are without any advices from the east. Brief reports indicate the storm was one of unusual intensity. In the oil regions of Pennsylvania, railroads, telegraph lines, houses, tanks, oil barrels, and other greasy paraphernalia of that greasy honeycomb are washed away. Franklin, Pa., reports the greatest flood ever known in that region. At Utica the food supply is cut off.

CHICAGO.—Col. T. O. Osborn of the 30th Illinois and Col. Edward Bouton of the 59th U. S. colored troops, both of Chicago, have been appointed and confirmed brigadier generals by brevet.

CHICAGO.—Col. Charles V. De Land, who will be remembered as commandant at Camp Douglas a year and a half ago, has been appointed consul at Cadiz, Spain.

CHICAGO.—Maj. Gen. Butterfield, lately commanding a division in the Army of the Tennessee and formerly chief of staff for Maj. Gen. Hooker, is in the city and stopping at the Sherman house.

CHICAGO.—The St. Patrick's day parade was larger and more imposing than on any previous occasion.

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO.—With women and children starving, business at a standstill, and the merchants and planters helpless, Porto Rico has reached the limit of endurance. On Monday a massmeeting will be held to demand that the United States take immediate action for the relief of the island. Sixty country women marched from Naranjito to San Juan and petitioned Governor General Davis to save them from starvation and provide them with work and food.

LADYSMITH.—Lord Dundonald's cavalry patrols reconnoitered the Free State border of Basutoland to De Beers pass, where a skirmish occurred. The Boers were also encountered in strength at Van Reinan's pass and Tintwas pass. Kaffirs arriving here report the Boers are manifesting a vindictive spirit under defeat and that many kraals heretofore respected have been burned.

CHICAGO.—George Bassett, who came to Chicago in 1835, died of pneumonia at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lillian Germain, 919 Walnut street, at the age of 85. Another death of the day was that of Albert Sturges, member of the old banking firm of Solomon Sturges' Sons. He died at his home, 205 Goethe street.

CHICAGO.—Chief Marshal Frank J. Ryan led the St. Patrick's day parade of 3,000 through a chilling wind and blinding snow. Never before, old timers said, did a St. Patrick's parade form under such adverse weather conditions. The mercury stood at 16 degrees.

BERLIN.—Von Kapp's revolution has been utterly crushed. The Ebert government is returning to Berlin tonight. The Spartacist and communist governments continue to threaten trouble. The Reds are doing their utmost to continue the general strike. Grave troubles are threatening the Ebert government on its return to power. All reports reaching Berlin indicate that the Spartacists are gaining control in Saxony and Westphalia. Gen. von Luettwitz, who was appointed military dictator at noon today, was overthrown at 4 o'clock. It is reported he confessed negotiations with the Spartacists. An order has been issued sending all troops from Berlin.

PARIS.—Orders for the arrest of Dr. Wolfgang Kapp and Gen. von Luettwitz, with other leaders of the reactionary revolt in Germany, were issued by Gustav Noske, minister of defense in the Ebert government, a Zurich dispatch says.

CHICAGO.—John Reed, Harvard graduate, author, lecturer, and prominent "Red," wanted in Chicago on an indictment charging sedition, is under arrest at Abo, Finland, a dispatch from London says. He was seized as a coal passer of a Finnish steamer bound for Sweden.

CONSTANTINOPLE.—This city was occupied today by allied forces under Gen. Sir George F. Milne of the British army. The Turks were passive under the guns of the allied fleets, although there was a serious clash at the war office, where the Turks resisted the allied troops. Two British soldiers and nine Turks were killed.

SCHOOL COSTS.

Chicago, March 16.—In the name of the school janitors of the city of Chicago I wish to thank Oscar Hewitt, your writer, for his articles on the cost of operating the public schools of Chicago. Mr. Hewitt's articles will be invaluable to us when we go to Springfield at the extra session of the legislature next month to ask for an increase in appropriations and means of levying for them.

Mr. Hewitt's articles are the most inaccurate mess we have ever come across. Not that we maintain that they are deliberately garbled, for they are too full of crude absurdities for that, but they will prove our assertions and that of every educational force in the United States that the National Education association is but a propaganda bund seeking to gain control of all the education in the nation. Your correspondent, if we can get him before a committee to tell the sources of his information, will enlighten the nation on a bigger menace than communism: the educational trust.

We hope your cocksure correspondent will print more, for then you will have more to apologize for, and we believe you will apologize in this matter as you are now doing in prohibition when we get the truth of the matter before the legislature.

It costs the board of education just $2.18 per pupil for operation per year. This includes light, heat, and certain supplies like soap for swimming pools and toilet paper and other things. The janitor cost per pupil is just $1.67 per year. The N. E. A. always had the habit of mixing operation and maintenance together and separating certain items and messing it all up. We will show Mr. Hewitt and the state legislature a report from the N. E. A. where it cites Chicago for the cheapest run schools in the nation. We will also show the legislature U. S. statistics to prove our contention.

To compare New York schools with Chicago schools is a joke. I defy a stranger in New York to distinguish a New York school from a factory from the outside. Compare Chicago with cities west of the Mississippi where they build schools and not factories for education.

The trouble in Chicago is that we have just about one-half as many schools as we need. Many schools are in such an insanitary and unsafe condition that they are a menace to the life of every pupil and teacher in them. The disgraceful tin cans called portables are the costliest things we have. They eat up taxes.

Over 50,000 children whose parents live in other states come to Chicago to live with relatives so that they can enjoy our public schools tax free. We have over 1,000 Filipinos getting a free education at city taxpayers' expense, Oak Park, Evanston, and all the suburbs add thousands to our burden. These outside children disprove the saying that all are afraid to come to this crime ridden city. And despite the meager equipment our school system has, we have the best educational system in the world. Our union leaders will prove that at Springfield next month.

40 PER CENT.

Joliet, Ill., March 16.—W. B. Jones stated in his letter that Scooge was in unfair competition with his brethren. It's worse than that; he's a cutthroat of the deepest hue!

Several months ago I was out where the west begins—to be more specific, in Davenport, Ia.—and while there saw some books that I felt I would not be happy without possessing. Not having enough cash with me to cover the cost of the books and other predetermined purchases, I got the bright idea to pawn my stemwinder, and did, getting enough on it to serve my purpose.

A few days later I read the pawn ticket and discovered that I was paying 10 per cent per month—120 per cent per year. The discovery peeved me considerably and has been rankling in what I call my mind ever since. Thus far I have paid $4.80 in interest for six months. I have investigated and found that the legal rate on small loans in Iowa is 3½ per cent per month. This caused me to write to the pawnbroker and call the matter to his attention, asking him what he thought wise to do about it. In answer I received a four page vituperative letter which has Scooge skinned twenty ways.

After telling me just exactly what sort of a person I am, the pawnbroker deigns to inform that "the 10 per cent we charge you is not all interest in case you want to fight this out in court; there are minor charges for storage, depreciation, insurance, and expense of handling. What do you say now?" That is, this pawnbroker charges 6½ per cent per month for "miscellaneous charges" and 3½ per cent per month for interest on the loan. His closing paragraph reads: "Never try to put something over on a pawnbroker because they are too smart for you." And he is right; they are smart but not too smart, I fear, in this case.

So Scooge is a benevolent old gentleman worthy of mingling in the best society, but he is an apostate to his class. I still have the ten per cent pawn ticket.

A BOOK NUT.

LOVE, BAH!

Chicago, March 15.—W. B. Jones in his letter of the 15th compares the licensed rate of interest fixed by the state of Illinois for loans of $300 or less with that charged by Scooge in Sidney Smith's cartoon, thereby creating a false impression of a respectable business.

I wonder if he realizes that 3½ per cent a month or 42 per cent a year is a rate of interest fixed by the state to insure the lender a fair profit on his investment, that the security is usually a signature and a few pieces of worn furniture and that the borrower does not suffer the embarrassment of a rigid investigation of his character.

The 3½ per cent is sponsored by the Russell Sage Foundation, whose founder donated his fortune toward the abolition of the loan shark.

Please bear in mind that 42 per cent a year does not mean 42 per cent a year profit. LESTER M. MARKLEY.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT.

Chicago, March 14.—Quite contrary to the inference that THE TRIBUNE makes the poll on the 18th amendment which the Literary Digest is conducting, which is opposed to the law itself and favors a repeal of the act, are the facts that the figures themselves establish. THE TRIBUNE has hurriedly placed all the ballots of the modificationists in the same column with those of the repealers. A bit of sane thought would not put even one of these ballots in this column. The 72 per cent opposition which THE TRIBUNE heralds is based, therefore, entirely on heated imagination or at the best blind prejudice.

The ballots of the modificationists can be placed alongside of only those which are for enforcement of the law, and must be counted with the votes represented by the figures in this latter column. Their votes emphasize more than do votes of the enforcers that the present 18th amendment should be retained and enforced. If they did not intend to convey this meaning, and did not think the present law is a good law, if it has the proper or even fair cooperation, it would have been an easy matter for them to have so indicated.

The ballots so far clearly indicate in the totals for the ten states accounted for that 172,654 people are in favor of the 18th amendment, with a little alteration on some points, and 118,934 for its repeal. The list printed does not include a single southern state, but it does include three states having large urban populations—New York, New Jersey, and Illinois. These are all centers of violent antagonism toward the 18th amendment. E. T. SNOOK.

GREEN PLEDGES AID TO LEWIS IN MINERS' REVOLT

BY THOMAS WREN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—[Special.]—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today declared the regular convention of the United Mine Workers of America the support and cooperation of the federation as plans were being completed to discipline leaders of the rump convention of Illinois coal diggers who met last week in Springfield.

Introduced by John L. Lewis, the president of the United Mine Workers, Green received an ovation when he declared that a house divided against itself cannot stand. He said there is not sufficient room within the American labor movement for two large unions of miners and stated the federation will stand solidly behind the United Mine Workers.

Great Responsibilities.

Deploring a division in the ranks, Green charged that the men responsible for the cleavage assumed great responsibilities by their action in sponsoring the insurgent Springfield meeting of miners.

Late tonight headquarters of the United Miners announced the program for disciplining the Illinois insurgents possibly will be outlined at tomorrow's session.

The Indianapolis convention, which is expected to adjourn next Thursday, is being attended by 1,000 delegates. Ninety-four Illinois locals of miners have sent representatives.

It was announced at the miners' headquarters it was probable the rank and file of the recalcitrant unions will be given an opportunity, within a short time, to decide between association with the regular United Mine Workers of America or with the new international organization rigged up at the recent rump Springfield meeting. Following closely on this will be an assembling of all loyal Illinois locals under the banner of the Lewis administration. The promoters of the outlaw convention are slated for expulsion from the miners and these include, according to Lewis, Harry Fishwick and Walter Nesbit, the president and secretary of the Illinois Miners' union, Alex Howatt of the Kansas district, who was selected president of the new union.

Walker Faces Trouble.

As Green finished speaking Delegate Davis of Pana, Ill., asked what action was to be taken against John Walker, head of the Illinois Federation of Labor, who is said to be one of the leaders of the Springfield meeting. He was selected secretary of the new union.

"I have reflected the attitude of the American Federation of Labor and I may say his case will be disposed of by the executive council of the federation." Green replied.

KILLS HIS FOSTER MOTHER, 83, AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Cambridge, O., March 17.—[Special.]—Charles Dilman Adair, 37, died today from self-inflicted wounds after he had shot and killed his foster mother, Mrs. Mary Troette, 83, here late Sunday night. Police say that the refusal of Mrs. Troette to grant his demands for money led to the double slaying.

Adair, who sometimes called himself Sir Charles Adair, was born in Chicago in September, 1893, after his mother, Ellen Lydia Dilman, daughter of Sir Charles and Lady Dilman, Stafford House, Eaton, England, had run away from her home and eloped with James P. Adair. The couple was married in Chicago in 1891.

When the mother died the youth was placed in the care of close family friends, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Trostte, former Probate judge of Guernsey county, Ohio. He had made his home with them in Cambridge until a few years ago, when he accepted a position as draftsman with an aircraft company in West Virginia.

Adair, his wife and 14 year old son had been making their home in Wheeling, W. Va. Wednesday the three journeyed to Cambridge to visit Mrs. Troette.

Sunday evening Mrs. Adair left the home with the child to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Matthew, also of Cambridge. Upon her return she found the front door of the house open and Mrs. Troette sitting in a front room chair dead, with four bullet holes in her body. She called her husband, but upon receiving no answer searched the house and found him upon the floor of his den with one bullet wound in the right side of his head. A revolver was near by.

DIAMOND TRUST PAYS $1,750,000 TO END FRAUD CASE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 17.—The sensational diamond fraud conspiracy case, involving more than $2,500,000, was settled out of court unexpectedly today when the South African diamond syndicate agreed to pay the United Diamond Fields of British Guiana an indemnity of $1,625,000 and $125,000 for legal costs.

This settlement came eleven days after the preliminary hearing of one of the most involved cases in recent years. Preparations for the trial have taken two years.

The United Diamond fields charged the wealthy diamond syndicate with ruining their business by forcing down prices by fraudulent means. Before this morning's session opened the counsels for the disputing parties held a consultation after which the settlement was announced and the charges withdrawn.

CHINESE TROOPS SLAY OFFICERS; BLAME RED PLOT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, March 17.—Two regiments of Cantonese troops stationed in the vicinity of Bias bay, the pirate stronghold on the southern Kwantung coast, rebelled and killed their officers and destroyed the government wireless station, cutting off all communication with Canton today. This rebellion is supposedly of communistic origin. The rebels are believed to be allied with the communistic elements in the East river district.

Government authorities at Canton dispatched three gunboats to Bias bay in an attempt to curb this uprising, which is believed likely to mark the recurrence of communism and piracy in South China.

Start Fires at Hongkong.

There have also been numerous cases of incendiarism in the British colony at Hongkong, which are thought to be connected with these other incidents.

A message was received today from an American missionary, William S. Newhan, formerly pastor of a church at Portland, Ore. He is now attached to the Christian Missionary alliance, stationed in the town of Poseh, on the border between the Kwangsi and Yunnan provinces, about 700 miles west of Canton.

Mr. Newhan reported that communist troops, commanded by Maj. Chang Ming, claiming to be the seventh division of China's "bolshevik" army, have occupied the Poseh river valley for a distance of 170 miles. They have massacred all officials and property holders in this region who failed to flee to the mountains.

The missionary and his wife were forced to flee, but were later permitted to return to their homes on the condition that they refrained from preaching Christianity.

Hold Women as Hostages.

The communists were finally driven out by Kwangsi troops, but when the bolshevik army retreated to the mountains the soldiers took along several hundred women and girls as hostages.

During their occupation the communist army seized all movable property and sold it at auction. They also plastered the countryside with posters on which was the slogan: "Farmers and laborers, arise; take your hoes and your hatchets and kill your imperialistic enemies." The property of the Catholic mission was seized and everything movable, including the boarding of the floors, was removed and sold.

GUNMEN TERRORIZE FAMILY.

Two gunmen invaded the living quarters of Albert Zimbler in the rear of his candy store at 519 South Kildare avenue yesterday and after terrorizing Mrs. Zimbler and her two children, Sol, 11, and Sally, 5, who were in bed, they ransacked the place, taking $150 from its hiding place in a cedar chest.

AUSTRALIA PAYS $25 TO PARENTS OF EACH NEW BABY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SYDNEY, N. S. W., March 17.—Here are some flashes in answer to questions put to Australians here and there in banks, offices, tram cars, and on the street:

The Australian paternalistic government gives $25 to the parents of each child born and 3 shillings a week thereafter for his upkeep. At 13 years he is promised a job at a salary that will support himself, wife, and two children.

The uncompleted spanless bridge in Sydney attracts attention. The government built the approaches, monuments and all, but since has had no money to erect the superstructure.

Federal Arbitration a Farce.

Australia is following at the moment the policy of protection and industrial development of the McKinley days. But unfortunately it has no Mark Hanna. All federal employés are paid upon a basic wage. Federal arbitration has been a farce for thirty years. If labor gets an adverse ruling, labor goes on strike. The present coal strike is going its fourteenth month and labor unions are keeping the strikers from starving.

Levies are made upon all labor as an endowment to the idle. There is a children's endowment in New South Wales, as well as insurance by employers, family endowment, and widows' pensions. This is an old law by the Labor government. Free hospitals and free schools are provided.

Railways do not pay. Twenty per cent of the passengers travel free. Life passes are granted to politicians and their families. The people are tired of being forced to make up the deficits.

The standardization of railway gauges is a long ways off. Hardly two adjoining states have the same gauge and, as a result most of the commerce is sea borne.

Taxes Over 25 Per Cent.

Taxes are above 25 per cent, both federal and state, on net profits. The state tax is now 3 shillings and the federal tax 2½ shillings in the pound. There is a graduated general tax on earnings or profits over $1,000. Earnings step up by the pound sterling to 5 and 6 shillings. Beyond the first $1,000 a profit tax steps up from a shilling, 3 pence, to a total of 11 shillings in the pound.

The miners are well paid, but there are 50 per cent more than can be employed. The idle are paid by the workers.

Australia has been the fool's paradise. It had so much money it could play with labor. Now it is reaping the penalty. The tariff was again raised last November. Most commodities pay 65 per cent duty. The free list is amazingly small.

Two Shelton Gangsters Fined for Gun Toting

Earl Shelton, member of the Shelton gang of southern Illinois, and Delmar Craine, East St. Louis gambler, were fined $100 each in the Joliet police court yesterday for carrying concealed weapons. They were arrested with Howard Lee of East St. Louis, in a Joliet saloon, after reports had been made to the police that they were counterfeiters. Lee was fined $25 for disorderly conduct.

PROF. MICHELSON BACK AT WORK IN LABORATORY

Prof. Albert A. Michelson, University of Chicago physicist, was back at his old laboratory in the Ryerson physical laboratory building at the university yesterday after a two months' vacation in Bermuda where he recuperated from his serious illness of last fall.

Prof. Michelson, who is 77 years old, told his associates that his health is "vastly better" and his appearance indicated that he had been greatly refreshed by his rest in Bermuda. He was operated on last September and was seriously ill of pneumonia for several months.

He said he would remain in Chicago for several months before going to California to repeat his experiment in measuring the speed of light.

I Never Have Had An Accident

How many times we hear motorists say: "I never have had an accident." Most of us know veteran motorists who have traveled hundreds of thousands of miles without an accident, and yet accidents happen every day.

No one expects to have accidents; everyone hopes never to have any. The driver of that splintered car you saw yesterday on the roadside did not think, when he started out in the morning, that he was going to have an accident.

Although we may not be certain of avoiding accidents, nevertheless we can be assured that if one should occur, we will not suffer a financial loss. The prudent motorist knows that any motor vehicle that is worth protecting against the hazards of fire and theft, is worth protecting against the hazard of collision.

Many forms of this insurance are available. Some prefer what is known as full collision, which takes care of all damage resulting from collision with a moving or stationary object. Others take out some form of deductible insurance, which ranges from a deduction of $15 to $150. In other words, the motorist with a $50 deductible collision policy will pay for all damage up to that amount, and the insurance company pays for damage in excess of $50. Thus on an $800 loss the motorist would benefit to the extent of $750.

The Inter-Insurance Exchange of the Chicago Motor Club writes an insurance policy for members of the club, which is free from technicalities. For example, some policies do not consider sliding into a ditch a collision. The policy issued by the Inter-Insurance Exchange does consider this a collison, and the claims department handles it as such.

Another feature of the policy, which is available to members of the club, is the coverage of tires and accessories without additional cost. Then, cash savings are returned to subscribers. Last year this return amounted to $711,332.11.

These features, together with the fact that the "exchange" settles claims quickly and satisfactorily, explains why insurance sales in 1929 amounted to $3,894,706.04, more than the amount of automobile insurance written by any other stock, mutual or reciprocal insurance company in Illinois.

Other services of the club are: Free mechanical first aid and towing service at any hour of the day or night; home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed; accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and by fostering school boy patrols; travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions; and bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases, where a bond not in excess of one hundred dollars is demanded. These are some of the special benefits which you enjoy as a member. There is a branch in your neighborhood. Write or call for further information.

$50,000 Outfielder Finally Reports.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., March 17.—J. Smead Jolley, the colossus purchased by Charles A. Comiskey for $50,000 in the hope that he would supply batting punch to the ambitious 1930 White Sox, is safe in the Sox camp.

Mr. Jolley and his wife roared into San Antonio shortly after ten o'clock tonight, twice circled the block in which the Sox camp is pitched, and finally pulled up at the hotel entrance with the announcement that they had "just driven in from El Paso."

Proves He's Fast.

El Paso, in case you don't know your Texas, is 790 miles from San Antonio by auto road. So you see, J. Smead, who knocked off the distance in one day's driving, over a mountain range, through cactus, sand and what not, is a pretty fast fellow, even for an outfielder who bats .387 left-handed.

There is some evidence that J. Smead has been confused about his journey. He was reported driving here three weeks ago, but six days ago was at his home in Alameda, Cal. He wired to Manager Donie Bush that he was leaving forthwith, and as a consequence was expected in town Saturday. Saturday and last night Donie kept a lamp burning in the window all night. But on both occasions came the dawn, but no J. Smead.

The first question asked of Jolley by interviewers upon his arrival was as to whether he spells his name with or without an "e." He has always spelled it with an "e," he says.

May Work Today.

Jolley reported his weight down to 218 and said he would be ready to play within a week. Manager Bush says he wants him in the lineup much sooner and that if Manager McGraw does not start a left handed pitcher in the game tomorrow he will ask Smead to do his stuff. If the young man feels that his workouts on the coast in recent weeks were not sufficiently rigorous for him to participate in a contest, he will be excused until next Saturday's game with the Giants, according to Bush.

Bush is sold on the idea that unlike Ike Boone and sereval other coast league sluggers, Jolley will be a great hitter in the American league. He plans to start him in the cleanup position and he is predicting a mark of at least .350 for him during his first season in the majors.

Until last season Smead held the record for the Coast league with a percentage of .404. This record fell when Boone, who had a bad season with the Sox in 1927, finished with a season average of .407, playing with the Missions.

Jolley played in 200 games last season and made 314 hits for a total of 506 bases, including 65 doubles, ten triples and 35 home runs. He scored 171 runs and drove in 159.

Accepted Terms Readily.

Jolley showed no reluctance about accepting terms and signing his Sox contract, but he had a notion he could get some of his purchase price from the San Francisco club. He said after his arrival here tonight that he had received no satisfaction from his former owners and that he finally had given up hope of getting anything at all from the Seals' management.

Manager Bush, who has been in hot water over Jolley's absence, especially since Gentleman Jim Moore had his head broken a week ago, said that he had been patient with the big fellow in his tardiness and that there would be no reprimands for Jolley's unusual hanging back after signing his contract.

"That big boy is going to do a lot hitting for the club and I'm happy he's here," Donie said. "We're going to start his major league career off with a lot of base hits and not a series of fusses."

Eddie Anderson, Billy Wallace Fight Draw

Omaha, Neb., March 17.—(AP)—In a 10 round fight during which neither assistant inflicted any serious damage, Eddie Anderson, Chicago lightweight, and Billy Wallace of Cleveland, fought to a draw here tonight. The two lightweights missed a lot of punches, those not missing landing somewhere in the vicinity of the shoulder. Each battler scored a knockdown in the last round.

McCARTHY PUTS FINAL O. K. ON HARTNETT'S ARM

Lays Plans for Series with Los Angeles.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 17.—For various reasons Chief McCarthy declared a half holiday in the Cub camp today and there were no regrets among the boys who now are at the stage where the mere mention of training routine brings on a pain in the neck. All are thankful that the end is almost in sight. There even is a suspicion that McCarthy himself will cheer up when he can work his charges in daily exhibitions, instead of the uninspiring batting and fielding practice common to camp life.

McCarthy canceled the usual morning practice partly because he thought a rest was in order after the round trip to Los Angeles yesterday and partly because there were not enough men on hand to make a double drill necessary. Thirteen of the members are with the Goofs at San Diego.

Hornsby's Heel Improves.

The regulars now are at the stage where they do not need anything more than a ball game a day. There are a few minor ailments here and there but in the aggregate everything is as McCarthy wishes to have it. The hitting eyes are beginning to brighten, the pitchers are ready to start pitching in earnest as soon as they open the long stay at Los Angeles, and the fielding is not hindered by physical defects. Of course, Hornsby still has the sore heel from which a bony growth was removed a few months ago, but he is moving around far better than he did a week ago. He now walks without a perceptible limp.

McCarthy now is willing to admit he is convinced about the condition of Hartnett's highly valuable throwing arm. Even after Gabby began to throw seriously in the camp workouts McCarthy insisted he preferred to withhold final judgment until he had seen more. He knew that throwing in a ball game when the element of surprise was involved was the only thing that would answer the question in which every ball fan in the country had an interest.

Keeps Gabby Busy.

When Gabby completed nine rounds of catching in the game with the Angels yesterday he rounded out his second full game. Besides this he caught about ten innings in other battles. The only reason he was given all this work was that McCarthy wanted actual proof. Today he declared he was satisfied the soreness which kept Hartnett on the bench all of last season wasn't going to reappear.

HELENE MADISON SETS HER FOURTH WORLD'S RECORD

Miami Beach, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Helene Madison, 16 year old Seattle girl, sprinted through the waters of Roman pools today for the fourth world record she has set in her first appearance in a National A. A. U. women's indoor swimming championship meet.

The Pacific coast star cut one-tenth of a second from the mark set by Ethel Lackie, Chicago, in Philadelphia March 8, 1926, in the 100 yard free style swim against time.

The meet, a five day affair, was won by the Women's Swimming association of New York with 43½ points, part of them due to five or ten world's marks set during the contest.

Sharing last day honors with Miss Madison was the New York Women's Swimming association relay team which established a new world mark of 4:19 2-5 seconds in the 400 yard relay event, cutting 4 3-5 seconds from the former record.

The Illinois Women's Athletic club relay team of Chicago was second in the event while the Venetian pools team of Coral Gables, Fla., placed third. Swimming with the Illinois Women's Athletic club team were Mary Lou Quinn, Isabelle Smith, Betty Quinn, and Dagny Van Maarth.

SPORT NOTABLES WED

Martha Norelius, Olympic champion swimmer, and Joseph Wright Jr., Canadian sculling champion and winner in 1928 of the diamond sculls at Henley, England, recently were married at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

"THEY'RE TRYING."

UNPRECEDENTED demand for seats for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE-New York News intercity Golden Gloves tourney at the Stadium tomorrow night is a reflex of public appetite for sport which it rightly believes is on the "up and up" and without commercialism.

In common with other members of the staff, The Wake has been besieged for "good seats" by belated applicants who have just returned from Mediterranean cruises or from the southland, or who did not take seriously the initial announcement these admissions would be sold to the public "first come, first served." The Wake, of course, has no more chance of securing extra tickets at this late date than the veriest "outsider."

Because of the caliber and standing of persons entered in the Golden Gloves event, we several times were constrained to ask, "Why do you want to see these bouts?" Almost invariably the answer was, "Well, I sometimes go to professional bouts, but not very often; but I know these boys will box on the level and they're trying."

That's the answer. "They're trying!" Yes, and how they will be trying! That sport followers are so eager to see chaps who're "trying," even if these boys have not the finesse and ring skill of more experienced performers, is a healthful reflex of America's attitude toward sound athletics.

The Pleasure of Building.

My cherished dreams were sheltered there,
Within the castle I'd built with care;
Yet vague forebodings weighed my heart—
I feared my castle might fall apart.
At length I beheld a crumbling wall,
And, stricken, watched each turret fall;
Then, strangely, my heart was eased of pain—
New dreams came flocking, we built again!

Shimon, Champion, Wins in 3 Cushion Tourney

French Lick, Ind., March 17.—(AP)—Max Shimon of Milwaukee, defending champion, defeated Bernard Fritz of Nashville, southeastern section winner, in the first night game of the national amateur three cushion billiard championship tonight, 50 to 33, in 72 innings. Shimon's high run was five and Fritz's three.

Frank I. Fleming of Champaign, Ill., former national champion, and Joseph Hall, of San Francisco, Pacific coast titleholder, were winners in the first two games this afternoon. Fleming triumphed over Dr. Andrew J. Harris, of Chicago, twice a holder of the national crown, 50 to 37, in 51 innings. Hall defeated Ervin D. Tucker of Dedham, Mass., eastern sectional champion, 50 to 37, in 77 innings.

Broban Whips Resakin in State Handball Tourney

Twenty-three players will compete in the second round of the Illinois state single handball championship at the Lake Shore Athletic club tonight. Ten were eliminated in last night's games. Jack Broban, city champ, triumphed over Resakin in one of the best tilts of the evening, 21 to 5 and 21 to 9.

CARNERA SCORES TENTH K. O.; IT'S CHUCK WIGGINS

St. Louis, Mo., March 17.—(AP)—Primo Carnera, Italian giant, knocked out Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis, in the second round of their fight at the Arena tonight. Twenty thousand saw Carnera in his second appearance here and his tenth in the United States. Promoter Mique Malloy estimated the receipts at $60,000.

Knocked Out of Ring Twice.

Carnera knocked Wiggins out of the ring twice in the first minute of the second round. He was counted out as he lay beside the ropes outside the ring by Referee Walter Heisner, but a moment later was assisted back into his corner. He complained his back was injured.

Hershey Wilson, Danville, Ill., and Jack Purvis, Indianapolis welterweight, fought five rounds to a draw in a preliminary. Jack Horner, St. Louis, shaded Ivan Laffineur of France in a five round event. The Frenchman, one of Carnera's traveling mates, was down momentarily in the second but he slipped and was not knocked down.

Barney Ross Wins.

WALKER STOPS MAHONEY IN SECOND ROUND

About 3,500 fans paid $7,000 to see Mickey flatten his opponent with a left hook to the jaw after the second round was one minute and seven seconds old. Previously in the same round he knocked Mahoney down twice. A left hook sent the Chicagoan to the mat for a five count. As soon as Jimmy regained a fighting position, Walker nailed him with a right cross and Mahoney went down for the count of four. A few moments later Walker shot over the left hook which ended the battle.

In the six round semi-windup, Ted Ross of South Chicago was given the six round decision over Edgar Norman of Chicago. It was a punching fight all the way. They met at 170 pounds.

Les Finucane and Red Griffo, Chicago 160 pounders, went four rounds to a draw in the opener. Mickey McFarland, Denver light heavyweight, was given the verdict over Johnny Freeman of Buffalo in the second fight. They boxed six rounds. Charley Retsiaff of Duluth stopped Man Mountain Erickson in the first round of the third fight. Nisse Ramm of Sweden won on a foul from Blondy Davis of Chicago in the last preliminary.

Singer Stops Wagner in 3d; Scores Six Knockdowns

BY HOWARD BARRY.

"I just take life as it comes along without worrying about what's next," says Joe Roman, philosophic little featherweight runner-up on THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves team.

Joe has been taking life with a shrug for nineteen years and in that time has had many odd breaks of fortune. The current of everyday existence has carried him from Everman, Tex., to Joliet, Ill.; it has swept him into numerous odd jobs ranging from picking flowers in a greenhouse to shoveling coke in a steel mill, and tomorrow it will take him before the packed galleries of the Chicago Stadium to meet a New York battler in the intercity bouts.

Joe Drowses Along.

Joe doesn't seem a bit aroused about the prospect; he just drowses along. But that's just on the surface, and once in the ring, a spark from his fiery Spanish temperament will touch off the dynamite he packs in his mitt.

To see Joe out of the ring and then see him in it, is to understand why Spanish songs sometimes move from note to note with dreamy languor and sometimes leap impetuously from phrase to phrase. For in his moments of relaxation, Joe slips into the attitude of a Spanish don dreaming through his daily siesta, but once in the ring, his other side is shown and he is every inch a toreador such as one might see during a fiesta in old Spain.

Has Fought 85 Times.

Joe's knowledge of Everman, Tex., was acquired entirely through hearsay inasmuch as the family moved when he was only eight months old, but his impressions of Joliet were beaten into him during hard days of labor in the brick kilns, foundries and steel mills.

When he was fourteen years old his father died and Joe was forced to leave school and make his own way in the world. The work toughened him so that progress was swift when he began training one Tuesday afternoon in preparation for a big fellow who threatened to beat him up on the following Saturday.

That particular battle failed to materialize but there were others in its place. Altogether Joe has had 85, of which he has lost 12.

Sammy Didn't Like School.

Sammy Levine, who will fight for Chicago tomorrow night in the second division of the 112 pound class, spent his early life in a tiny town called Florida, set up among the pines which cover the northern peninsula of Michigan.

For nine years before Sammy came into the world, the elder Levine operated the hamlet's solitary dry goods store and continued to do so during the eight years which followed. Then he took his family of two boys and

BY HARLAND ROHM.

If you've never started for a show until the last minute, break the habit for the Golden Gloves at the Stadium tomorrow night. Never before have 22,000 converged on one building and unless the fans coöperate to the extent of getting to the arena early, a lot of them are going to be tied up in traffic, delayed in finding a place to park and swamp the ushers at the last minute.

Doors will open at 5 o'clock to give early comers a chance to find their seats without the bothersome delay of jamming around the entrances. Delays in traffic, parking and at the doors have been common on other shows that drew large crowds. Tonight's crowd will be the biggest ever to crowd the Stadium.

Some of the difficulties will be solved if the fans who drive will avoid Washington boulevard and Warren avenue, which are sure to be carrying their full quota of traffic. In order to facilitate reaching and leaving the Stadium as easily as possible these alternate routes are suggested.

How to Reach Stadium.

From the loop Washington boulevard (one way traffic west from Ashland boulevard) will carry most of the traffic, but Jackson boulevard, Lake and Randolph streets also are available. From the west Warren avenue (one way traffic east from Garfield park to Ashland avenue) is the big artery, but Jackson boulevard, Lake street, and to a lesser extent Madison, are the best.

From the south Ashland boulevard will carry most of the traffic, with Western avenue and Oakley boulevard as relief streets. From the north Western avenue will divide the traffic with Oakley boulevard. From the northeast and southwest Ogden boulevard is the best bet.

For those who do not care to drive there is an elevated station two blocks east of the Stadium and Madison street cars run past the door. The essential point is not how you get there, but to start early enough and allow yourself more time than you think you need.

Every ticket is marked "Madison street" or "Warren avenue" as well as the number of the entrance and fans might save themselves a block or two of walking if they remember it. No tickets will be accepted at the wrong gates. Gates numbered 1, 2 and 3 are on Madison street and gates numbered 4, 5 and 6 on Warren avenue.

Parking Space a Problem.

Parking for automobiles will be the greatest problem, as no event at the Stadium has drawn so many spectators who will come in motor cars as tonight's amateur fights. Probably it will be necessary to park on all streets within four blocks of the Stadium.

The three main parking lots adjoining the Stadium will handle approximately 400 cars. At the east end of the Stadium is one with an entrance on Wood street between Madison and Warren. At the west end of the Stadium is a smaller parking space, with the entrance over the curbing on Warren avenue, just west of the Stadium. A third large lot is on the northwest intersection of Warren and Wood streets, with the entrance at the alley between Warren and Washington avenues. On side streets are various small garages, none of which can hold many cars, but whose capacity in all is considerable.

Of course, the parking racketeers on the streets will be out in full force, from the timid pickaninnies to the underling gangsters who demand a fee on a threat of puncturing tires with an ice pick. The police always seem too busy standing around the entrances to do anything about it.

It will be problem enough to drive through the traffic which will flow through all streets in the direction of the Stadium. It will be more of a problem to find a place to park within anything like easy walking distance of the Stadium. Finally, 22,000 persons must file through six entrance doors and be seated by the ushers. It will take time, and if even half the crowd tries to get in in the last half hour it inevitably will result in delays. So be sure to start early enough.

BUCK EVERETT SAYS TRAINING WILL TURN TIDE

Both Teams Finish Hard Drills.

Sixteen members of THE TRIBUNE'S team discussed the matter yesterday around their training table in the Chicago Athletic association. They were preparing to take their final hard workout for the intercity battle in the Stadium tomorrow night.

"Last year," said Buck Everett, husky light heavyweight, "I went down to New York after training three days. And that was haphazard training, without any one telling me just what I ought or ought not to do. And I won. This year I've been given a week of the finest training I ever had. I feel fine. Why should I worry about Wednesday night? I hope that New York boy is in good shape so he can give me a fair fight."

Buck grinned. If you knew Buck you'd realize that he was talking with his tongue in his cheek, Buck was joshing his teammates and they knew it. They grinned with him.

Training Has Been Systematic.

But there is this much about Buck's speech (it was by all odds the longest speech Buck has made in several years) that he meant on the square. The serious part was that assertion that this year there has been a great deal of difference in Golden Glove training methods.

Ever since a week ago Monday morning the sixteen members of the amateur team which represents Chicago have been given the most careful attention it is possible to give a group of boxers. Their menus have been gotten up by dieticians. Four coaches, working harmoniously under the direction of Walter Eckersall, have supervised road work, boxing, and gymnastics. The boys have lived together at the C. A. A., learned to know one another, and thus acquire a team feeling.

New York Team Is Ready.

What THE TRIBUNE has done for its team, the New York News has done for the sixteen boys who will fight for east in the battle for amateur supremacy.

While the Chicago battlers, from Johnny Emmerick, the midget flyweight, to Grant Fortney, the kayo dealing heighweight, were being brought to the w. k. pink, Jack Elliot, Daily News trainer, was applying the final polish to the invading squad.

If you have followed the intercity rivalry since its inception three years ago you will recall that Chicago and New York's amateur gladiators fought to a tie in the first encounter. It was held in the Coliseum. Eight decisions went to Chicago; eight to New York. You will recall that last spring New York took the lead in the battle by winning eleven of the sixteen bouts. If New York should win nine of the bouts tomorrow night New York will have the right to crow right lustily.

All Tickets Sold.

Chicago's sixteen boxers are not even conceding that New York will win a single bout. And the basis for their confidence is found in Buck Everett's post luncheon talk.

"We've never trained like this for any bout," the boys agree. "We're ready to fight twice as hard, score just twice as many points, hit just twice as effectively, as we've ever done before."

Comment was made in this column yesterday morning on the public clamor for tickets. We took it for granted that the announcement that all tickets, except $1 general admissions, were sold would shut off the demand. Apparently it only excited the fans to greater eagerness for tickets. Requests for thousands of seats poured in.

RAIN HALTS OUTDOOR WORK

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Because of the rain yesterday morning, the Chicago Golden Gloves team did not go on the road. They ran and walked on the C. A. A. track and boxed in the afternoon. They will take a long walk this morning and loosen up this afternoon by shadow boxing and skipping the rope. They will not box. All are under weight.

Adam Smith, heavyweight from Rockford, Ill., boxed for the first time at the C. A. A. Smith went two fast rounds with Grant Fortney, Chicago heavyweight champion. Smith can hit and he can take it. His boxing pleased the coaches.

Weigh in at Headquarters.

Karl Ogren, 147 pound champion, boxed two rounds with Asp. Carnegie and Watson stepped two fast sessions. Steeve and Mendoza traded punches for two rounds and the same was true of Everett and Anderson. Bennie Goldblatt, 126 pound champion, worked

Athletes of 33 Schools Enter N. U. Meets

Thirty-three high schools have entered Northwestern university's annual interscholastic track, swimming, and wrestling meet which will be held at Patten gymnasium Friday and Saturday. This number is expected to be doubled by the time the entry lists close tomorrow night.

Track leads the list of entries with 20 teams. Swimming is next with eleven, and wrestling last with ten. The three sports have attracted 254 boys.

Froebel High school of Gary, winner of the track championship last year, is expected to encounter considerable opposition. Other strong teams are Evanston, Elmhurst, West Division High of Milwaukee, Aurora, Pekin, Ill., and the following Chicago schools: Lindblom, Senn, Roosevelt, University High, Austin, Proviso, and Harrison Tech.

Highland Park of Detroit, winner of the swimming championship last year, is unable to enter the meet because of the Michigan High School Athletic association's rule prohibiting teams from competing outside the state.

Several star swimmers are entered. Clayton Mains of River Rouge, Mich., holder of the national interscholastic 220 yard championship, is a favorite to win his specialty. Harry Paavola of Hibbing, Minn., is state champion in the 100 yard dash.

Spawning Fish Begin Parade to New Water

BY BOB BECKER.

Although birds are the most spectacular migrants in the great lakes region, there are a few species of fish which also stage a sort of "migratory march" when they seek places to spawn at this time of the year. The average city dweller seldom sees this fish parade because he rarely has occasion to get into the north country early in the spring.

One of the most spectacular fish migrations which residents of Michigan see each spring is the big push of smelts which leave big water to ascend a small stream to spawn. This is the same species of smelt found on the east coast of the United States. This fish thrives even when landlocked like our Michigan smelt are today. It does its up stream swimming early in the spring.

Another famous traveler among the finny tribes is the white bass. This handsome, good eating fish spends most of its time in lakes. We have caught them by trolling in Wisconsin lakes during the summer. But the white bass does not like to spawn in a lake, so it leaves its big home in the spring and goes into the rivers connected with the lake.

In Wisconsin hundreds of May anglers catch some of these traveling white bass in Wolf river. The attitude of the fishermen toward this fish is rather difficult to understand. Nearly all are agreed upon the necessity of leaving fish alone when they are spawning, with the result that black bass are protected early in the season.

There Sammy grew up and finished eighth grade at the Tennyson school. At this point, Mr. Levine decided that he had been in the grocery business long enough and deserved a vacation, so he sold the store to his brother and took the family to Minneapolis.

Bribed to Stay in School.

Sammy went through two years of high school in that city, but his folks had to keep after him all the time, as he found class work distasteful. At one point the situation became so critical that his father bought him a Ford car on condition that he would stay in school.

The little Jewish boy's favorite occupation was boxing and he believed that anything which interfered with it was to be looked upon with disfavor. He says that for three years he crashed the gate at every professional fight in Minneapolis—a record which One Eyed Connolly himself could scarcely despise.

So his father decided upon a subtle move. He concluded that the best way to cure the boy of his love of fighting was to get him in line for a sound beating and urged him to join the toughest gymnasium in Minneapolis. Sammy did so and the elder Levine set back to watch the working of his design.

Sammy Fools His Dad.

But things didn't go so well, for instead of being whaled thoroughly in his first fight, Sammy won. He won the next also, and the next, and the next, and the next.

Along about the nineteenth battle, Mr. Levine began to doubt the soundness of his strategy, for Sammy had won every time and was becoming more enthusiastic every day. The twentieth resulted in a draw and Sammy lost a four round decision in the twenty-first, but he had gone too far to stop now.

After the family returned to Chicago and bought back the store, Sammy went right on fighting and didn't let up until he had earned a place on THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves team.

Oklahoma Shelby, Artist, Hitch Hikes to Illinois Relays

Champaign, Ill., March 17.—[Special.]—When every running event in the Illinois relay carnival was finished Saturday night, the crowd surrounded three survivors at the high jumping pit. Clad in an ill fitting, dirty, white track suit stood a man 26 years of age, 6 feet 7 inches tall. His face was gaunt and white. His shoulders stooped.

"Oklahoma Shelby," the crowd labeled him, and they were so struck by his rustic appearance that they scarcely noticed Bert Nelson, the sophomore from Butler, who holds the world's indoor high jumping record, and Shaw of Wisconsin, the two other contenders.

Shelby cleared 6 feet 2 inches easily, but he missed when the bar was raised another inch. He missed a second time, and the crowd openly showed its disappointment when he failed a third time and was eliminated.

Elimination to Shelby meant that he must begin a hike of 875 miles back to school. He arrived in Champaign last Thursday.

NEW YORKERS CONFIDENT

BY FRENCH LANE.

Your correspondent put in all of St. Patrick's afternoon with the New Yorkers. And before we departed they had us thinking they were going to win each of the sixteen combats as knockouts.

The only thing necessary at the Gotham camp was the spirit of St. Patrick. For when noses were counted at the New York's team's quarters on St. Patrick's morning and the roll was called only four sons of old Ireland answered "Present." On the other hand, there were twelve friendly sons of Italy on the job giving the sons of old Ireland the "bird."

The situation alarmed Mr. Jack Farrell, one of the journalists accompanying the New York chin sharpshooters. "If there's a guy present who wants to remark, 'Well, it takes twelve Italians to whip four good Irishmen,' kindly hold your tongue," pleaded Mr. Farrell, "for we will not tolerate any dissension in our ranks."

Mr. Farrell won his point. There wasn't a dirty remark made about the Irish being outnumbered by the Italians.

Jimmy Wears Shamrock.

Mr. Farrell pointed to Jimmy Siclari, the flyweight captain of the New York team, who was wearing a shamrock larger than an eight ounce glove. "Just look," said Mr. Farrell, "the Eyetalians and even the colored boys on our team are Irishmen at heart today. Look at those shamrocks and green shirts. Isn't it a wonderful team spirit?"

The New Yorkers didn't dodge any hard tasks. They were out for road work despite the rainy elements which prevailed during the morning. They spent two hours in the Medinah A. C. gym in the afternoon. Those were two busy hours. First and second string men in the different classes came together. They were real bouts. The lads whaled away with everything they had. Part of the time it looked like the members of the second team were trying to knock the first string men out of the ring.

Walter Palm, the Esthonian and the welterweight champion of the New York team, attracted the most attention. If Karl Ogren, the Chicago lad, licks him, it is going to break every New Yorker's heart. For they are convinced he is to be the welterweight champ of the world one of these days.

Hey, Fortney! Can We Stand for This Guy?

[Sports Editor New York Daily News.]

The mean spirited article appearing in yesterday's TRIBUNE with reference to the sudden shift in New York's heavyweight lineup for the intercity matches at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night has wounded the feelings of the New York boys, and they asked me to explain matters.

It all began when Max Glickman, who won the championship in the novice class in New York, found out that Grant Fortney, Chicago champion, was a cab driver. We have been trying to keep copies of THE TRIBUNE away from our boys for fear that the caustic articles appearing therein will arouse them to such lengths that they will forget themselves completely in the ring in the manner of Prime Canera, and slaughter the Chicago fighters instead of merely boxing them like little gentlemen. Like Carriera, our boys do not know their own strength. At any rate, Glickman bootlegged a copy, and found out that Fortney was a taxi bandit.

"Aw, please, Mr. Gallico, let me have him," he pleaded. "Lissen, I can lick any taxi driver in the world. Lissen, Mr. Gallico, I may not be a world beater yet, but I can lick cab drivers. Lissen, Mr. Gallico, I drive a cab myself in New York. You know I do. Why, I have to lick two or three cab drivers every day.

"Lissen, what is one cab driver more or less to me? Why, it was just beginning to get on my nerves because I ain't licked no taxi driver since we went in training. Lissen, Mr. Gallico, you got to let me fight Fortney.

"Lissen, I had a fellow take my fender off on Sixth avenue and 43d street a couple of weeks ago and he got away from me. Say, if I pretended that this Fortney was that feller I'd murder him. What kind of a cab driver is this Fortney anyway? Lissen, Mr. Gallico, if you'll let me fight him, I'll beat him in the ring for you, and then I'll take him out on Michigan boulevard and beat him at cab driving. . . . Lissen, how about it?"

Now what could a person do? I thought we owed it to the public. I never did see a good brawl between a couple of taxi drivers that wasn't stopped by the police just when it was getting good. This one is sure to last nine minutes—or less. And I think less.

Meet Toronto for Second Place Tonight.

Chicago's Blackhawks, who in a year based from a poor last to second or third—depending on the results of the final games tonight—will play their first home game in the world's championship series at the Stadium next Sunday night regardless of where they finish. If they finish third their first game will be in Canada Friday night and the second at the Stadium Sunday. If they finish second, the first game will be at the Stadium Sunday and the second in Canada next Tuesday or Thursday.

So close have been the races in both divisions of the National Hockey league this year that tonight's final games will be necessary to decide the second and third place teams and determine which play each other in the Stanley cup series. The Hawks and New York Rangers, who have been alternating in pushing the other out of second place all year, are still a tossup for second.

Now the Chicagoans hold second place, half a game in front of the Rangers, and tonight they play Toronto's Maple Leafs at the Stadium. At the same time the Rangers play Boston's Bruins at Boston. On the results of those two games either team may clinch second place or they may tie for it.

On the face of it, it would appear the Hawks had the advantage. The Rangers' best against the Bruins has been one tie in five games, and now they've lost Ching Johnson and Frank Boucher by broken bones. Against the Leaf's husky and fast skating young team which started badly, but has been coming on like a red headed cyclone, the Hawks have lost two and tied one game. If both lose the Hawks would end in second place by half a game.

The game tonight is likely to be one of the best of the season, for both teams are the same type, groups of hard skating youngsters who are out to make their reputations.

After the game tonight four amateur skating races will be staged by the Western Skating association. Hyde Park post No. 38 of the American Legion has offered twelve silver cups as prizes in the four classes, A, B, C and novice.

TWO MURPHYS MEET TONIGHT AT 132D ARMORY

Lineups of the two teams who will support Charles "Stretch" Murphy of Purdue and Charley "Feed" Murphy of Loyola in their battle of the Murphys tonight at the 132d Regiment armory were announced yesterday by the two stars.

Four Purdue stars and the brother of another one will make up Stretch's team. Gibbons and Boots of this season's champions, Kemmer, an all-western guard last year, and F. Wooden, an all-state forward from Franklin college, are to take the floor with the Hoosier quintet. Wooden is Johnny's brother.

Loyola's Murphy will depend exclusively on former Loyola stars with the exception of Ernie Dorn, who captained last season's University of Illinois aggregation. Dorn is a product, however, of Loyola academy. The others who will play with "Feed" are Bremner and Lawless, co-captains of last season's quintet, Ed West, guard; Joe Witry and Harry McDonough.

Al Gaudreau's 1,967 Is Best in All-Events

Cleveland, O., March 17.—(Special.)—Al Gaudreau, 28 year old bowling star from Saginaw, Mich., supplied the heavy bombardment on the St. Patrick's day card in the American Bowling congress tourney. Gaudreau crashed his way to lead in both all-events and doubles division and wound up in second spot in the singles event.

The Saginaw pinster, who has appeared in the last four national pin classics without breaking into the prize division, landed atop the all-events class with a 1,967 total. Paired with Fred Dezelsky he took first place in the doubles class with 1,288 and finished second in the singles with 700. Gaudreau, easily the outstanding performer to date, made it a field day by winding up his work with a 288.

Gaudreau connected with a 605 count in the team event, crashed through with 662 in the doubles and his 700 in singles mark gave him an average of 218.5 for the nine games.

Five new names appeared among the Big Ten leaders in the singles division. Besides Gaudreau's 700 total for second berth, Bob Keys, Buffalo scored 683 for third; John Chyzy, Chicago, 669, eighth; Tom Rabe, Sheboygan, 665 ninth, and Fred Stroot, Terre Haute, 660, tenth.

A Year of Outstanding Accomplishment

The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) takes both pride and pleasure in directing the attention of the Company's host of friends and patrons to its accomplishments during the past year.

The financial statement just released evidences 1929 as the most successful year in the Company's history.

To the great public, whose enthusiastic and continued patronage has made this possible, the Company returns appreciative thanks.

To the army of 27,122 employes, who have so ably carried out the policy of the Company in giving to the public a complete and satisfying service, much credit is due.

During the past year, this Company has taken a great stride forward by acquiring control of Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company and subsidiaries with its five million acres of oil lands, thus providing an assured source of crude petroleum and securing expanded marketing facilities.

This Company has likewise extended its marketing facilities in the great Rocky Mountain area through the Midwest Refining Company.

Now the touring motorist will find Standard Oil Company (Indiana) emblems of friendly, satisfying service in much new territory.

The motorists of the Middle West have been quick to accept the New Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline, introduced late in 1929. They have grasped the significance of a fuel that meets perfectly the needs of the new high compression engine and lends new life to the veterans of the highway.

An accurate idea of the degree of acceptance by the public of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products is reflected in sales of 39,017,894 barrels of finished petroleum products in 1929 as compared with 35,432,806 barrels in 1928.

The latest achievement of the Manufacturing Department is the development of a new motor oil—which finds expression in New Iso-Vis and New Polarine, being introduced with great promise to the public, coincident with the publication of this message.

The success of the Stock Purchasing Plan is emphasized by pointing out that after being in effect nine years, approximately 75% of the stock distributed under this plan remains in the hands of employes—which demonstrates the value of employe partnership.

The Stock Purchasing Plan, the Annuity Plan and the Death Benefit Plan constitute the management's tangible expression of its appreciation of the unwavering loyalty and tireless efforts of the employes.

The Board of Directors is gratified by the constantly mounting number of stockholders—now 81,022. This is approximately 30,000 more than were of record a year ago.

With this rapidly spreading ownership it seems certain that 1930 will be another year of achievement—greater in progress, greater in opportunity to serve the millions of people who call the Middle West home.

CHICAGO STOCKS MOVE UPWARD TOWARD CLOSE

Winton Engine Earns $10.50 a Share.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Led by a few industrial and motor shares, Chicago stocks staged a healthy upturn in the later part of yesterday's trading session and closed the day with a number of substantial gains. Allied Products, Noblitt Sparks, Winton Engine, Auburn, and Kalamazoo Stove were in the van of the movement.

George W. Codrington, president of Winton Engine company, last night made public the report of the corporation for last year, showing record earnings and sales.

Net income for 1929 was $863,035, equivalent to $10.50 a share on the 77,092 shares of common stock. This compares with net of $463,130, equivalent to $7.83 a share on 40,000 shares outstanding at the end of 1928.

Unfilled Orders Steady.

The report shows that debenture bonds, outstanding to the amount of $1,000,000 were retired during 1929. Preference shares outstanding were reduced through conversion from 30,000 to 17,908 shares. Mr. Codrington stated that unfilled orders at the beginning of the year equaled the unfilled orders on hand at the beginning of 1928. The balance sheet as of Dec. 31 shows current assets of $2,517,318 and current liabilities of $856,242, which compares with $1,573,428 and $647,368 respectively at the end of the previous year.

Other industrials which chalked up good gains were Swift International, A. M. Castle, Jefferson Electric, Kalamazoo Stove, and Brown Fence B. Officials of the latter two firms report that no progress has been made toward a merger. Production of Jefferson Electric is reported to be holding up to expectations.

With the exception of Grigsby, which edged up a fraction, radios were weak. Discounting the action of directors in omitting the dividend which came late in the day, Wextark dropped 4½ points. The stock previously paid 50 cents quarterly. The first quarterly dividend of 50 cents was declared in April last year.

Auburn Shipments.

Investment issues were dull with the exception of Manhattan-Dearborn and Burnham, each of which gained more than a point.

The 7 point gain by Auburn followed a statement by Vice President R. H. Faulkner that shipments for the first quarter of the current year were slightly below the corresponding period of last year, but 18 per cent above the previous quarter. Shipments for the last quarter amounted to 4,051, as against 4,643 in the same period of 1929.

Utility stocks were less active and steady for the most part. Middle West was off a fraction, while United Gas rose ⅝.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—It was reported today that the initial financing for the new natural gas holding company to be formed by Electric Power & Light corporation and United Gas company will take the form of a $35,000,000 bond issue to carry warrants to buy United Gas company stock. Formal announcement of the merger, which will combine natural gas properties with annual output of approximately 175,000,000,000 cubic feet, is expected shortly. Total resources of the combination are estimated at $300,000,000.

BANKS EXPAND LOANS; REDUCE BOND HOLDINGS

Security Lending Is Above Year Ago.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The banks of the country still are finding it more desirable and probably more profitable to make loans on securities rather than to invest in them. They evidently have used the recent strengthening in bond prices to reduce their holdings and have expanded their loans in spite of easing interest rates.

The weekly report of the federal reserve board on the position of member banks shows that the reporting banks in the week ended March 12 expanded their loans on securities by $144,000,000, bringing the total up to $7,883,000,000, which also is $372,000,000 above a year ago. All other loans increased $10,000,000 to a total of $5,521,000,000, which, however, is $97,000,000 below a year ago.

On the other hand, the banks reduced their investments in government securities by $13,000,000, bringing the total down to $2,753,000,000, which is $282,000,000 below a year ago. Investments in other securities were also reduced by $13,000,000 and the total of $2,775,000,000 is $142,000,000 below a year ago. These banks reduced their borrowings from the reserve banks by $32,000,000, bringing total borrowings down to $95,000,000, which is $621,000,000 less than a year ago.

Prophets Differ.

Prophets of the business future continue to differ widely as to results this year, although most of them agree in expecting improvement later in the year.

"On the basis of current trends and prospects," the Standard Statistics company says, "a decided recession in aggregate net income of leading industrial corporations during the first quarter of 1930 may be looked for. Nothing more than seasonal improvement in the following three months, with the current half year as a whole showing a decline in profits of some 15 per cent as compared with the record levels of a year ago, is to be looked for.

"Should production be held strictly under control during the spring months, a foundation may well be laid for fundamental betterment in the latter half of the year, and production and profits in the final quarters may surpass those of the closing three months of 1929. For the full year, however, total returns probably will register a decline fully as great as the 17 per cent recession witnessed in 1927 as compared with 1926."

Lamont Makes Prediction.

Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont yesterday predicted a spread of easy money rates to the middle west from New York in the near future. This should prove a big factor in reviving construction work, which has been slowed down by lack of an adequate supply of cheap money. The construction programs of states and local communities also are being speeded up, and this factor should do much toward eliminating unemployment.

Mr. Lamont asserted that the states and cities have given remarkable cooperation to President Hoover in ameliorating the unemployment situation. An exact determination of the scope of unemployment will be obtainable in April or shortly thereafter when the census figures begin to come in. It will be the first time the government has obtained accurate data of the kind and will be kept up to date thereafter this year by special "sample" censuses.

Earnings Show Gain.

The Houdaille-Hershey corporation accomplished a sizeable increase in earnings last year despite the letdown in automobile production in the second half of the year. Net earnings for 1929 were $2,319,668, equivalent after allowing for $2.50 dividends on the class A stock to $4.64 a share on the class B stock. The A stock is convertible into B stock, share for share, and if such conversion were completed the earnings would be equivalent to $4.10 a share on the total capitalization. Net earnings for 1928, figured on a comparable basis, were $2,356,821, equivalent to $3.54 a share on the class B stock.

President Claire L. Barnes calls attention that changes in manufacturing operations were financed out of earnings, although they will effect economies which should increase earnings.

Scrutator Discusses Rail Rate Structure Theories

BY SCRUTATOR.

The Railway Business association, composed largely of manufacturers of and dealers in railroad supplies and equipment, is circularizing shippers all over the country with a suggestion that they get chambers of commerce to pass resolutions declaring for "a holiday from railway revenue reductions."

With the plea goes a suggested form for the resolutions which states that while ton mileage has been reduced by waterway and highway competition, the traffic so limited has been hauled at rates tending generally downward since 1921. It adds:

"All those engaged in overhauling rate structures can best promote business recovery by regarding advances to offset reductions as essential in every adjustment, so preserving intact whatever total revenue can be earned on the remaining traffic. Prosperity is never restored by reducing prices or costs."

Believe Traffic Fixed.

Here, as often happens in discussions of railway freight rates, is an expression of the opinion that traffic on the rails is something fixed and that all troubles can be solved by making the rate a little higher. It is noteworthy that in the suggested resolutions there is no mention that there be likewise a holiday against railway revenue advances.

The omission is important. Possibly the association has overlooked the point that the railroads' troubles, such as they are, are due not so much to lack of high rates as to lack of enough traffic to haul at the rates they have. In January of this year the class 1 railroads of the country had gross operating revenues of 451 million dollars as compared with 487 millions in the same month a year ago. The net operating revenue was at the rate of 3.98 per cent this time; the year ago figure corresponding was 5.71 per cent.

It was shortage of carloadings rather than lowering of rates that made the difference. The year 1929 was better as a whole than 1928 for the railroads because they hauled more goods. In view of this it seems a bit strange to plead that the way to prosperity is through rising prices.

Cites Present Tendency.

There are two interesting theories as to how a rail rate should be made. One is that the road should get what it costs to haul and a profit. The other is that the shipper should pay what the service is worth to him. On the second basis we have class rates. The charge for hauling a carload of mahogany logs is much higher than for hauling a carload of pine logs, although it is not claimed the road is more out of pocket on the first shipment. It is merely that the product can bear a heavier charge.

The present tendency of the interstate commerce commission is to attempt the application of mileage scales to all freight rates. The inevitable result of these will be to cut down the length of hauls. An inflexible zoning system that makes it cost the man with the mahogany logs $20 more to move his wood to the end of the first zone than the pine log man pays, $40 more to the second zone and $80 more to some other zone limits the shipments to the farther points. An unholy alliance of the cost and the value theories is built up to kill traffic.

The railroads might in each case where advances are requested be asked to furnish proof that they are not going to drive tonnage to other forms of transportation with the additional charge. More flexibility than the mileage scale permits is necessary before correct rates can be made.

HOCKING VALLEY, B. R. & P. REPORT ON 1929 ASSETS

New York, March 17.—The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh today issued its pamphlet report showing its balance sheet total assets of $74,296,145, compared with $74,600,663 at the end of 1928 and profit and loss surplus of $3,337,246, against $3,139,997. Current assets were $6,851,038 and current liabilities $2,128,693, as compared with $6,381,286 and $1,904,139, respectively, at the end of the preceding year.

The report of the Hocking Valley railway company, also issued today, shows total assets of $85,123,531 at the end of 1929 and total profit and loss balance of $25,794,632. These compare with total assets of $81,452,352 and profit and loss balance of $21,733,062 at the end of the preceding year.

World's Largest Bank Is Due Today Through Merger

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—The Chase National bank is expected to become tomorrow the world's largest bank, through merger with the Equitable Trust company and the Interstate Trust company with total resources more than $2,800,000,000.

The merger, reported in Wall street for the last fortnight, is scheduled to be voted at special directors' meetings of the Chase and Equitable at 2:30 o'clock, which will be followed immediately by meetings of their security companies to act upon the merger terms.

The National City bank, which has been the largest bank in America since 1897 and which lately has risen above the great Midland bank of London in resources, will gain approximately $600,000,000 in resources.

Probable Terms of Merger.

It is understood the terms of the merger will be four shares of Chase for five of Equitable, and that Interstate will be merged on a basis of two and one-half shares for one of Equitable.

The Interstate, a relatively small institution of $85,000,000 resources, occupies the quarters at 37 Wall street adjoining the Equitable, and was taken into the merger because its space was needed for the enlarged headquarters of the great bank.

Reports have it that Winthrop W. Aldrich, brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller Jr. and president of the Equitable, a "Rockefeller" bank, will become president of the enlarged Chase, while Albert H. Wiggin and Charles S. McCain, chairman and president of the Chase, will become chairman of the executive committee and chairman of the board. George B. Silzer, former governor of New Jersey, president of the Interstate, is expected to retire.

The vast consolidation, the first development this year in the bank merger movement, will give New York three banks with resources above $2,000,000,000, while London has two. The National City bank at the close of last year had $2,206,000,000, while the Guaranty Trust had about $2,017,000,00. In London the Midland and Lloyd's were over the $2,000,000,000 mark.

Deposits Exceed Two Billion.

The merged bank, with resources of nearly $3,000,000,000, will have deposits of almost $2,100,000,000 and capital funds, exclusive of affiliated companies, of nearly $360,000,000. At the end of the year the Chase had $1,714,829,000 resources and $1,248,218,000 deposits; the Equitable crossed the billion mark for the first time with $1,018,971,000 assets and $765,345,000 deposits.

The Chase National bank was founded 52 years ago and named for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's secretary of the treasury. It has been built up rapidly through mergers in the last few years. In 1921 it absorbed the Metropolitan bank, in 1926 the Mechanics and Metals National bank, in 1927 the Mutual bank, and in 1929 the Garfield National bank and the National Park bank.

PURE OIL CO. OFFERS ISSUE OF $20,000,000

One of the largest pieces of oil company financing in recent months will make its appearance today when the Pure Oil company will offer, through a banking group, an issue of $20,000,000 ten year 5½ per cent sinking fund notes at 97½.

The proceeds will be used to defray construction of a pipe line from the company's new field in Van Zandt county, Texas, to its refinery at Smith's Bluff, Tex., and for other corporate purposes.

New York, March 17.—Stocks veered upward anew today under the influence of easier money, a favorable news budget, and the improved tone of the commodity markets. More than fifty different issues climbed to new high price levels for the year.

United States Steel common returned to its old time position of market leadership, driving forward for a net gain of 4 points on the heaviest turnover in weeks. Most of the other so called pivotals kept step in the wake of the industrial bellwether and advances of 1½ to 3 points were scored by American Can, Johns-Manville, Westinghouse, Radio, General Electric, and other blue chip favorites.

T. A. T. OPERATES AT $986,590 LOSS DURING 1929

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—The annual report of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., for the year ended Dec. 31, 1929, including the operations of the Maddux Air Lines company from Aug. 1 to Dec. 31, 1929, show a loss of $986,590.

Commenting on the report, C. M. Keys, chairman of the board, said:

"While operating losses had, of course, been expected during the pioneer steps of this enterprise, these results were disappointing both in respect to gross volume of traffic and to cost of operations. Operating losses continued throughout the first quarter of 1930, though the rate reductions have greatly increased traffic and consolidation and drastic revision have reduced costs."

Total net profits of the 53 companies for 1929 were $152,143,402, compared with $136,862,366 in 1928, and $122,375,656 in 1927. The gain in 1929 was $15,281,036, or 11.16 per cent, as compared with an increase of $14,486,710 in 1928.

Insull Holding Co. Has '29 Net Income of $2,189,043

Freight cars galore—968,000 of them—ready, when and where needed—moved scientifically up and down some ninety thousand miles of steel rails. Accurately the Shippers' Advisory Board anticipates car loadings for all industries—reducing "dead" mileage; moving more goods with less cars; saving a billion dollars through the last ten years.

In every field, business men plot the future—combining known facts with shrewd foresight. Yet when these same business men invest hard-earned profits, all too often they cast aside the very rules which made those profits possible.

Investing is not a spare-time job. It requires, in most cases, more time and specialized skill than business men devote to their investments. That is why Moody's Services are used by 18,000 leading banks, investment brokers and individual investors. These clients realize that a small sum for expert counsel is worth its cost many times over because it increases investment yields and protects against needless losses.

Whether your problem is complex or simple, the flexible nature of Moody's Services offers you a distinctly personal aid and counsel. We will gladly tell you how one of Moody's Services can help you. No obligation, of course.

WHEAT PRICES RESIST SELLING; CLOSE IS HIGHER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat market showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure yesterday with strength abroad more than offsetting rain over a good part of the southwest. While the best prices were not maintained the close was at net gains of ⅛@1¼c with May finishing at $1.07¼c@1.07⅝, and July, $1.05¼@1.05⅝.

There was no pressure on the May delivery, and while the government was said to have bought comparatively little, the undertone was distictly firm with sufficient scattered buying developing to hold it above Saturday's finish throughout the day.

Despite the rain reports from the southwest there were numerous claims of crop deterioration from parts of the belt, and they had some effect on sentiment, with commission houses taking the July and September. There was some buying here against sales at Winnipeg by spreaders. Aggregate trade was not large.

Winnipeg Wheat Higher.

Part of the buying of wheat futures at Winnipeg was regarded as removing hedges against export sales with 600,000 to 700,000 bu sold in all positions. Futures there closed 1⅛@1⅛c higher with May showing the most strength. Liverpool gained 3@3¼d on short covering induced by small worlds shipments, and decreasing United Kingdom stocks. Germany is expected to pass an import duty sufficiently high to practically prevent purchases of foreign wheat.

Threatened rail strike in Argentina had some effect on the wheat market there with Buenos Aires closing 2c higher with May 97c or 10¼c under Chicago. Should a freight tieup occur it might have considerable influence on the export demand as Europe would be forced to turn to North America for supplies. Heavier takings of Manitobas are expected with the opening of lake navigation.

Despite the lack of foreign demand for American hard winter there has been a steady reduction in the visible supply, with a decrease of 2,168,000 bu the past week, making the total 153,561,000 bu against 123,514,000 bu last year.

Corn Shows Strength.

Corn market is receiving more attention from commission houses, and the market developed rather independent strength during the day, advancing as much as 2⅛c over Saturday's finish, only to react on selling by holders of offers and by longs, with the finish at net gains of 1@1¾c, May being 82⅛@82¼c, and July 83⅜c.

Wet weather over the belt with light receipts at terminal markets combined with an active cash demand were the bullish influences in corn. The east took 200,000 bu from local handlers, and there was an increase of only 525,000 bu shown in the visible supply with the total 24,745,000 bu against 34,298,000 bu last year. Buenos Aires closed 1@1½c higher for the day.

Cash and commission houses as well as shorts were on the buying side of oats and the close was ½@1c higher with May and July 42½@42⅝c. Seeding is practically completed in parts of central Illinois, weather conditions of late having been favorable for field work.

Free selling of March, May and July rye, generally credited to the leading longs failed to have much effect on the market, as there was aggressive buying by shorts and other interests. The close was at net gains of 1⅛@1⅝c, with May 60⅞, and July 63⅞c.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

A rally in wheat prices, with greatly reduced selling pressure and more encouraging news from abroad, created a belief among a good many careful observers that it is not wise to follow the selling side on sharp declines from this level at present. They say the decline has eliminated weak holders, created a liberal sized short interest, and brought prices to a level where they do not believe that there is much money to be made in pressing the short side, for a few days at least.

Those who expect extensive damage to the winter wheat crop are buying it on all setbacks, while crop optimists are taking advantage to secure profits on purchases made on breaks. There are scattered reports of damage from central Indiana and Illinois, due to winter killing and Hessian fly.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

There was a fair demand for cash wheat from abroad, but the business was confined to Manitobas with sales in all positions placed at 600,000 to 700,000 bu. Local handlers sold 3,000 bu wheat, 197,000 bu corn and 76,000 bu oats to the domestic trade. Deliveries on March contracts were 25,000 bu wheat and 27,000 bu corn.

ELECT DIRECTORS IN GULF STATES STEEL COMPROMISE PLAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—Representatives of the stockholders' committee of Gulf States Steel company, which recently settled a wide fight for proxies by an agreement whereby three new directors were to be elected to the board, were elected today at a special meeting of the board of directors of the company.

The new directors are Ferdinand Eberstadt, Frank Altschul, and G. Munro Hubbard, all of them agreed upon as the new directors at the time the agreement between the stockholders' committee and the management was made. Mr. Eberstadt and Mr. Altschul were elected members of the executive board of the company, after being elected directors.

The election of the new directors is the first move in a compromise plan arrived at when Otis & Co. and other stockholders formed a stockholders' committee to get proxies for use at the annual meeting to be held on March 24, to defeat a plan to increase the number of stockholders whose consent was required in order to sell the company from ⅓ to 2-3.

The fight for proxies was started due to the refusal of the management to give consideration to an offer from the Republic Steel corporation to acquire the company. It was a part of the agreement that resulted in the election of the new directors that the possibility of a merger with Republic Steel corporation would be given full consideration.

It is expected that an effort for the acquisition of the company will be tendered by Republic Steel corporation before the end of the week so that it can be submitted for action to stockholders at the annual meeting on March 24.

NEW YORK, March 17.—(AP)—RUBBER—Futures closed firm; May, 15.50c; July, 16c; September, 16.40c. Spot smoked ribbed, 15c.

LARD HAS SUPPORT

Buying of lard and bellies attributed to packing interests and investors, with no pressure of offerings, made a stronger market with a fairly active trade and a close at the top on the deferred futures and only 2½c off the best on May, with net gains of 17½c. May ribs were picked up readily and closed 37½c higher, with July up 25c. The advance was a surprise to the trade as hog prices were off 25@35 cents, with good arrivals, although the aggregate in the west was less than a week and a year ago. Cash trade was fair. Liverpool lard was 3d@6d lower and bellies lower.

Exports of lard for the week were 12,857,000 lbs and of bacon 6,313,000 lbs. Last year lard exports were 8,784,000 lbs and of bacon 3,395,000 lbs. Prices follow:

Predicts Normalcy Soon in the Radio Industry

New York, March 17.—(AP)—The radio industry, now more or less unsettled, will have returned to normal by summer or early fall in the opinion of Powell Crosley Jr., president of the Crosley Radio corporation. He predicted that by that time there will be fewer companies operating and these will have the advantage of low cost manufacture and valuable patents.

Allied Motor Industries Net Equals 47c a Share

Consolidated net income of Allied Motor Industries for 1929 was $211,600, equivalent to 47 cents a share on common stock outstanding at the end of the year, compared with net profits of constituent companies in 1928 of $340,317, or $1.33 a share on the smaller number of common shares then outstanding.

VAN SWERINGENS GET SUPPORT OF LARGEST BANKING HOUSES IN U.S.

New York, March 17.—[Special.]—The Van Sweringen interests of Cleveland, which have frequently made unusual moves in the railroad field, have decided upon the unique policy of having the support of two of the country's leading private banks, it was learned today.

J. P. Morgan & Co. have been bankers for the Van Sweringens ever since they entered the railroad field. Through the Alleghany corporation the Van Sweringens have acquired a controlling interest in the Missouri Pacific, for which Kuhn, Loeb & Co. are bankers. This relationship is to remain undisturbed.

It was learned that the Van Sweringens had holdings which gave them well over 20 per cent control in the Missouri Pacific. Unofficial estimates have given the Van Sweringens 31 per cent control. Both figures are above the percentage which the interstate commerce commission has held constitutes working control.

BUSINESS AND OWNERSHIP: The Edward Hines Western Pine Company, located at Burns, Oregon, is one of the units of the Edward Hines Associated Lumber Interests, which Interests are engaged in the manufacture and sale of lumber, and are the largest wholesalers of this commodity in the United States. They are the owners of several very valuable tracts of timber on which there is standing approximately 1,000,000,000 feet of merchantable timber and in addition control 1,000,000,000 feet of government timber.

SECURITY: These Debentures are issued under an indenture to the Detroit and Security Trust Company, as Trustee, and in the opinion of Counsel are the direct obligation of the maker, and constitute the only funded debt of the ASSOCIATED INTERESTS, who have covenanted in the agreement under which these Debentures will be issued that they will not (1) create any mortgage or other lien upon their properties; or (2) create any indebtedness having a priority over these Debentures; or (3) create any indebtedness having rank equal to these Debentures.

Further provision is made that the affiliated companies shall maintain net quick assets at least equal to the amount of principal of the Debentures outstanding, and that at all times the net tangible assets of the ASSOCIATED INTERESTS shall be at least three times the amount of the Debentures outstanding. Since organization 38 years ago the Associated Interests have distributed to their stockholders $8,683,460.53 in dividends.

Ten-Year 5½% Sinking Fund Gold Notes

To be dated March 1, 1930 — To mature March 1, 1940

Sinking Fund, payable semi-annually, to be sufficient to retire $1,000,000 principal amount of Notes in each year, beginning March 1, 1931, Sinking Fund moneys to be applied to purchase of Notes at not exceeding current redemption price or to their call by lot at such price.

Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee

A letter from Mr. Henry M. Dawes, President of the Company, copies of which will be furnished upon request, is summarized by him as follows:

Operations of the Company and its subsidiaries cover all phases of the petroleum industry and are well balanced as to production, transportation, refining and marketing. Its fixed properties are among the largest oil properties in the United States.

The proceeds of this issue are to be used for the construction of a pipe line from the Company's new field in Van Zandt County to its own refinery at Smiths Bluff, Texas, to fund the Company's floating debt incurred for the commencement of this operation, and for other corporate purposes.

The Notes are to be direct obligations of The Pure Oil Company and will rank equally with $18,000,000 Ten-Year 5½% Sinking Fund Gold Notes, due 1937, now outstanding. The Notes are to be issued under a Trust Indenture which will provide, among other things, that except in the case of purchase money mortgages and liens, and except in the case of pledges in the usual course of business as security for temporary loans or indemnities for terms not exceeding one year, the Company will not mortgage or subject to a lien or pledge any of its property without thereby securing these Notes ratably and equally with any and all obligations secured by such mortgage or lien or pledge.

The consolidated balance sheet of the Company and subsidiaries as of December 31, 1929 (the latest available), adjusted to give effect to this financing, shows fixed assets (after deducting depreciation and depletion reserves) of over $170,500,000, compared to total liabilities (including this issue) of $45,625,826. Current assets amounted to $36,416,343 and current liabilities to $7,625,826.

lore than 10 points. A. M. Byers, Hershey Chocolate, and Gest & Co. were other notable strong spots under this heading. Eastman Kodak finished with a 10 point jump to its credit.

Oils Show Strength.

Oils made an aggressive bid for front rank honors, dealings in some of the cheap petroleum issues assuming tremendous proportions. Steadily improving conditions in the industry, as far as the crude oil end is concerned, is the secret of the growing strength of this group. Many friends of these shares are convinced that the prospects for a tariff on petroleum are very bright and are buying on the theory that a real boom for oil stocks is on the way for this reason.

Simms, Pierce Petroleum, Transcontinental, Standard of New Jersey, Texas corporation, and Houston Oil were the favorites and the gain among them ranged as high as 4 points. Pool activities were prominent in a number of the faster stepping issues.

Issues Under Pressure.

Beatified issues were under pressure for special reasons. Lack of nearby demand, rather than any great amount of selling pressure, paved the way for a sharp drop in American Locomotive to levels within a small fraction of the low reached in the 1929 break.

Pressure on United States Industrial Alcohol caused selling of Air Reduction, which has holdings in the former. Alcohol was down more than 3 points in the early afternoon, but some support appeared in the late dealings and it recovered more than half its earlier loss. Another weak issue was Gillette Safety Razor which sold off some 2 points on persistent offerings.

Covering of the large short interest reported to be outstanding improved the tone of such recent bear targets as Simmons and International Telephone, both of which managed to wind up on the "plus" side of the column for a change.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 6,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs and 13,000 sheep.

After a barely steady opening, hogs on the cash trade showed declines of 15@25c, with closing sales off as much as 30@35c. The extreme top held at $10.80, while the general average dropped 20c more at $9.80, comparing with $10.20 last Friday and with $10.85 Wednesday of last week.

Medium and weighty stock broke sharpest again, showing losses of mostly 90c to $1.10 compared with the high spot middle of last week. Armour, Swift, and Wilson obtained nearly 6,000 hogs at the full decline leaving about 9,000 in the pens at the close. Five western markets expect 48,000 today, against 51,700 the previous Tuesday.

Hog Futures Decline.

The hog futures market was slow to start, but finished active at 30@35c decline, with trading confined largely to lightweights for April and May delivery. March finished at $10.40. April light opened at $10.50 and closed at $10.40, while May light sold at $10.40. A load of September light sold at $10.00, exactly $2.00 lower than two weeks ago.

Offers and bids on heavy grades for all months were 75c to $1.00 apart at the close. During the last two weeks about 6,500 hogs have been contracted for March and April delivery, 900 for May and 400 for September.

There was a decrease in cattle receipts yesterday, but with demand unusually narrow, concessions of 25c were being offered soon after the opening and some price cuts of as much as 40@50c were recorded near the close. Good grades shared in the general reduction, only a "handful" of well finished beeves passing the $13.00 line, with bulk of sales at $11.00@13.00.

One load of 1,100 lb long yearlings held the peak price at $15.00, which equals the lowest Monday top since May of last year. Cows and heifers were slow and mostly 25c lower. Calves showed little change. Stockers and feeders were scarce and steady to weak.

Yesterday's offerings exceeded requirements of the trade and prices were forced down 25c on a slow and unsatisfactory market, which finished as much as 30@40c lower in spots. A few fancy selections reached $10.75@11.00, with bulk of the supply of wool lambs at $10.15@10.50.

Stock without fleece sold at $9.40 and 81 lb yearlings brought $9.00. Matured stock showed little change, but was unusually scarce for Monday. Country demand for desirable shearing stock at $10.25@10.35 was fairly good in spite of the setback in fat lambs.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Spot butter continues in demand and prices advanced ½c. Fresh eggs sold at former prices. Live hens advanced 1c, with other poultry unchanged. Receipts, 3 cars by freight. Choice potatoes sold fairly at former prices while poor stock was easier. Wisconsins brought $2.20@2.50, and westerns, $3.00@3.35 per 100 lbs. Receipts, 144 cars, with 333 cars on team track.

TWO NEW ENGLAND RAILROADS ANNOUNCE NEW FINANCING PLANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 17.—Two New England railroads announced today plans for financing. The Boston and Maine and the New York, New Haven and Hartford notified stockholders that at their annual meetings they would be asked to approve the issuance of bonds, stock and equipment trusts. Actual amounts of the issues and the time of their appearance have not been announced.

The New Haven stockholders on April 16 will vote on a proposal to increase common stock and [or] authorize an issue of bonds, notes, debentures or other securities, which, at the discretion of the directors, may be convertible into common. The issuance of equipment trust shares or obligations not to exceed $10,000,000 will also be submitted to vote.

The Boston and Maine stockholders will be asked to authorize a new equipment trust agreement, the issuance of additional bonds under the mortgaged of 1919 and the issuance of 75,000 additional shares of 7 per cent prior preference stock to be exchanged for convertible general mortgage bonds. For the next three years not more than $7,500,000 of the bonds may be converted annually.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and injures one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swears to be revenged for the injury and pursue Jim. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house, where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house inquiring for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into the town, after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Pete Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Harrison Pendleton, an old mail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save him from arrest. Shortly afterwards Shear kills Doc Brown, who he claimed had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes into the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She tells him she has come to speak to her brother Steve. As they reach the table the lights go out, and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair dead, with Jim's knife in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood. She had become separated from Jim in the dark and some one had jostled her. In putting out her hand for support she had touched the crumpled figure. Jim and Ellen are questioned by the sheriff, Manders, and Jim is arrested, but is later released. Jim is determined to find the murderer to clear himself. Ellen arranges a meeting to warn him against Dave Moss, and Jim learns that Moss is trying to force her to marry his son Pete. He suggests that she marry him. They are quietly married and Jim goes on with his investigation.

INSTALLMENT XLIV.

VALUABLE INFORMATION.

Ellen came smiling into the room and hoped it wasn't true that Jim had ruined her life. She was, she said, bearing up very well so far.

"What's the good word from Newton?" Jim asked Jerry.

"No luck, far as that tinhorn Black goes. If he an' Joe Shear ever had a run-in the fact's not known in Newton."

"About what I expected," Jim admitted. "Have to cross him off our list of suspects, I reckon."

"But I bumped into something that's maybe right important. Young fellow called Slim Rogers roomed where I did. The place was crowded, so the landlady put us together. He's one of the Moss crowd, an' I kinda played around with him. The boy was some oneasy in his mind. I could see that. One night he got all corned up an' spilled the beans. He was scared of old Devil Dave, an' was laying holed up at Newton."

"I'll leave if you like," she said quickly.

Jim put his brown hand on hers with a swift pressure. "You can say anything you like before my wife," he told the cowboy.

"It cost me about a pint of tanglefoot to find out," Jerry went on. "He's scared because he knows too much."

"About the Shear business?"

Denver nodded. "He happened to go to the Moss house that night to ask when young Dave was coming to town. Seems he always has walked right in without knocking. Some one was talkin' in the back room where some of the boys sleep. Slim opened the door an' saw Sam with the old man. There was a basin on the table and a towel. Either Dave or Sam had been washing his hands. Soon as the old man saw Slim he threw the towel over the bowl and covered it. But he was too late. One of the two had been scrubbing blood from his hands."

"How is your patient, Doctor?" Ellen asked.

"What time was this?" Jim asked, tingling with excitement.

"Slim couldn't give me the time, but he says he was on Front street inside of five minutes and heard that Shear had just been killed."

"He saw a light in the boys' room from outside an' thinking the boys were in got some fool notion of surprising them. So he tiptoed in. When he come to think it over afterward, he got scared for fear he'd get what Shear had. So he lit out. Seems he'd been trying to break away anyhow an' couldn't quite make the riffle."

"Why not?"

"Search me. Reckon the old man had something on him."

"I'll bet he didn't leave any too soon," Jim said. "Think of him walkin' in on that suspicious old bird right then, and tiptoeing in at that, like he was trying on him. I'd stay holed up if I was Slim. He's certainly a bad insurance risk right now."

"O' course, next mornin' he denied everything he told me. Claimed he had been stringin' me. But me, I know when a man's scared. He jumped whenever a man came into the room onexpected. Figures they'll follow an' bump him off soon as they find out where he's at."

"Is he intending to stay at Newton? Can we find him there when we want him?"

"I'm surely much obliged to you, Jerry. You've taken a lot of trouble and done good work. How much do I owe you?"

Jerry mentioned the amount of his expenses and intimated that he would accept no more.

"Glad to do what I can for you," he said. "I never did like the Moss outfit anyhow. The whole caboodle of 'em wouldn't have stood up to Joe Shear in the open. Say what you want to about him, he'd go through from hell to breakfast. But, of course, he didn't stand a chance against old Devil Dave workin' in the dark. Say, boy, I hear you had a run-in with the bunch while I was away. Cleaned up on 'em, didn't you?"

"They jumped me an' I ran away, if you call that cleaning up on them," Jim answered. "I took a wild shot in the dark and hit Sam. They gave it out that he was badly hurt, but Doc Aubrey says the bullet made a clean shoulder wound."

"An' Buck Roe?"

"Buck bumped into something hard in my hand as I was hightailin' it down the street. He's mad as a bear with a sore paw, but otherwise undamaged, they say."

"Well, if there's anything more I can do for you, let me know."

"For instance?"

The cowboy shook his head. "I ain't on borrowing terms with them." He grinned. "You get 'em yore own self, boy. You're on their visitin' list to-night for frolics with them."

"The only thing they want to loan me is bullets. We're on shooting terms, but otherwise social relations are a little strained, as the old fellow said to the bear that had him treed."

"I'm awf'ly worried," Ellen told the cowboy. "It's all very well for Jim to make jokes about it, but I can't laugh at them when I know old Dave is sitting up in his room thinking up ways to . . . to trap my husband."

"I'll go soon as I've proved Dave or Sam Moss killed Shear," promised Jim.

And with that she had to be content.

As Jerry left the house a buggy drew up in front of it. Dr. Aubrey descended from it and walked to the front porch with the precise, even gait that marked him. He could have carried water on both shoulders.

"How is yore patient, doctor?" Ellen asked.

He smiled at her and cleared his throat. "I have more than one," he told her.

"I was thinking of Sam Moss," she said.

"Sam appears to be doing well physically, but like all of the family with whom I come in contact he appears mentally disturbed, consumed by an unholy restlessness. I have observed this in his father and in his younger brother, Peter. There is a rumor that Peter has been disappointed in love, but I hardly think that would explain his father's unease."

Ellen blushed and laughed. "I don't suppose old Dave ever was in love. He was born superior to such weaknesses. I am glad Sam is better."

"So am I," agreed Jim. "Any news about that other little matter, doctor?"

"Negative news," the doctor replied. "But even negative information is sometimes positive. When a physician finds certain symptoms lacking in a case under examination he can eliminate possibilities and concentrate on others."

"Yes," agreed Jim. He would have liked to eliminate verbiage just now.

Good Morning!

You really should see this one!

It's gangland stuff—with a grin. Ben Hecht, who wrote the story, has provided plenty of action, plenty of suspense, plenty of murder, AND—plenty of laughter. Charles Ruggles, famous for his portrayals of inebriated gentlemen, is chief chuckle gogetter. You have him lit, lovin', and otherwise, and he's funny practically all of the time. Another funny one is Jimmy Durante as Daffy, a waiter. His oft repeated line, "Just de tool of a dame," is irresistible—as he says it.

Mr. Ruggles is seen as a newspaper reporter sent to get bearings on another reporter who had been dispatched to secure a story on the bootlegging activities of one Horner, who operates a place not so far from the windy city where the newspaper office is located. The city editor, familiar with the ways of Hanson and unaware that he has been killed on duty, in philosophic fury (Is there such a thing? No.) sends the protesting William Bindbugel forth scouting into the cold, cruel world of roadhouse nights.

And what Mr. Bindbugel unearths . . . ! O, O.

ONE of the discoveries he makes is that the terrible Horner's girl is Lola, a girl he grew up with in Kenosha. But I wouldn't tell you what else he discovers, no, no, not me.

"Roadhouse Nights" is hectic and not always plausible, but there's not a faulty characterization in it. Fred Kohler is something grand as Horner. Helen Morgan plays Lola like a regular human being—and that's saying a lot. I've told you about Messrs. Ruggles and Durante and here insert the information that Mr. Donnelley as Keeley, the city editor, does his stuff as if he'd seen a city editor.

The direction is so good as to make the improbable ring possible. The film packs one punch after another, and with your hair on end, you smile, smile, smile. (Now there's an engaging portrait!)

Here's a picture of big city night life with a vengeance. And that means literally, for this piece sings of gangsters, cops, and a dashing, hating dark lady known as the star gangster's "girl," who is hell bent on getting even with a police inspector and decides to use the inspector's worshiped only son as her instrument of revenge. The usual underground layout is heavily featured and the action moves fast, furiously, and, it must be admitted, engrossingly, from stormy start to, well, the expected finish. (After the first reel or so you're never much in doubt as to what the outcome of the story will be.) Same is by Charles McArthur (he's named the good folks in the cast after himself), who gave us "Front Page" and has done some other nifty numbers.

Direction is snappy, cast a whizz, and the film's other necessities and luxuries are correspondingly to the taste.

Flyers Draw List for Aurora Classic Set for Next Fall

BY ROBERT WOOD.

The first plans for next fall's national air races in Chicago were laid yesterday at a conference of veteran flyers who met with Maj. R. W. Schroeder, director of the races, at the Curtiss airport in Glenview. After an all day meeting the flyers finished a tentative schedule of events for the annual speed classic.

The speed events, the airmen decided, will be designed largely to entertain the spectators. The more complicated races, which are of little interest to the aviators and less to the nonflyers, will occupy a minor place on the race program. For this reason almost half of the races held at Cleveland last year will be dropped from the lists and replaced by events of wider interest, Maj. Schroeder announced.

Even "flying fishermen" will have an opportunity to display their skill. The new event is a race for sportsmen pilots who fly amphibian planes for pleasure. These planes will take off from Chicago in the morning, fly 300 miles to a Wisconsin lake, fish for two or three hours, and race back to Chicago. The airplane party bringing back the largest string of fish in the shortest time will be awarded a trophy after all contestants have banqueted on the fish caught from their planes.

"In order to liven up the races practically all speed events will be given a racehorse start instead of taking off singly as in past race meets," Maj. Schroeder said. "The planes will line up abreast, take off at the drop of a flag, and fly a bee line to a pylon ten miles distant, so that when they circle back before the crowds the race will be well on its way."

There will be a new race for sportsmen flyers who pilot their own planes. Separate races of various kinds for open planes and cabin ships will be held.

Rules for the cross-country races will be drawn up at a second meeting of air officials, to be held at Curtiss field next Monday. Next month the Chicago Air Race corporation will establish headquarters at the Detroit aircraft show to enlist pilots for entry in the 1930 races.

At yesterday's meeting were Stuart Auer, governor of the Wisconsin chapter of the National Aeronautical association; Col. John M. H. Nichols, president of the Milwaukee chapter of the same organization, and Dan Kiser, head of the Curtiss flying service at Milwaukee, who flew to the meeting; John Livingstone, winner of the 1929 reliability tour, who flew here from Aurora; Arthur Killup of Lyons, Ill.; Cliff Henderson, director of last year's races, and Frank McKay, also connected with the 1929 air carnival.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

If you had to choose between love and a career, which would it be?

The Answers.

Mrs. N. K. Forster, 17 Forestdale Park, Calumet City, housewife — Marriage, any old time. I have been married for six years, and it's better than all the professional careers in the world. Mary Garden with all her talent and fame has nothing on any married woman.

Mrs. Emma Kopitsch, 1544 West 51st street, housewife—A career, because with one you are better off; you have more freedom. If you are married you are tied; that's plain English, but it's true. A career, and you are free; there's a chance for wealth, reputation.

Miss Evelyn Colburn, Downers Grove, Ill., secretary—Not being prepared for a career and also not being married I would choose marriage, as between the two, for my career. Marriage is the real career for any woman. I wouldn't mind having a profession; for instance, I like to write.

Mrs. Glover M. Young, 4853 North Lincoln street, housewife—I might as well choose marriage, because I am married and I have no career. I must hurry for I have a big career waiting for me at home. I have a baby, and that's enough career for a long, long while.

Mrs. Charlotte Kessel, 7 South Dearborn street, interpreter and secretary—I once thought that it would not be possible for a woman to be married and be happy and successful in a career also. My impression concerning this was obtained from the lives of actors and actresses. But I have changed my mind. I am now married and I have a profession, and I am happy.

Hoover to Visit Virginia Camp This Week-End

Washington, D. C., March 17.—(AP)—Even though the trout season will not be open, President Hoover has decided to make his first visit of the year to the Rapidan fishing camp in the Virginia mountains this week-end.

Keeping Busy, Edison's Idea of Real Living

Says Goldenrod Will Yield Good Rubber.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison does not expect to live to be 100 years old. He does expect, however, to keep busy until machinery has been completed for production of emergency rubber from goldenrod. The goldenrod soon will be planted on a large scale at the Henry Ford plantation near Savannah, Ga.

The 83 year old inventor said today he expected to continue working an average of 14 hours a day until his latest and "toughest" problem is solved.

"Give me five more years and the United States will have a rubber crop which can be utilized in less than 12 months' time," said Mr. Edison. He added that he guarded his health by strict diet and protection from inclement weather. He will remain in Florida until about June 15.

Asked when large scale planting of goldenrod is planned at the Ford plantation, Mr. Edison pointed to draftsmen working in the laboratory and replied:

"Right now I am working on machinery to extract commercial rubber from goldenrod. When the machinery is ready, we will start large scale planting. Goldenrod is a wonderful plant. We have discovered a variety that grows ten feet above a man's head, but by cross breeding we will produce a plant carrying 8 per cent fine grade rubber. That will be practical for an emergency crop."

Mr. Edison said he agreed with Mr. Ford's recent statement that man does not touch his reserve strength and that scientific knowledge is in its infancy. He does not think man has "tapped" the full extent of his brain power.

"I hear they have discovered a new planet," said Mr. Edison. "That's wonderful. There is hope for civilization as long as man probes into the unknown and keeps experimenting."

Commenting further on his health, Mr. Edison said he was living on a milk diet and at present was sleeping about seven hours a day.

"When I was a baby," he said, "I lived on milk and didn't like it. Now I have gone back to milk again. That's funny."

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

WHITFORD KANE celebrated St. Patrick's day and his thirtieth anniversary as an actor by staging a double bill of Irish plays at the Goodman theater last night. For a curtain raiser he offered that little classic of Irish dramatic literature, Yeats' "Cathleen ni Houlihan"; for the major item of the program he gave "Loggerheads," a comedy [or averted tragedy] of the sea coast of County Clare by Ralph Cullinan, an American actor of Hibernian antecedents. Altogether, it was a full evening of the good old brogue and the Abbey theater lilt.

"Loggerheads" is a derivative of the work of the Dublin school of playwrights. It characterizes until the characters are ripe with the flavor of the Ould Sod; it strolls at leisure through long stretches of rhythmic dialogue. It becomes melodramatic, but it subsides before blood is shed and the ancient feud upon which the plot was based is gratified. It is a pleasant echo of the Celtic cottage drama fostered by the old coterie at the Abbey—Lady Gregory, Yeats and Synge—and it aroused sentimental memories of the American tours of the Irish Players.

"Loggerheads" gave Mr. Kane the rôle of a sturdy fisherman who has nursed a hatred for the man who killed his brother, and the son of that man, who has the hardihood to want to marry his niece. In the climax of the second act he attacked the suitor with a "loy" [as the Irish say when they want to call a spade by its right name], but he was less successful with that blunt, heavy instrument than the hero of "The Playboy of the Western World."

Mr. Kane is too mellow and genial of temperament to be a hard hater and an ominous feudist; and that was the only thing the matter with his character study of Corny Halpin, the fisherman of County Clare. On other points he might easily have stepped directly out of the Abbey frame.

The other juicy rôle of the piece, Padna [The Fox] Collins, was well played by Louis C. Alter, a veteran of the Hull house group. He knows his way around the Irish repertory, although his racial inheritance probably traces back to another quarter of the globe. Sure, this author lad, Cullinan, must be an Ulster man to hitch a noble name like Collins to a mean, skulking, cowardly creature like Padna the Fox. 'Tis a sacrilege to the memory of Michael the Patriot, who died to make the Free State. There was a time in Ireland when this sort of thing would have started a theater riot.

In Donald Briggs, who appeared as the upstanding sailorman, courting the pretty young daughter with a eye on her widowed mother, Mr. Kane seems to have discovered a promising young actor. He had the air of belonging to the stage, and "juveniles" of his type — stalwart, virile, and breezy — always are welcome recruits for the footlights. Young Mr. Briggs would make an excellent addition to the permanent Goodman company.

"Cathleen Ni Houlihan" went well enough with Lora E. Cooney as the Poor Old Woman, a rôle that carries overtones of the well remembered voice of Sara Allgood. Yeats put the soul of his people into this little play, and it belongs to history, for it was a part of the background of the Irish revolution.

The evening was an occasion. The clan of Kane [whose motto is "A stroked cat is mild"] filled the Goodman. There were demonstrations of enthusiasm; there were speeches; there was a presentation to Mr. Kane of a watch from his colleagues of the Goodman company. The ceremonies were almost as spirited as those which attend the opening of the baseball season.

French Author Points to U. S. as World Chief

Tells Meaning of Silk Stocking Era Here.

BY ANN SOMERS HOUSE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, March 17.—"Can you picture the American girl without silk stockings and without a motor car?" asked André Siegfried, French author of "America Comes of Age," here the other night in a lecture at Brussels university. He answered himself "Why, she wouldn't be any more the American girl."

"I surveyed the United States in 1901, when that country's exports were 75 per cent raw materials and the nation was economically independent," the French economist recalled. "The country was conscious then of its independence and of its impunity from any reprisals.

"That feeling of independence and impunity still survives; but the economic situation has changed radically in the United States. The nation's exports now are 66 per cent composed of manufactured goods. Imported raw materials, for instance, include rubber for the tires of 24,000,000 motor cars. Silk is another big item. Now just imagine if the rest of the world cut off America from raw rubber and raw silk supplies, what would happen? . . ."

Then M. Siegfried lined up an impressive array of figures, some of them the latest data. He returned from the States only about six weeks ago.

"The United States," he said, "is the richest and most powerful nation in the world, and her civilization is the most representative of material progress. The United States has 6 per cent of the world's population and owns 5.7 per cent of the world's surface; but also owns 83 per cent of the world's motor cars.

"In all leading branches the United States can boast of more than 20 per cent of the world's production and consumption and sometimes as high as 80 per cent. The United States does this with hardly 6 per cent of the world's population.

"The United States is forced to sell surplus production abroad. Of all American motorcycles, 60 per cent go abroad, 40 per cent of all American made typewriters, 20 per cent of the sewing machines, and 10 per cent of the motor cars.

M. Siegfried broached a subject which always fascinates Europeans.

"In most cases the United States doesn't resort to military intervention. When that nation did, it was done to protect the lives and property of citizens.

"American intervention, mostly is financial, though. There is an American theory that Europe should not be allowed to lend important sums of money to any Central or South American state. You can have such beautiful theories, too. But you've got to have the money to step in and say: 'Well, here are the funds; I'll lend them to you.' The United States has got the cash.

"I don't fear Americans when they want to harm my country; but I do dread them when they want to do me some good.

"Americans have a frightful missionary spirit, and they firmly believe in the wickedness of European and other nations. Their foreign politics is crowded with contradictions."

BEG YOUR PARDON

A. Cotzworth Jr., general passenger agent of the Burlington railroad, objects to the failure of THE TRIBUNE to mention the Burlington in an editorial of Feb. 23, wherein the accessibility of Chicago to Century of Progress visitors was pointed out. The omission of the Burlington from a list of trunk lines mentioned in the editorial was inadvertent.

In an account of the murder of John Rito, THE TRIBUNE yesterday gave the address of his cousin, Joseph, as 5235 Van Buren street. Joseph Rito lives at 5325 Van Buren street.

In an account of the murder of the election judge, Mrs. Ida M. Doyle, on Monday, the name of another election worker was given as Mrs. Mary Pasten, 155 West 31st street. The correct name is Mrs. Helen Fisher Pasten.

Art Collection Willed to Harvard, If Old Setting Is Duplicated

New York, March 17.—(AP)—The William Hayes Fogg museum of art at Harvard university is to receive a new art collection, provided there can be found in the museum or be constructed there three rooms approximately the same size of those now housing the collection in the home of the late Mrs. Nettie G. Naumburg in West 67th street.

In her will filed today, Mrs. Naumburg specified that the collection, which occupies the living and dining rooms and entrance hall of her home, be moved intact to the museum and set up with windows and ceilings approximately the same height from the floor and the dimensions of the rooms exactly the same.

Mrs. Naumburg set aside a $100,000 fund for the removal of the collection to Cambridge, and another $25,000 fund for its upkeep.

Harvard university must accept the collection within six months of the date of Mrs. Naumburg's death and it must be removed within three years. She died March 6.

The university must meet any removal expense more than $100,000, and if the terms are not complied with, the collection will go to the Cleveland Museum of Art under the same provisions, otherwise the collection will be divided among the heirs.

Mrs. Naumburg was the widow of Aaron Naumburg, hat manufacturer. She specifies that the collection be known as the Aaron and Nettie G. Naumburg rooms and be used for receptions, musicales and as an auditorium for visiting artists at Harvard.

98 Garden Clubs Enter Flower Show Contests

Ninety-eight clubs, of which 79 are in the Chicago area and 19 from central and southern Illinois, will make 361 separate exhibits in the club competitions at the fourth annual Chicago Garden and Flower show opening in the Hotel Sherman March 28 and continuing to April 5.

This information was presented in the final reports of the club contest committees of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs during a meeting at the Hotel Sherman yesterday. Mrs. Charles E. Caldwell, president, presided.

After the meeting the women inspected work in the exhibition hall of the hotel where lifesize gardens are being built for the show and work is nearing completion on the "sky garden." The architectural features of this sky garden have been designed by Nimmons, Carr & Wright, architects; the Common Brick association has done the building, and the Lincoln park commissioners are providing the plant material.

2,000 ENGINEERS TO MEET TODAY FOR SAFETY CONFERENCE

More than 2,000 safety engineers will meet at the Palmer house today to attend the 8th annual midwest safety conference under the auspices of the Chicago safety council. City Treasurer Charles S. Peterson will preside.

Accidents in industry, on the public highways and in homes will be discussed by the delegates. Safety in street traffic will be discussed by Leslie Sorenson, city traffic engineer. Coroner Bundesen will be one of the speakers.

William R. Dawes, banker and chairman of the committee on protection of railway grade crossings and major highway intersections of the Hoover conference, will preside over the street and highway traffic session.

Blind Charges of County Show 44 Per Cent Increase

The number of blind persons receiving relief from the county has increased approximately 44 per cent since June 1, 1928. The number now receiving relief is 1,023, as compared to 710 in 1928. The figures were released yesterday by President Cermak of the county board.

The increase is attributed by Joseph L. Moss, director of public welfare, to the fact that the blind are becoming acquainted with this source of revenue. The pension for a blind person has been raised from $250 to $365 a year.

In 1929 there were 142 persons under the age of 30 receiving the blind pension, 358 were between 31 and 50, 319 between 51 and 70, and 152 past 70.

Methodist Group Urges $20,000,000 Reserve for Pensions System

New York, March 17.—(AP)—Development of a reserve fund of $20,000,000 in the Methodist Episcopal church for the pensioning of pastors who have reached the age of 65 was recommended in a report issued today by the church's national commission on the reserve pension fund.

The report proposed that the pension system go into effect March 15, 1931. The pensions would be equivalent to one-half the average salary of the pastors in each conference.

The commission pointed out that in some cases the pensions would be unusually small because of the size of salaries.

Eight Paris Mannequins Parade to Show Styles

The eight Paris mannequins who came here Sunday to show first hand the latest styles in Paris, went on parade yesterday morning at Mandel Bros., whose seventy-fifth anniversary celebration starts formally tomorrow with a luncheon for various notables and will continue seventy-five days. During that time a historical, industrial, and art exhibit will be shown.

Spring Frocks Will Appear at Lenten Lectures

BY THALIA

Fashionable women are attending "openings" these days. This indicates that shortly they will blossom forth in new clothes, a sure prescience of spring.

New clothes stimulate the provision of occasions on which to wear them, and so the social calendar thrives.

If madame has provided herself with a modish new suit and a chic and becoming new hat she doubtless will wear them to the Orientals' lecture tomorrow afternoon at the Art institute, or to one or the other of the Lenten lectures.

If she has acquired one of the lovely new lace dinner dresses trailing, and of pale and lovely hue, she may be enthusiastically inclined to attend the Russian party at the Petrushka club on April 8.

The Orientals of the Art institute announce a lecture by Dr. Arthur Upham Pope, advisory curate of Mohammedan art of the institute, on "Recent Discoveries in Persian Architecture." It is to be given in Fullerton hall of the Art institute tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Invitations go out today for the dinner-dance and special entertainment to be given for the benefit of the Russian world war invalids. Col. Michel Lasaref has instigated the affair, and a committee of prominent women are lending their support to it.

Mrs. Walter S. Brewster is chairman, and the other members include Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Mrs. William Mitchell Blair, Mrs. John R. Wintersbetham Jr., Princess Clarissa Cantacuzene, Princess Rostislav, Miss Frieda Foltz, Miss Dorothy Ranney, and Mrs. Howard Linn. Barrett Wendell is the treasurer.

An extra talk has been added to the series on "Man, a Cosmic Being" given by Miss Peanne de Mare. The third of the talks on "Rosicrucian influence—Past and Present" was given yesterday afternoon at the apartment of Mrs. Chauncey Blair of 1500 Lake Shore drive, and the added lecture on "Ancient Mysteries and Modern Music." Miss de Mare will give tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The talks given within the last few days at the residences of Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick Mrs. Waller Borden, and Mrs. Blair have been popularly and fashionably attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Freund of 5730 Woodlawn avenue gave a luncheon yesterday for Baroness Militz and Mr. and Mrs. von Bredow.

Mrs. William L. Hodgkins of 1430 Lake Shore drive has returned from a two months' trip to Havana and southern California.

Miss Virginia Chapin, daughter of the Simeon B. Chapins, and Francis Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Drake, who are to be married on April 31 in New York City, returned last yesterday after a week's visit with the Drakes. One of the diverting parties they attended during their stay was a supper party at which Burton Holmes and William Gillette were also guests.

Edgar Gibson Crossman Jr., who was born on Sunday in New York City, just missed arriving on St. Patrick's day, as his grandfather, Dr. Patrick J. H. Farrell did. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gibson Crossman. Mrs. Farrell is in New York and Dr. Farrell plans to go down next week to see the new baby. The former Helen Farrell Caldwell will probably visit in Chicago next summer.

The Farrells have moved from their apartment on North State street to one at 400 Belmont avenue, so that the grandchildren who come to visit them can frolic in the park nearby. The Greatsinger Farrells, who have been in the orient for the last year or so while Capt. Farrell has been on duty in China with the U. S. marine corps aviation, are sailing for this country, and are henceforth to be stationed in Washington.

Mrs. Charles C. Willson of the South Shore View hotel has gone to Louisville, where she resided formerly, for a visit. From there, she plans to go to Atlanta, Ga., and then to Knoxville, Tenn., returning in the late spring.

Mrs. Robert H. Hunter of 1500 Lake Shore drive and her daughter, Miss Ruth Hunter, and Mrs. Maurice Van Arsdale of Kenilworth are sojourning at Edgewater Park, Miss., for a fortnight.

The Smith college girls returning this week for their spring vacation include Miss Inez Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Webster of Kenilworth, who will be accompanied by her room mate, Miss Katharine Manning of Lawrenceville, N. J., who is to be her house guest.

Greece Confers Honor on Jane Addams for Work

Cabled dispatches from Athens brought the news yesterday that the Greek government has conferred the military medal of merit upon Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, founder and head of Hull house, for services to the Greeks. The decoration was also conferred on Amelia Francesca at the same time.

Miss Addams, who is at Tucson, Ariz., was mildly surprised when informed there last night of the honor. She disclaimed any personal credit, explaining that the probability was that the Greeks meant to honor Hull house staff through her, and to recognise the friendly relations that exist between the famous settlement and Greeks in this country.

"Personally I was not in Greece during the war," she said, "though some of our staff was. So I think if the medal has been conferred as reported it is a recognition of the friendly attitude of Hull house toward the Greeks and to show their appreciation of what we do for them."

Physicians Favor Use of Cascara

Doctors who warn against the use of violent, habit-forming purgatives will tell you that cascara is one of the gentlest and most beneficial laxatives known to science. Cascarets are nothing but pure cascara, sweetened with cane sugar and flavored with licorice. You can take them any time that Nature needs a little help with the process of elimination—and never experience any discomfort, nausea or unpleasant after effects.

You can easily tell when you are suffering from faulty elimination. You feel listless, out of sorts, perhaps your tongue is coated or you have a bilious, headachy feeling. Cascarets will clear up this sluggish feeling every time and soon have your system functioning as it should. You needn't hesitate to give them to children or old folks either.

Cascarets always act, and they always act the same way; gentle but thorough. They don't stir up the stomach or upset the system, but they cleanse the entire thirty feet of bowels in one comfortable, thorough action that leaves the system sweet and clean. You'll wake up feeling like a new person; tongue uncoated, breath sweetened, eyes bright, appetite on edge, life worth living again!

Take a delicious, candy Cascaret the next time you have that sluggish feeling—or give them to the children when they are out of sorts. Full medical endorsement proves the principle of Cascarets is right.

The light of knowledge being held aloft, with its rays penetrating the darkness of ignorance, is symbolized in the official seal to be used by the Chicago Woman's club in its fight against cancer. The seal was selected from seventy entries by a jury yesterday at the club, 72 East 11th street. It will be used in the seal sale next month to raise funds so knowledge of cancer may be available especially to the people of Illinois.

The winner was Lyman M. Simpson, 9124 La Crosse avenue, Niles Center, who will be warded a $100 prize. A silver cup for the best design offered by a student of the Chicago Art institute was won by Forrest F. Tilley, who gave his address as the Art institute.

Both will receive the awards on March 27. Then the cancer educational committee, which sponsored the contest, will hold a private showing at the Woman's club of the Canti films picturing cancer in action. At that time the board of the Illinois State Federation of Women's clubs will be guests.

"The majority of the entries was exceptionally good," Mrs. Frederick A. Lorenz, chairman of the committee, said.

The winning seal is done in Chinese red, black and yellow, and bears the slogan, "Fight Cancer with Knowledge." The jury included Frank G. Logan, president of the Chicago Art institute; Mrs. Henry Hoyt Hilton, president of the Chicago Woman's club; Miss Alice Roullier, Mrs. J. Kibben Ingalls, donor of the prize, and Mrs. Lorenz. The competing designs will be on exhibition at the club for the rest of the week, beginning tomorrow.

Women Wear Old Styles, Deciding They Are Not for Today

A vision of what women are coming to if the new styles go back much further was seen yesterday. Fifty members of the girls' club of H. O. Stone & Co. appeared in hoop skirts and other old styles at the company's 95th anniversary.

"Imagine running an adding machine while wearing these leg o' mutton sleeves I have on, my dear," another suggested.

"For one, I hope we don't go back to this," one girl said, pointing to the "rat" in her hair, by means of which she had made an imposing pompadour.

"We all have come to the conclusion it took much more courage for our predecessors to go out into the cruel world to work, dressed in petticoats 16 yards wide and rustling skirts, not to speak of herring bone stays, than it does for us to work," said the club president, Miss Bonnie McKean.

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poison by paring them. Statistics show that many deaths have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callous. Immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily with the fingers—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy normal condition.

This, together with the fact that Ice-Mint overcomes such affections as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably responsible for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn and people are warned to stop it.

Edward Bruce Turns from Banking to Art and Succeeds at It

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An exhibition of paintings by Edward Bruce opened yesterday in the Anderson galleries. In the light of the severe beauty of his landscapes, the majority of them painted in Italy, an account of the artist is of interest.

Mr. Bruce comes of a family which has lived in New York for nine generations, so runs the preface to his list of titles. He graduated from Columbia university, where he played tackle on the football team, studied and practiced law, and later went into banking.

Banking took him first to the Philippines and later to China. There he lived some ten or twelve years. He became a collector and connoisseur of Chinese art: a collection of his Chinese paintings and objets d'art is in the Metropolitan museum. During his trips to America he augmented his Chinese collection by buying contemporary American art and Italian primitives.

Mr. Bruce had studied in his youth with J. Francis Murphy and continued his painting at odd intervals, finally he yielded to the urge to paint and retired from business to take up art as a profession. He and his wife went to Anticoli, Italy, and that town has been his headquarters for the last three years. It is remarkable the success he has met with. He triumphed in his Paris exhibition last year, has won first honorable mention at the recent Carnegie international, and a later one man show held in Pittsburgh was a success.

His full life and generous antecedents undoubtedly have something to do with his grasp upon painting. He paints with wisdom and assurance. He resolves his landscape to its least common denominator and depicts the skeleton with resolution. His color sings through the attenuated design. The Grecian ideal of simplicity is never far from his thoughts. Yet with this primitive austerity goes hand in hand a feeling for romance and drama and color, and the rare combination yields a rich harvest of memorable paintings.

The exhibition will continue through the month.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

Beautiful gardens through better designing, planting, and care will be the goal of a three day program which the horticulture department of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, plans at the second garden club week, March 19 and 21, at Urbana. The sessions, which are expected to drawn an attendance of 225 or more, were arranged at the request of the Garden Clubs of Illinois, of which there are 90 in the state.

Following a welcome by Dean H. W. Mumford of the college of agriculture on the afternoon of March 19, the garden lovers will hear O. G. Schaffer, in charge of the division of landscape architecture, trace the development of landscape architecture in the United States. K. B. Lohmann, a member of the division, will conclude the first afternoon's program with a talk on "Planning to Make the Home Town Livable."

Modern tendencies in architecture and their influence on landscape architecture will be traced by Rexford Newcomb of the university department of architecture in an evening address on the first day of the meeting.

The program for the second day includes "What Constitutes Good Landscape Planning," by S. H. White of the division of landscape architecture; "Growing Herbaceous Perennials and Annuals from Seed," by H. B. Dorner, chief of the division of floriculture; "Pruning and Care of Trees and Shrubs," by I. L. Peterson of the division of landscape architecture; "Garden Planting Design," by Miss Florence B. Robinson, a member of the same division; "Maintenance of the Lawn," by S. W. Decker of the division of floriculture, and "Plants for the Rock Garden," by Dorner.

"Our National Parks" is to be the subject of the evening address by Dr. C. F. Hottes, head of the department of botany, on the second day of the course.

The morning of the third day will be given over to "Latest Developments in Insect Control," by W. P. Flint, chief entomologist of the Illinois state natural history survey; "The Fertility of Garden Soils," by F. F. Weinard of the division of floriculture, and "The Garden Club of Illinois," by Mrs. Frederick Fisher, Lake Bluff, president of the organization.

The final afternoon will be taken up with a chalk talk by White, Schaffer, and Miss Robinson on "How a Landscape Architect Develops His Plans."

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A year ago a girl and a young man from the same place of employment ran away and got married. Two months ago the girl left her husband because of his constant drinking. After living apart for a week they found they could not live without each other, so they got an apartment and started over again.

Neither the girl's mother nor the young man's will have anything to do with the pair. The young husband has given his promise never to drink again. The girl is now happy with him, but her happiness is marred by the attitude of the respective mothers.

That is setting out on the marriage venture handicapped. In spite of all that is said and written about mothers-in-law, it is pretty nice to have their affectionate approval, and the unbroken devotion of one's own blood parent.

But when a young couple make up their minds to run away and get married without telling their parents anything about it, they take the chance of creating a hurt from which slow recovery only can be expected. It is an unkind thing to do to a parent who has done a great deal for a boy or girl. It does seem as though more is due him or her.

There are cases, of course, where strong opposition on both sides would seem to justify a wedding to which the objectors are not invited. But if a daughter and her parents, or a son and his parents, are on amicable terms up to the moment of the big decision, it is a deep hurt to be cast aside as if they (the parents) counted not a whit in the young lives.

The thing is that parents do count, as Helen K., the bride of a year, is finding out. Their good graces count. They mean a great deal to a young pair's happiness. And while nothing can be done about the secret marriage blow delivered both parents in Helen's case, it may be a bit of an eye opener to other young couples on the verge of doing the same thing.

If one is happy in her or his marriage, he and she want their own kin to share that happiness with them. Or, if unhappy, there is nothing like the good old mother's shoulder to weep one's troubles out on.

Pink Supplants White on Afternoon Frocks

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—The true Parisienne has always preferred dark costumes for town wear. She bursts into the gayety of pastel tones down south, but she realizes that even the most hermetically sealed limousine cannot guarantee spotlessness to the light frock in the general dust whirl of modern Paris. So she takes out that spring urge for freshness by dressing up the somber costume with false fronts and kippy cuffs of fine lingerie and with frivolous frills that contradict the serious impression of dark colors.

Pink bids fair to be queen of the May in the spring openings and this rosy tone has supplanted white for the lingerie touches that add individuality to the fashionable effect.

This black crêpe de chine for afternoon wear in town puts up a fair front of pink lingerie. And pink and black, you know, are the favorite combination for the two color costumes so much worn along the Riviera and which promise to be an important feature of the Paris couturiers' showings. It's from Martial and Armand, whose witty creatrice, Madame Vallet, excels in making chic frocks for young girls and slender women. All-over eyelet embroidery honeycombs the fair front of sheer linen and its gay cuffs, which are divided in the middle by a little plaited ruffle of the same.

Three cutaway flounces divide the slender skirt into tiers. They are finely knife plaited in front and plain behind. A belt of black crêpe de chine with a pink enameled buckle defines the really natural waist. The tiny elbow cape is flounced to match the skirt. It is detachable and is held on by a soft scarf which may be thrown round the neck or tied in a bow under one ear. In the sketch it hides a tiny standing frill of the pink lingerie.

Women Are Looking Taller 'n' Taller in These New Dresses

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Women are looking taller lately, it seems to me. Following the trend of architecture they seem to go more and more skyscraperish, don't they? That's what you think, anyway, if you're on the sidelines at a fashion review. Perhaps the low down furniture, called modern, into which you are forced to squat your own noble height lends to the illusion. Or, maybe it is just the dwarfed complex possessed by a gal whose Da-Da is neither a bootlegger nor a Newport taxpayer, when said gal goes to see a display of dresses, every one of which she'd like to own.

Anyway, for some reason or other, at a recent fashion parade the height of the models seemed almost Woolworthish!

Yet, I read the other day in some statistics supplied by a life insurance company that over fifty per cent of our women are less than five feet four. It must be the skirts that are shooting them up overnight.

On a social occasion one of the young women assisting the hostess looked to my fairly well trained eye to be five feet ten. I overheard one of those women, who when she wants to know something resorts to direct questioning, inquire of the girl how tall she was. The girl politely responded with the answer that she was five feet six and a half in her stocking feet. It seemed incredible that she was not five feet nine in her stocking feet. But the heels on her shoes gave her quite a lift. I noticed later, also, that her extremely slender body and sleekly outlined head led to the long unbroken line.

A nice thing that will come out of this tall girl vogue is that a lot of hitherto foolish embarrassment about height will be dissipated. Tall girls I have known have been ridiculously sensitive about their height. They have resorted to flat heels, slumping posture and other subterfuges to disguise their height.

Yet a couple of the rarest beauties of the last few years are women who admit to five feet nine and who never tried to minimize their number of inches. Stunning creatures they are, carrying themselves beautifully and wearing clothes gorgeously.

Boy Asks for a Drum.

SPAIN WILL BURY EXILED DICTATOR AS NATION'S HERO

(Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.)
MADRID, March 17.—Spain will accord Primo de Rivera a military funeral with the honors of a captain-general, the highest tribute she can pay her dead. This was decided by the government at a council of ministers today. Primo will be the first to have received this honor in fourteen years.

Crack troops from all arms will take part. According to the latest plans, the ex-dictator's body will reach Irun, on the Spanish frontier, Tuesday morning and will be received with military honors. A special train will leave Irun at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday, stopping at all principal towns en route and will arrive in Madrid about 7 a. m. Wednesday.

Cortege to Skirt Madrid.

The body will be taken to San Isidro cemetery for burial. This means the procession will merely pass through the outskirts of the capital where Primo ruled so long.

It is taken for granted that the king will be represented by proxy, probably one of his sons, as it is against custom to be present at any burial except that of an active premier. Alfonso has followed this custom rigorously in the past, attending the funeral of the famous Eduardo Dato but not that of Antonio Maura, who was not in office when he died.

The country has received the news quietly and there seems to be a tendency to bury Primo's acts with his body and excuse his mistakes. It is felt the general's passing has removed what might have been a disturbing factor from the political arena.

France Pays Him Tribune.

PARIS, March 17.—Primo de Rivera's coffin lid was closed down over him tonight as he lay in cassock and cowl, his hands clasped over a chaplet of amethysts and his bare feet resting on a cushion of Parma violets—certainly the strangest garb ever devised for a dead soldier. Then he was borne through Paris streets to the Austerlitz station and aboard a baggage car of an express train for Madrid.

A funeral mass was celebrated this morning in the hotel room where he died and attended by his daughters, Carmen and Maria Pilar; his son, Miguel, and Senorita Mercedes Castellanos, his onetime fiancé. Rene Godard, the French painter who did the last portrait og Georges Clemenceau, was summoned to paint the dead grandee in his coffin.

At the courtyard of the station a regiment of colonial infantry presented arms, and a squadron of mounted republican guards drew their sabres as the little procession passed. Marshal Petain, the one armed Gen. Gouraud, Andre Maginot, French war minister, and representatives of President Doumergue and Premier Tardieu entered the baggage car to pay their last respects as the infantry band played the Chopin funeral march. A little later the train pulled out.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Inspection

Radio Turns Green in Honor of Irish Saint

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Modern fiddlers, harpists, woodwind pipers and the other members of the orchestral family and singing sons and daughters of Erin, as well as other members of the solo and choral family, gathered last night as of one large family in the broadcasting studios to do honor to St. Patrick and to the harms of Ireland's sweet native music, with its historical and romantic background.

The Gypsies, for a night, exchanged their red and brown habiliments for the distinguishing green, from New York through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8. And we had "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" from the male quartet; "The Irish Washerwoman" (Sowerby arrangement), "Molly on the Shore" (Grainger arrangement), and rounds and rounds of country and county and village dance tunes and folk tunes.

Strangely, the Family Party concert, from New York through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9, was not mainly Irish, though it included selections by Herbert. But it had "The Beautiful Galathea" overture by Suppe, and any one not knowing the composer might think this were a Johann Strauss creation. The program was full of tremendously dainty, sweet flowing music.

It was an Irish program by the Rochester Civic orchestra, through KYW, 9 to 9:30. Sowerby's "Irish Washerwoman," "Irish Rhapsody" (Herbert), an overture by Stanford, and "The Last Rose of Summer" as a soprano solo.

To my knowledge, the one special Emerald isle concert requiring the greatest amount of effort on the part of the participants was that by the Le Roy Wetzel singers, W-G-N, 9:30 to 10. The ancient "Harp That Once Thro' Tara's Halls" and other fine numbers were sung by the entire group; "Molly on the Shore" (Grainger) was pictured to us by the concert orchestra, and "The Last Rose of Summer" was again heard as a soprano solo.

EX-GOV. SMALL BATTLES BLAZE; HIS BARNS BURN

Kankakee, Ill., March 17.—[Special.]—Fire destroyed two brick barns on former Gov. Len Small's farm at the edge of town tonight. Small estimated the damage at $15,000, part of which is covered by insurance, he said.

Small, his sons, Leslie and William, and a score of hired hands tried first to quench the blaze with buckets. Soon a call was sent to Kankakee and two fire trucks responded, but their hose lines were too short to reach from the barns to the river bank a quarter mile down the slope.

Attracted by the fiery sky, 2,000 persons motored from town to view the blaze. Some of these came in trucks, which the former governor pressed into service conveying water from the river in milk cans.

Wearing a slicker and helmet snatched from a fire truck, Small personally directed the fire fighting, but the brick barns burned to the ground, destroying hundreds of tons of hay and ten colts. The former governor believes a cigaret flicked away by a tramp, started the blaze.

HUCKINS CASE MAY GO TO JURY BY TOMORROW

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 17.—[Special.]—Evidence presented by Verne Marshall, managing editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette and Republican, that George Huckins had denied he and his father, Elmer Huckins of Hancock, Wis., were in the cigar business, but that the former had said his attorney knew as much about it as they did, marked testimony for the state this afternoon in the trial of George Huckins on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.

Investors in the Huckins scheme have testified Huckins explained he was in the cigar business, while W. J. Barngrover, Huckins' attorney, had told the Gazette-Republican he did not know the nature of the business.

The state is expected to rest its case tomorrow forenoon and indications are it may go to the jury Wednesday, as defense counsel have said it will require only half a day to present its evidence.

Alert, Inquiring Mind of a Child Is Perfectly Normal

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Books to Be Read to Children or by Them" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Without an introduction let me quote: "I have a child of two and a half years (boy) who makes me worry sometimes because of his insistence to be taught and explained everything he sees or hears.

"'Teach me, teach me'—that's how he gets up in the morning.

"He learned his A B C's with only two lessons; he knows every animal, every bird; reads several words; some poems; some songs he knows by heart; and wants an explanation of everything he sees or hears.

"May I ask your advice?"

This letter is a classic on childhood. If I had wanted to write an eloquent description of the open mind and eager feeling of a little child I could have found no better words—no more pregnant expression.

"'Teach me, teach me!' That's how he gets up in the morning.

"He is insistent to be taught and explained everything he sees or hears."

Can't you see him in the morning—fresh, sturdy, and clear-eyed—looking as if he had stepped out of some other land thirsty, hungry to know this world of ours—its sounds, its objects, its animals, its people—why they are so, why they do this, how they feel to the touch, how they work, what they are called—a thousand things stimulating, arousing, calling, "Come! Look at me! Touch me! Investigate me!"

It is nothing to worry about when a little child is alert in body, mind and feeling. Perhaps he is a genius, or somewhat talented, or just normal. It doesn't matter. If he has the food, strength to him physically, his alertness won't hurt him—his has been proved.

Let him look, investigate, and learn. When he asks, tell him, suiting his age and understanding.

Help him to discover the world he lives in.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Anniversary Menus.

Today there are people giving a great deal of attention to party menus, printing them either in magazines or books. Such menus do demand a special treatment, and these books and magazines are worth purchasing by people who have the management of meals of this type. As for me, I am a little inhospitable to letters asking help for such, because the writers nearly always ask for "novel ideas." I have not so many or any that I do not need for copy, and I thoroughly believe we should never have any untried effects when we are serving guests. I am a little inhospitable, too, because I never know nor can guess what sort of cooking the applicants can do. One standard bit of advice to them is always to cook the nicest thing they know best how to do.

But I cannot be inhospitable when some one wants me to make suggestions for a golden wedding menu, and especially one at this season, when there are great resources at hand for building up something quite handsome and at the same time having simple and delicious viands. Heaps of oranges, which are the very apples of Hesperides, can be variously used, both for decoration and refreshment.

People who have lived together fifty years in the United States certainly appreciate the golden corn, and there are many dainty and delicious ways of serving cornmeal breads. At this season, too, the egg is quite triumphant in quality, and so we may have a golden mayonnaise with our raw or a Hollandaise with our cooked vegetables. We may serve even the potato in a golden sauce. It is a nice piece of cooking to do so.

The New York ice cream, when made of real cream, is golden and velvety and lovely, and an orange ice in a particularly lovely orange shell is another of the things of this type that may be acceptable. With the ice may go a fine sunshine cake with a yellow icing, and to end a satisfying meal with the sunshine idea is worth while. Half the success in cooking for parties is simply to emphasize the fine qualities in some familiar thing. And speaking of the ice cream and the cake we can combine the two in a baked Alaska with yellow garnish.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been overstimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

Evading Small Brother.

My most embarrassing moment occurred long ago when I was in the sixth grade of grammar school. My small brother in first grade, used to call for me each morning and afternoon after school and go home with us. I resented having a small brother tagging along with us girls, and one day I planned to "ditch" him and hurried home by myself without waiting for him.

Half way home my conscience smote me and I hurried back to find my teacher and several others standing at the door of our room, almost convulsed with laughter. I will never forget how embarrassed I was to find my brother calmly eating the teacher's lunch and enjoying it immensely.
